A Note On Recommended Reading

The Project hypothesis is unique in "ruling class-conspiracy" literature. The books and articles recommended are not without serious faults from the point-of-view of the Project. Most are guilty of blatant partisan bias on the basis of ideology, religion, race, class, interest group, etc. None present the Project theory. The recommended reading does contribute facts, research leads, testimony, insights, theorizing, and speculation relevant to the Project's progress toward uncovering the objective nature of the ruling class-conspiracy (power organism?). Do not judge the Project theory by the reading recommended. For the Project theory, consult the Project back issues, especially the August 1985 issue ($9.00) for the original theory and the Winter-Spring 1989-90 issue ($9.00) for a major revision.

New Book Offerings

The Presence of the Past: Morphic Resonance and the Habits of Nature by Rubert Sheldrake ($7.95) As the Project research has evolved, the hypothesis of a "ruling class-conspiracy" has seemed more and more to be a heurism for social "power organism" theory. This book provides the philosophical, scientific, and biological theory behind this relatively unknown concept. Provides original framework for analyzing other controversial topics that have so far eluded the standard "materialist reductionism" of establishment science such as evolution, consciousness, the occult, ESP, memory, organic life, etc.

The True Authorship of the New Testament: Arius Calpurnius Piso by Abelard Reuchlin ($6.00) Though providing scant evidence for his theory that Roman Oligarch Piso wrote the New Testament to create a new religion for the Empire and at the same time defeat the Jews, it raises important questions regarding possible Machiavelian origins of the dominant Christian social organism. Must reading!

Leviathan by Thomas Hobbes ($5.95) Classic of social organism theory. Also interesting for British anti-Roman Catholicism. Must reading!

Holy Blood/Holy Grail & Messianic Legacy by Baigent, Leigh, & Lincoln ($5.95/$4.95) Apparent attempt to "seed" or "rejuvenate" the anti-Vatican social "power organism" commonly referred to as the "conspiracy". Continental re-tread of "British Israel" as Britain gradually loses central role to a unified Europe?

The Cult of the All Seeing Eye by Robert Keith Spenser ($4.00) A look at the religious influence of the "conspiracy" on America and the UN.
