IUNLP: Why do you have so many guns around here? I didn't notice them when I first came in...why do you have them around like this?! There's at least a dozen...oh, gawd, there's a couple more over there!

CC: Why not?

IUNLP: Well, I myself don't approve of guns. They kill.

CC: Watch out. One might jump up and kill you.

IUNLP: We need more gun control.

CC: I always find it interesting that liberals or Leftists, or whatever it is the Professional Class calls itself, fear guns in the hands of Americans, but have no problem with guns in the hands of Zapatistas or the Peruvian MRTA.

IUNLP: Those people are facing injustices beyond-

CC: Urban blacks aren't? Mid-western farmers aren't? American Indians aren't? The prohibition on drugs has only increased street drugs and street crime. It's even increased the misuse of guns. [redacted]. A prohibition on guns will only increase [redacted] street crime [redacted] and big bureaucracy and big underworld. and misuse of guns. But aside from that, even if you could disappear all the guns and pipe bombs and Molotov cocktails from America, what about the hand that shoots the gun...what about the hand that triggers the bomb? Shall we cut off those hands to keep them from inventing something else?

not to mention Big bureaucracy and a Big organized Underworld.

IUNLP: Don't be silly.

CC: Behind all those urban killings are people created by the Great Progressive Society. These people are not revolting against the Great Progressive Society. They are raw imitations of the Great Progressive Society.

IUNLP: Those guns over by that window there. Are they loaded?

CC: It is best to consider every gun loaded. When you pick one up, you check to be sure.
