The John Randolph Club

"Liberty, Property, and States' Rights"
November 17-18, 1995
San Mateo, California

"RIGHT-WING EXTREMISTS" UNITE!

You have nothing to lose but your chains, your taxes, and your foes. Join the sixth annual meeting of the John Randolph Club--that hotbed of freedom and free speech founded by the Ludwig von Mises Institute, the Rockford Institute, and the Center for Libertarian Studies--as we discuss our lost liberties and property, their bulwark, states' rights, and how we can turn back the clock to restore the Old Republic.

The conference includes a reception on Friday as well as a luncheon, dinner and gala banquet on Saturday. The price is $225. Checks should be payable to the John Randolph Club and mailed to Burton S. Blumert, Center for Libertarian Studies, 875 Mahler Road, Suite 150, Burlingame, Cal. 94010.

Rooms are available at the conference headquarters, the Villa Hotel, 4000 South El Camino Real, San Mateo, California, for $69 a night, single or double. Phone the Villa at 415-341-0966 to make your reservations, being sure to mention the Club. Or phone CLS at 800-325-7257 to charge your conference fee to your credit card and we'll make your hotel reservation for you.

Our 15 distinguised speakers, none of whom is a suspect in the Oklahoma City bombing, include:

Thomas Fleming, Hans-Hermann Hoppe,
Samuel Francis, Llewellyn H. Rockwell, Jr.,
Allan Carlson, Paul Gottfried, Joseph Sobran,
Michael Levin, Justin Raimondo, Jeffrey Tucker,
Wayne Lutton, Peter G. Klein, and Michael Hill.
