good is so great that for anyone to raise any question about the Communists constitutes a very serious offense against the little children! Hungry children and the sensitive emotional appeal of sick little ones is used to nullify the principles which have been violated in bringing the Communists into the project to establish their good name, and to prove they can co-operate.

9. Communist Participation Nullifies the "Good" in UNICEF

Our children are being used to lead people to accept the Communists in all their positions and activities inside of UNICEF. Children are doing this in ignorance. They are the innocent pawns in this game which is being played on the highest levels for world power.

The answer to the charge that the program is a "great farce," is: "The UNICEF Trick or Treat program has grown each year by approximately 15% since these charges were first made. The American people obviously are not taken in by this distortion."

No, they are taken in by UNICEF. The American people would repudiate, we believe, the entire UNICEF setup if they could be given these facts. They do not want the little children of this country to be used to help establish a program which involves co-operation with the Communists. To use our children thus is a travesty on freedom.

10. UNICEF's Educational Activities for UN

The Rev. M. Everett Dorr, associate minister, Community Methodist Church, Arlington, Va., member of the Corporation, U. S. Committee for UNICEF, in an article in Concern, September 15, 1962, Methodist publication, which featured on its cover two forelorn children, wrote, "Participation in the fund-raising and educational activities of UNICEF helps to increase knowledge and understanding among the peoples of the world."

This is the kind of understanding that is constantly being promoted by the leftists as we move into the orbit of peaceful coexistence and peaceful co-operation with the Communists. In truth, the understanding of Communism which every American must have is that they cannot co-operate with it; they cannot dignify it; they cannot compliment it as interested in humanitarianism.

But what are the educational activities of UNICEF? The acceptance of the UNICEF program which includes the Communists, and, of course, since UNICEF is an agency of the United Nations, the promotion and the commendation of the United Nations to the children.

The climax of this comes in the use of the name of Jesus. The Rev. Mr. Dorr writes: "As the 'Trick or Treat for UNICEF,' Halloweeners knock on your doors throughout the country this fall, Christians may well remember the compassion of a man called Jesus and his love for the little children." But Jesus said, "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." There is nothing about UNICEF that brings little children to Jesus Christ. In fact, such is forbidden.

11. Exploiting Christmas for UN and UNICEF Purposes

The greeting card program of UNICEF is carried on "in over 100 countries for the benefit of the Children's Fund." The cards "reflect the ethical and spiritual values of many peoples who make up the United Nations. Their designs are chosen solely on artistic merit, and are donated by the world's leading artists." The fact that some of these artists are Communists or have Communist-front records makes no difference. "UNICEF cards seek to maintain a universal appeal — to express a sharing of human aspirations — which is in the basic spirit of Judeo-Christian teachings." Whatever these teachings may be, they are not offensive to the Communists, for they co-operate in the appeal.

The charge quoted is that "this plan to associate the United Nations with Christmas, is believed to be a part of a broader Communist plan to destroy all religious beliefs and customs." The answer is, "Such absurdities contributed to the fact that UNICEF Greeting Card sales in the U.S.A. were increased 30% in 1961." This is no answer. Pagan cards are not Christian. They cannot be Christian. UNICEF admits that they accept the "spiritual values of the many peoples" and this includes Mohammedans, Buddhists, the Hindus, the Confucianists, and all the rest represented in the United Nations. The U. N. has no God. Its Christmas cards reflect the refusal to have anything to do with the true and the living God as He is revealed in Jesus Christ. The effort, therefore, to use the birthday of Jesus Christ in this way is one which every true Christian should thoroughly repudiate. "Don't send me a UNICEF greeting card!"

12. UNICEF Cards Carry Propaganda

"UNICEF officials make the initial selection of art for the Greeting Card program," which means that the Communists have a hand in the selection of the cards, too. The charge is quoted, "Many of the UNICEF card illustrations are propaganda emphasizing poverty, social, racial and political issues and are monstrosities of modernistic designs." The answer is: "Artistic taste is subjective. In a democracy each person has a right to his opinion. Purchase and use of the cards is not compulsory." So the charge is admitted. And some cards are sinister indeed.

13. The NCC Gives Endorsement

The following speaks for itself. We quote from the document's conclusion: "The General Board of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. has approved a statement commending 'the United States for its support of the Specialized Agencies of the United Nations, such as . . . UNICEF." You would think that the Christian churches in the USA would be standing up for the interest of Jesus Christ!

It is indeed the Christian churches which should tell the Christian public, "You cannot do business with the Reds," "You cannot teach your children that it is perfectly all right to co-operate with the Reds in any kind of an undertaking." Everything that the Communists do is to the end that they shall win the world for socialism. Since Nikita Khrushchev has said that our grandchildren will live under socialism, we should not encourage our children and our grandchildren to collect funds which will dignify Communism.

Go to work today where you are and let's defeat UNICEF.
