THE PEACEMAKER PLEDGE

Because.....I desire peace; I desire being at peace with myself and my God; I want this inner journey of peace to shape my vision and values; to breathe peacemaking into my outward action and daily life-style; I desire peace in the world; I know my peaceful or non-peaceful presence profoundly affects the people and social structures I encounter; I wish to join, in solidarity and for survival, others whose lives embrace these longings for peace:

First, I pledge to be a peacemaker in my personal relationships and areas of influence.

Second, I pledge to bear witness in public discussions of national peace issues and the global arms race.

Finally, I dedicate myself to prayer, education, and spiritual examination, firmly convinced that each is essential in the foundation and effectiveness of my peacemaking.
