"STEELTOWN . . . This is the San Francisco Mime Troupe at its best."

Robert Hurwitt, Theater Critic

"Anyone concerned about the state of global politics— and about the state of political humor— should listen to the Mime Troupe's message."

NEW YORK TIMES

STEELTOWN, a full-length musical comedy about plant closings and the vanishing American dream—a love story with all the human drama that has made the Mime Troupe world famous—an original production with songs and dances spanning 2 eras and 3 cultures. This multi-racial company reflects the integration of industrial America—past and present. Don't miss it!
