In this booklet:

A Marxist viewpoint on “Eurocommunism”

- Where the Italian, French and Spanish Communist Parties are headed
- What it means when a leader in a workers' party takes a cabinet post in a capitalist government
- The difference between being in office and being in power
- How historical setbacks pushed the CPs to reformism
- What the main difference is between “Eurocommunism” and old-time popular front policies
- Why U.S. and West European rulers fear opening the government to even the most reformist of the CPs.
