A VILLANELLE OF ANY DAY NOW

My cigarette was damp upon the ground
I was asleep on the grass
When the revolution came down

A stir started all around
Professors forgot to go to class
They danced in circles round and round

Anti-Nukes chose a Commie to be crowned
And plastered bumper stickers on his ass
When the revolution came down

Anarchists awoke me with a terrific sound
We burned crosses at the pass
And danced in circles round and round

A jester on the wall passed champagne to the crowd
While troops took speed to handle the Big Clash
When the revolution came down

The jester said, "Wilkhommen, we'll have some fun now."
The Free State is a gonzo bash
When the revolution came down
We danced in circles round and round
