

$30.00: The Movie/Video Guide for Christian Families

Ted Baehr has done the Christian community a great service by reviewing over 450 movies -- giving us the low-down of the good, the bad, and the ugly. The guide includes: Easy-to-use "at-a-glance" rating system to insure quality viewing; movies listed alphabetically for quick reference; extended reviews that include discussion of content, major stars, director, and running time. There are a number of introductory chapters that put movies in a biblical framework.

$50.00: The Gift of Music

Really good music was nurtured within the framework of a Christian worldview. Even non-Christian composers were heavily indebted to a Christian perspective on life. This book would make a fine addition to every Christian home. Most of us know very little of the lives of the great composers and what influenced them. This is a hard book to put down once you start reading it. Broaden your horizons and order The Gift of Music. You will be amply rewarded.

$50.00: The Generation That Knew Not Josef

The Josef is Josef Stalin. As we near the 21st century, the lessons of the past have been forgotten by generations of Americans. A number of "Christian Socialists" are crying out for justice, but Lloyd Billingsley claims that they are only calling for the resurrection of the totalitarian methodologies that gave the world Marxism. Talk about seduction! The church has bought the bill of goods sold by the radical left. This book exposes the idiocy of their agenda. Learn the facts before it's too late.

$75.00: Real Threat and Mere Shadow

This book is subtitled Religious Freedom and the First Amendment. This book takes an honest look at what the framers of our Constitution originally intended. It analyzes both the Supreme Court's view of the framers' original intentions and what their purposes were as shown by the present historical evidence. The "wall of separation," erected between church and state by the Supreme Court, is also examined in light of the evidence. The battle today is over religion. Don't be fooled by those who are calling for a pluralistic society. Why is it that humanists and Christians are advocating pluralism? Read and learn what type of society our Founding Fathers had in mind when it came to religion. Your future depends on it.

$100.00: The Great Works of Christ in America

This is a two volume work written by Cotton Mather (1663-1729), son of Increase Mather, and grandson of John Cotton. Magnalia Christi Americana is a history of the Puritans, covering much of the 17th century and supplying a unique commentary on many of its Christian leaders. You will gain a unique perspective of Puritan life from someone who experienced its history. You will also get a beautifully crafted set of books. The Banner of Truth Trust reprints some of the finest books. They use the finest quality paper, and their bindings are without equal. These volumes will make a fine addition to your library.
