Dear AFA:

I will be attempting in the months ahead to start to build my own personal reference library regarding the booming pornographic industry, i.e., films, television, books, magazines, etc. I want information at my fingertips when the need arises. I have wanted to begin this project for some time but much has prevented my doing so including being a victim so to speak of a runaway, bankrupt Massachusetts "economy". Could you send materials from the American Family Association? Brochures come to mind, along with easy to copy handbills and the like. In the past I have sent American Family Association materials along to others, usually with a personal note attached. I should have made copies to send but did not but will be sure to do so in the future. Feel free to enclose an invoice of sorts but try to be gentle as my personal insolvency while less than it was, continues to a present condition. It probably isn't necessary to ask but I will anyway that you respect the confidentiality of this communication.

Sincerely,

George Beach
