
Religious Pictures

for Home or Office

The absence of religious pictures in many homes today is more often because of "decorating problems" than with a reluctance to display a painting of religious significance.

It is often uplifting and edifying to enter a home where Our Lord's picture is displayed, or where a painting of Our Blessed Mother is hung in a prominent place. The visitor knows that the occupants place a special trust in Our Lord and His Blessed Mother and are proud to display their paintings to remind them of their dependence on God's Mercy and the Blessed Virgin's intercession.

In an effort to restore the prominence of religious pictures in homes, The Marian Helpers Center is pleased to offer low-priced, yet beautiful renderings of religious subjects. Many stores sell reasonably priced frames which will blend with any decor in any home. Most will even help you select the frame which will look best with your furnishings, drapes, color-scheme, etc.

The subject of the pictures which you hang in your living room, hallway, bedroom or wherever, reflects on your good tastes and your interests. We'd like to think that you'd like to display any of these fine works of art in your home and be proud of what they represent.

All of the paintings displayed in this folder are in full color, ready for framing, on quality index, coated stock — some are on heavy cardboard to resist curling or folding. All are reasonably priced in hopes that you'll take advantage of this offer to display religious pictures in your home.