

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE EDITOR

Dear Reader,

Still a bit skeptical about The Humanist? Frankly, I was hoping you would be. Like me, you're apt to view all sorts of promotional claims with a jaundiced eye.

That's the reason I join Isaac Asimov in saying: it's about time we met.

The Humanist is the magazine for people who aren't afraid to question authority, to challenge the conventional wisdom, to keep their minds open to alternative viewpoints. The Humanist is for people with real independence of mind who want to become part of the solution.

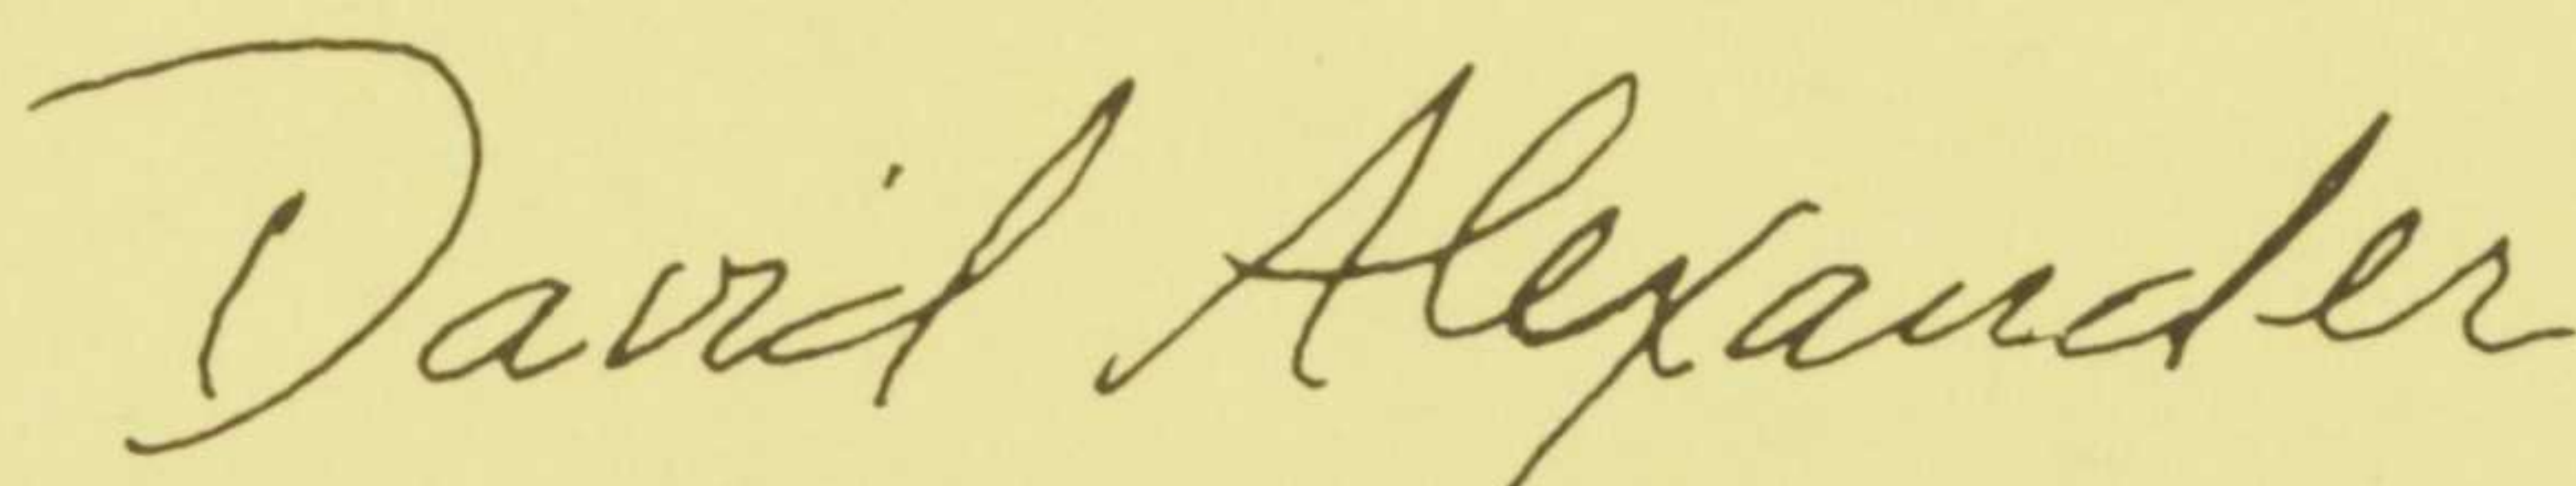

That's why I hope you take the time to use the special bonus token on the reply card. I'm betting you'll be glad you did.

Maybe that's because I already know what's in store for future issues:

- ☐ Gerry O'Sullivan, coauthor of The "Terrorism" Industry, on the history of the "political correctness" controversy ...
- ☐ psychologist Rod Gorney on belief ...
- ☐ philosopher Thomas Clark on relativism and the limits of rationality ...
- ☐ sociologist Gary Marx on our "engineered" society ...
- ☐ science writer Martin Gardner on the satanic charlatanism of Aleister Crowley ...
- ☐ special in-depth profiles of figures from humanism's illustrious past and present, including Mozart, Jean-Jacques Rousseau, Albert Schweitzer, Bertrand Tavernier ...
- ☐ and much, much more.

Don't miss out. Send in your response card today and take advantage of our special offer for new subscribers.

Sincerely,

David Alexander
