

WORDS AND THOUGHTS

Thought is the trouble-maker of the world.

Without the thinker age-old frauds flourish long as eternal oaks.

Thought is the loyal friend of truth.

An arrow may fly through space and leave no trace; but---an evil thought leaves a trail like a serpent.

If it were not for thinkers, the high & mighty, wicked robber barons could go on forever...spending in idle play the cream of a Nation's toil.

Money trusts would still keep sleek as fatted swine to the detriment of the poor.

If it were not for thinkers 'the lie' and superstition rule forever.

If you are not a thinking person...To what purpose are you in this world?

Have you thought...Where did I come from?
What am I doing here?
Where am I going?

It is the lack of thought that has brought Theology into disrepute.

Christian: Have you Holy Ghost baptized brains?

When our God lets loose a thinker on this planet earth, then all things are at risk...Isaiah the Prophet was one; The Apostle Paul another.

Religion, secularized Churchianity has yet to understand either one of these.

A sanctified thinker is the worst enemy the Prince of Darkness can have. Every time a clear thinker appears I doubt not an unholy shudder runs through the Nether Empire...

Immediately new emissaries are trained with new tactics to, if possible, neutralize, entrap, hoodwink and handcuff the influence of that thinker.

Brains are a great misfortune if a person never uses them...

The spiritual battle, the loss of victory, is always in the thot-world.
