

This map is commonly used in Christian Identity publications to chart the supposed geographic "fate" of the Lost Tribes of Israel. In fact, the Lost Tribes were assimilated into the Assyrian Kingdom and did not retain a distinct identity.

This is where the White Race or Peoples which comprise Anglo-Saxondom received the name Caucasian after migrating and living in this area for several centuries.

Graphic Illustration: Map commonly used in Identity literature.