

Assyrian captivity. These people have now become the nations of Israel as God promised Abraham in Genesis 17:1-7.

Verse 10 in Isaiah 40 reads: "Behold, the Lord will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him." "God shall come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him" is the ushering in of the kingdom age when everything and everybody comes under the rule of Christ. "His reward is with him" is also clearly repeated and taught throughout the scriptures. "His work before him" is interesting, and undoubtedly refers to the restitution all the holy prophets spoke of which would come to pass before the revelation of the king.

In verse 11 of Isaiah 40 we read: "He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young."

The Lord will feed His flock, He will open His Word to His kingdom people. The Great Shepherd will gather and carry the lambs, that is the children and young people, into His kingdom and gently lead those that are with young. The Great Shepherd has already begun to gather the young people of this nation and turn them back to Christianity and patriotism. This turning is of God. It is the answer to the prayer God inspired the psalmist to pray in Psalm 80:7: "Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved."

In verses 12 through 17 of Isaiah 40 we have a revelation of our Sovereign Almighty God who inspired Isaiah to write: "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people."
