Dear Bradford Lyttle:

I'm sorry to be so late acknowledging your letter of January 25th. I want to thank you for taking time out of your schedule to write to me personally. I did not expect to hear direct from the USPP's Presidential Candidate!

I have to say "no" to being a sponsor of the USPP. First, I feel I know so little. I am learning but I am not well informed and couldn't field questions about international relations, etc. Then too, I'm working long hours to cover college costs and between that and school work I have little or no free time.

Classmates and others have responded to materials I've passed about. A few have said that sincerity of intention, a sense of horror about nuclear war are not enough, and that changing the economic conditions in the direction of socialism is what is needed. Is this valid in your view? I do hope that you will find a few minutes to again respond personally. I'll frame your letters and be able to tell my grandchildren I corresponded with a serious Presidential candidate! Ha!

In struggle!
