e. (C) Brigadier General José Luiz CALDERARI. From the student body at the Superior War School to command of School Troops at Rio's Vila Militar; the smooth CALDERARI always manages to come out with the winning side. He did well in the Governments prior to the Revolution; he did well with CASTELLO BRANCO; was an intimate of COSTA e SILVA and his Senior Aide, General PORTELLA, and appears to rate with the current administration. CALDERARI is close to General GEISEL's Chief of Personal Staff, General POTYGUARA, and was under consideration recently for the Military Attache job in Washington. The School Troops' position is one of the key commands at the Vila Militar and the opportunistic CALDERARI can be counted upon to do the bidding of General GEISEL and General POTYGUARA. If any restraint must be exercised on CARLOS ALBERTO, for instance, CALDERARI is just the man to keep his rambunctious colleague in
