

2) Abroad: Current and would-be affiliates need the broadest possible information on the Travel, Tourism and Trade opportunities in our cities, towns and state. They will use that up-to-date information to interest the broadest number of governmental and corporate supporters as well as citizen supporters possible. Use this information to make your town/area the most attractive in which your current or future affiliate will want to invest their personal and business interests.

FUTURE WORKSHOPS

In response to the evaluation form interests expressed, I will be setting up an early winter meeting, let's call it a "Coffee Conference", 10:00 a.m. to Noon on a Saturday with Concurrent Workshops in the three requested areas: Program Development, Membership Development & Maintenance and Fund-raising. We will meet at the Marriott, (detailed map will go out with the program announcement) and we can plan to talk (network!) for as long as we want at lunch when the conference concludes. Lunch will be "on our own." There will be display space planned for your artifacts, photos, printed materials etc. - We can all benefit from each other's ideas!

It is clear that most of us want to spend our time in practical pursuits - most other information we can absorb through timely and up-to-date printed materials. The November 5th meeting tried to cover too much ground in the interests of time. From now on, we'll be going the "practical application workshop" route until we're ready for a different approach.

INDIANAPOLIS IN '95 - JULY 26 - 31

Give serious consideration to attending this conference which will feature THE BOSTON IN '96 booth and a major reception. I'd love to see us have the largest delegation and to take part, if only for an hour here and there, in Laurie Onanian's "Boston Booth." The Boston Reception is tentatively planned for Saturday evening before the closing banquet. As in 1994, I will be happy to help arrange room mate set-ups for those "singles" who'd like a companion as Eva Medzorian was to me last July.
