the July 29 Washington Post , "...the dimensions of the country's political upheaval are beginning to dawn on many Israelis" and he quoted the head of the American Jewish Congress, David Clayman, "And the country is facing a crucial problem: whether it can absorb this huge mass, or whether it will absorb Israel". A war would end this problem at least temporarily, by stopping the immigration.

The projected war with well armed adversaries such as Iraq would of course be a disaster for Israel and even more for the Palestinian people. The war is not inevitable. It could be immediately stopped by an action by the American government in the form of a guarantee of the existence and security of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan.

* * * * * *

The threat to the human rights of the Palestinian people is obvious. Let our national leaders know how you feel. Do it by:

Writing
Secretary of State James Baker
2201 C Street NW
Washington, DC 20515

Calling

White House	*202-456-7639
State Department	*202-647-6575
Your Senator	202-224-3121
and Representative	202-225-3121

You need not identify yourself to the person (or machine) who records your brief dispassionate statement.*

AAPHR is a not-for-profit, tax-exempt educational corporation, serving as an information clearinghouse. We have no paid staff but do have expenses for printing, postage, phones, supplies, etc. Contributions are essential to our work on the single issue our name specifies - Palestinian human rights. The frequency of bulletins such as this - distributed to you and the Congress - depends entirely on contributions such as yours. Please send your check today - no amount is too small.