Hello George,

Got your letter of March 30th. Enclosed is some literature about anarchism and AGEA; hope you find it interesting. The mini-pamphlet has an address for a group in Boston which is still active - the Boston Anarchist Drinking Brigade, which meets regularly, over a beer. All the other addresses are current as well, as far as I know.

If you enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope, you might get a better response rate ~~to~~ to your letters. If ~~your~~ your letter comes back, you can open it and use the SASE over again. Just a thought.

The addresses in the "Anarchist Cookbook" are all bogus or long ~~defunct~~ defunct. There aren't too many anarchists of that stripe around; ~~many~~ ^{as to} ~~there is~~ debate whether that book is a total fabrication, intended to simply make money, but also to distort the public's image of anarchism. I can assure you that none of the huge profits generated by the book have made it to any anarchist group I know of.

For a world without bosses,
Ed Stamm
