

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

➤ 1923 - 1924 ➤

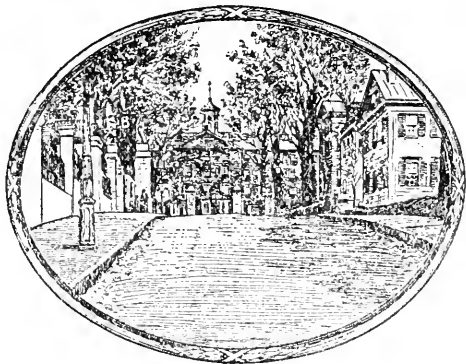

BROWN

ALUMNI MONTHLY

ON THE HILL	The Editor 217
The Class Secretaries and the Alumni Monthly—"Missing Men" Reported
—Metcalf Laboratory Maintenance Fund—Marston Hall Deferred—
A Social Building for the Women's College
WOMEN'S COLLEGE SOCIAL HALL	220
VISITING DAY	221
THE DEAN IN CHICAGO	222
A WASHINGTON LYRIC	223
WITH THE CLUBS	224
New York—Washington—Pittsburgh—Newport—Baltimore—Lynn—Hartford—Connecticut Valley
THE CORPORATION	228
WOMEN OF THE FACULTY	228
UNIVERSITY NEWS	229
IN THE JOHN HAY LIBRARY	231
BRUNONIANS FAR AND NEAR	232

Published Monthly, August and September excepted, by the Brown Alumni Magazine
Co. at Brown University, Providence, R. I. Entered at the Post Office at Providence, R. I., as second-class matter under the law of March 3, 1879

TEN CENTS A COPY

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

THE
Nitrogen Corporation

53 CANAL STREET, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

EDWARD E. ARNOLD, President

SYNTHETIC AMMONIA

PURE, ANHYDROUS

Plants designed and installed for the production of Synthetic Ammonia from atmospheric Nitrogen and by-product Hydrogen.

Financial Co-operation
That You Need

While our main function is to give a safe, convenient service in connection with transactions involving money, we are also prepared to help our patrons in many other ways. One of the most helpful aids to our customers comes through the ability of our officers to give reliable financial counsel when requested. You are invited to take advantage of all the facilities that this bank offers. Your patronage will be welcome—and appreciated.

Industrial Trust Co.

Member of Federal Reserve System

Protecting Life Insurance Money

Investigations show that an unfortunately large proportion of life insurance money, where it is paid to beneficiaries in a lump sum, is lost in unwise investments.

By arranging that your life insurance be held in trust for your dependents, you protect the principal and safeguard the best interests of the beneficiaries. You can make the trust agreement to conform to whatever plans of ultimate disposal you think most desirable.

This is one of the most useful services of our Trust Department. It would obligate you in no way to let one of our officers tell you more about it, either at your office or at ours.

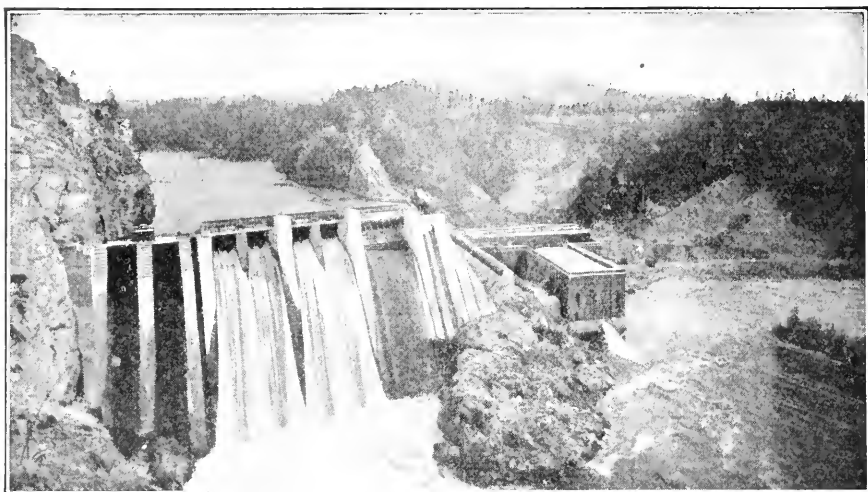

15 WESTMINSTER ST.
PROVIDENCE

216 MAIN ST.
PAWTUCKET

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

The Oldest Trust Company in New England

Every idle stream or waterfall that is put to work, and furnishes light and power to homes and factories many miles away, means a saving in coal and, what is more important, a saving in human energies.

How far can a waterfall fall?

Improvements in electrical development do not "happen." They come from the tireless research of trained scientists. The General Electric Company invests in the work of its Research Laboratories more than a million dollars a year.

In 1891 General Electric Company equipped an electric plant at San Antonio Canyon for transmitting electric power 28 miles—a record.

Today electric power from a waterfall is carried ten times as far.

Some day remote farm homes will have electricity and streams that now yield nothing will be yielding power and light.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

VOL. XXIV

PROVIDENCE, MARCH, 1924

No. 8

On The Hill

AN organization in which the Brown Alumni Monthly has a strong sentimental interest, the Class Secretaries' Association, had a meeting and dinner last month at the University Club. The meeting elected Archibald C. Matteson '93, president, so that he now combines in his own proper person, as Mr. Wilson said of himself when he signed the Peace Treaty at Versailles, two alumni presidencies—the one of the Secretaries' Association and the other of the Associated Alumni. As one of the younger secretaries remarked after the meeting at the University Club, he is a natural-born toastmaster, and the after-dinner exercises were accordingly characterized by grace and vim.

It was at the first meeting of the Secretaries' Association that the project of an alumni magazine was launched. Shortly after Dr. Faunce came to Providence as president of the University—in other words in 1899 or early in 1900—he wrote to the present editor of the Alumni Monthly suggesting that an illustrated article on Brown which the latter had contributed to the New England Magazine be reprinted in pamphlet form. The present writer replied, suggesting by way of amendment that the money which this plan would require be invested in the founding of a modest alumni periodical. President Faunce approved the idea and at the meeting of the Secretaries' Association, shortly afterward, broached it to the gathered company. It was then voted that a committee should be appointed to consider the advisability of founding such a magazine. We quote from the first number of the Monthly, published in June, 1900, as follows:

"At a meeting of class secretaries called by President Faunce to consider various matters of graduate interest, a local committee of three, consisting of Dean Upton '75; Mr. Robert P. Brown '71; and Principal Walter B. Jacobs '82, of the East Side High School, was appointed to consider the advisability of establishing an alumni publication. This committee held several meetings and, after studying not only the local field but also the alumni papers of other universities, recommended the establishment of much such a paper as is herewith presented."

An advisory board of alumni was appointed, the idea being taken from the Yale Alumni Weekly. In its second number the magazine announced that it was published by the Brown Alumni Magazine Company, with Robert P. Brown as treasurer, a post to which his fellow-committeemen had elected him. Thereafter for many years he was the only officer of the company. Annual meetings were held at Commencement time, but so far as the present writer can remember not more than three or four of the Advisory Board ever attended, usually there was only one or possibly two, and finally not even one found time amid the distractions of the Commencement week festivities to be present, although announcements were formally sent to every member. The burden and responsibility for conducting the publication were left more and more to Colonel Brown, with whom the editor continued to be closely associated during a period that witnessed a long and honorable procession of business managers and associate editors. Colonel Brown remained the treasurer of the company, kept a sharp oversight of the finances of the magazine, from time to time personally solicited advertisements to swell its revenues, composed persuasive letters to the alumni urging them to subscribe—and sometimes to pay up their overdue subscriptions, and exercised general supervision of the undertaking. The time came, however, when failing health made it necessary for him to shift the details of the work, and the Monthly was fortunate in having at that juncture as its business manager Professor Clinton H. Currier '98 of the University faculty, to whose shoulders the load could be transferred. At a meeting of the Brown Alumni Magazine Company held in Colonel Brown's office a few months before his death and presided over by him, Professor Currier was elected treasurer and Henry R. Palmer secretary of the company. Immediately succeeding Colonel Brown's death, a meeting of the company was held and Henry R. Palmer was elected president and Professor Currier treasurer. They remain in those positions to-day.

The Monthly antedates the Associated Alumni by many years, but when the latter came into existence the magazine heartily co-operated with it in every way. Henry T. Samson, who for a time was alumni manager, employed by the Associated Alumni, became to all intents our alumni editor, furnishing us with a large proportion of all our graduate personals and much of our news from the alumni clubs. Upon his resignation and the accession of the present alumni manager, Alfred H. Gurney, the same close relationship was maintained. Mr. Gurney contributes the major portion of our club news and alumni notes and sends them direct to our printer practically without editorial supervision. So far as we can remember neither alumni manager has asked for anything in the way of space or editorial indorsement that has been withheld. Our relations with both Mr. Samson and Mr. Gurney have been entirely pleasant and, through them, with the Associated Alumni. Subscriptions for the Monthly are received from two sources—some come to us direct, from subscribers who are not members of the Associated Alumni, and the remainder through that body. The Associated Alumni treasurer,

E. Tudor Gross, receives three dollars from each member of the alumni association—or expects to—and from this sum one dollar is automatically due to the Monthly.

As a matter of fact too many members of the association, and too many of our own non-member subscribers, are in arrears, some for one year, some for two and some for longer periods. If we could have all the money that graduates of Brown owe us for the magazine we would be on that far-famed and justly popular thoroughfare, Easy street. We had not intended to make a financial appeal in this place, but we may as well close with one. We earnestly ask every delinquent member of the Associated Alumni to send a check without delay to Mr. Gross, Union Trust Building, Providence—not only because we need our dollar out of the delinquent's three, but because the alumni association needs the other two. And if those subscribers who are supposed to send their checks directly to us and who have failed for any reason to do so, will kindly oblige us with an early remittance, it will make our hearts as light as they were when, so many years ago, we blithely embarked on this Alumni Monthly enterprise.

* * *

IT IS gratifying to note that the Association of Class Secretaries, thus revived after a lapse of years, is to meet annually hereafter. The association deserves well of the University and of all Brown men. It has been an energizing influence in several projects. Not only did it share in establishing the Alumni Monthly but it hastened the abolition of the old custom of granting honorary degrees without the recipient being present, it laid the foundation stones for the Advisory Board of the Associated Alumni and it was the first to propose the system whereby the alumni participate in the actual election of university trustees. Also, it did much valuable work in helping compile the data about Brown men in the World War. The University needs the association just as it needs the Associated Alumni. More power to the secretaries in the renewal of organized service in upbuilding the Brown of to-morrow.

* * *

THE editor of the Monthly and the alumni manager thank the readers who responded so quickly to last month's appeal for aid in tracing missing men. Concerning the whereabouts of one man no less than fourteen letters and postcards were received. Four others have since been found definitely from suggestions or addresses sent in. Clues as to five more are being followed. The time will never come, to be sure, when the address of every graduate and non-graduate will be on file in the Alumni offices. But by continued earnest effort on the part of the keeper of the graduate records and by such co-operation as readers of the Monthly have shown that they can give, it is certain that Brown's list of missing will be kept to a minimum—which is the desired aim of every college seriously concerned about its sons (and daughters, too).

* * *

EVERY friend of the Women's College will rejoice in the steps lately taken to provide it with a new building for social and religious purposes. Under present conditions there has long been distressing congestion. At chapel services, many girls must stand because there are not seats enough, and because there is not sufficient room for more seats; while students who do not live at the college find it difficult to get any satisfactory place in which to study.

The proposal now under consideration is for a building to cost $400,000. The selected site is east of Sayles Gymnasium and south of Cushing street, opposite Miller Hall. It is intended to have an auditorium large enough to accommodate the student body for years to come at chapel exercises and musical or other entertainments, the idea of combining under a single roof the chapel with rooms for social activities having been borrowed from various other women's colleges. The time of course may arrive when a separate chapel will be needed and forthcoming.

Success to the movement to secure this new building for the Women's College in Brown! May the entire $400,000 be secured at an early day.

* * *

IT IS pleasing to read in the report of the Advisory and Executive Committee's meeting on February eighth the statement that out of the surplus resulting from accumulated interest on the building fund for the Metcalf Chemical Laboratory the sum of ten thousand dollars will be reserved for repairs and additions still to be made, and the remainder will be added to the maintenance fund. We believe very heartily in such funds. The upkeep on modern buildings like the Metcalf Laboratory is of course high, and it is the part of wisdom to have a special fund for this purpose.

* * *

ANOTHER interesting feature of the committee's report is the announcement that the bids recently received for constructing the Marston Hall of Languages "were far beyond the funds now in hand," so that it is impossible to proceed with the erection of the building at present. Either the funds in possession of the university for this building must be permitted to accumulate by the slow but sure method of remaining at interest, or else an addition to them must be sought elsewhere. In either case, the general hope of Brown graduates will be that it may not be long before the Marston Hall actually begins to rise. The modern languages certainly need the increased accommodations it will eventually afford.

Women's College Social Hall

THE CROWDED CHAPEL AT THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Students are Forced to Stand at Every Service

ALL sails are set, the campaign for the long-anticipated student alumnae social hall at the Women's College having been launched at the biennial dinner of the alumnae on Feb. 23, at which it was announced that Mr. Stephen O. Metcalf will give a dollar for every dollar raised by graduates or undergraduates. Already the University building committee has chosen the site for its location—next to the Sayles Gymnasium on Cushing street and opposite Miller Hall. Architecturally it will follow the simplicity of design that characterizes the buildings that now form the group belonging to the college, and it is to be so constructed as to take care of all the social and religious activities that for years past have been cramped by the limitations of both Pembroke Hall and the gym.

The need of a social hall began to be recognized many years ago, and has become increasingly imperative with the numerical growth of the college. Students and alumnae have long anticipated the time when the Women's College would be able to have a building devoted to the expanding social life of graduate and undergraduate bodies and the administration, jealous of the intellectual standing of the college among women's colleges of the country, has frankly and outspokenly urged the time when Pembroke Hall could be cleared of all those college pursuits that of necessity, because of the crowded conditions of the college, are housed there, but which tend each year to encroach upon the academic purposes for which the hall is intended. The Social Hall will be the answer to both types of needs, they say.

A glance back through the comparatively short history of the Women's College discloses the fact that from the handful of earnest-minded, intellectually alert women who in 1891 knocked for admittance on the doors of Brown and were allowed entrance on sufferance, the college has grown to an enrollment of more than 360 and that, consequently, there are now more students registered in the Women's College than there were men enrolled in the entire university when the women were admitted back in the 90's. This expansion has been due, the majority of Brown women feel, to the wise and carefully followed policy of administration of three deans who cherishing the integral relation of the college to Brown, nevertheless, led it to an individuality that is unique and that has brought the Women's College to an enviably high place in the ranks of women's colleges. Constantly, the ideal has been held up of a college based on the principle of democracy, and it is said by those who aim to find the underlying cause of the growth of the institution, that therein lies the success of the Women's College.

As the college has grown numerically, the class, the foundation on which the present intellectual and physical structure of college rests, still remains the vital part of the college, but various other activities have been taken on to meet conditions and the property of the college has correspondingly increased to meet many of the resulting needs. The early demand for adequate dormitory accommodations was answered by the erection of the two fine halls, Miller and Metcalf, and in the last year by the taking on of Sharpe House on Angell street. The necessity for giving the students adequate physical training prompted the erection of Sayles Gymnasium, which like all the buildings now belonging to the college is a model for the purpose it would serve. However, it was not designed nor were the factors of the social life of the college largely taken into account in its building so that for dramatics, dances, exercises and all the ramifications of the social life of the college, that now have to be conducted there, the "gym" is not wholly adequate.

With all the physical expansion of the college, Pembroke Hall has remained the centre of the intellectual life of the college. In the days when it was put up, it was called "a model of convenience and architectural beauty," but the growing number of students has seriously cramped its convenience. The auditorium once large enough to hold double the number of students in mass meeting is not now large enough to take care of the chapel exercises, mass meetings and college "get-togethers" that frequently take place. The class rooms are crowded; study space for day students is so limited that many students find the stairs the only available place to study, for the lunch-room, the old refuge of numbers of girls seeking a place to con a lesson is also crowded. Too, it is pointed out, the lunch-room has become a serious handicap to the academic life of Pembroke, odd as it may seem, for Ovid and onions make a poor combination and philosophical discussions fall flat when the smell of corned beef is wafted up the stairs to the class rooms above. The scholastic quiet that should be associated with Pembroke Hall and which old "grads" sentimentally remember is steadily being encroached upon until the point has been reached when relief is not merely desirable but imperative and the social hall is regarded as a necessity that should be remedied at once.

Visiting Day

Visiting Day will be observed at Brown University on Wednesday, March 5th, as previously announced. The program is as follows:

9 A. M. Chapel services in Sayles Hall. Visitors are invited to seats with the Faculty near the platform.

12 M. Social meeting of Faculty, Corporation and visitors at 13 Brown street.

1 P. M. Review of the year by President Faunce, and other reports.

1.30 P. M. Luncheon.

2 P. M. Visits to libraries, offices, laboratories, with conference and discussion.

The Dean in Chicago

Dean Otis E. Randall made a successful Western trip in January, meeting alumni in four cities. The Chicago alumni generously invited the Dean to make the trip at their expense and gave him a dinner on the evening of Jan. 25th. He left Providence Tuesday night, Jan. 22nd, stopping at Buffalo Wednesday afternoon and evening, where the local alumni gave a banquet in his honor. The next stop was Chicago, where for two days he enjoyed the generous hospitality and entertainment of his Chicago friends. The detailed story appears below.

THE DINNER AT CHICAGO

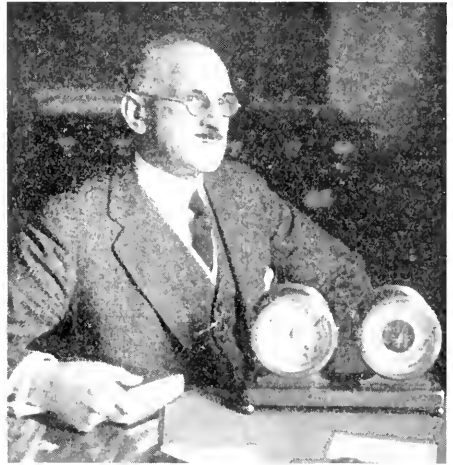

"The Pilot of Brown Men," inscribed on a beautiful bronze chime marine clock and barometer, was the fitting characterization of Dean Otis E. Randall conferred by Colonel Noble Brandon Judah at a dinner given to Dean Randall January 25th by the Brown University club of Chicago at the Beta Theta Pi Club in Chicago.

Remembering that the Dean was approaching another milestone in a period of long and appreciated service to the University, the Chicago club officers, Wallace R. Lane '99, H. S. Roelke '11 and Burton Harrington '18, cast about for a way to express most fittingly the appreciation which the club felt for the help and inspiration which Dean Randall had been to each member as an individual. President Lane, knowing the Dean's great delight in things nautical, hit on the marine clock. From that moment until the successful climax of the presentation, the entire energies of the officers, executive committee and dinner committee, composed of Ralph Johnson, John T. Walker, Jr., and Harold Jackson, was devoted to organizing what proved to be one of the most enjoyable dinners ever held by the Chicago Club.

The entire Beta Theta Pi Club at 1366 North Dearborn street was taken over for the dinner, to which even Brown men from far distant points came.

Dean Randall was busy preceding the banquet attending speaking engagements which had been arranged, and attended the reception in his honor at 6 on the evening of the 25th without the slightest knowledge of what was to come.

After a period of renewing old friendships, dinner was served. The members

DEAN OTIS E. RANDALL

And the marine clock presented him by Chicago Alumni

Photographed by John R. Hess

then retired to the drawing room to be entertained by an exceptional performance of three internationally famous artists. Miss Claire Dux, guest-artist and soprano with the Chicago Civic Opera, held the group enthralled with several numbers, including the familiar song, "O Mother dear, Brunonia," and closing with Ave Maria. Her rich, full tones, under remarkable control, created a lasting impression.

Ernest Toy, violinist, licentiate Royal Academy of Music, winner of the Society of Arts Medal, London, while the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII, was president, and a winner of coveted honors at the Royal Academy, then followed with several entrancing numbers, concluding with an impressionistic rendition of his conception of Chicago city life, a number which fairly sparkled with his brilliant handling of a difficult instrument. He was accompanied by Eva Leslie Toy, an able accompanist and student of Carl Faelten.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

By this time the Dean was visibly overcome with the warmth and completeness of an unexpected reception.

Colonel Noble Judah advanced and made a presentation speech, first of a token of the Chicago Club's esteem for the superior of their beloved "pilot", Mrs. Otis E. Randall, and then with a presentation of the marine clock to the Dean.

Short talks by George Chritton and Lester Falk were well received.

Dean Randall then closed the evening with a serious discussion covering the development of academic life at the University, including a very graceful tribute to President Faunce.

It was regretted that the Dean was compelled to leave shortly after to complete engagements with the Brown Clubs at Detroit and Cleveland. The Dean stopped at the Buffalo Brown Club on the way out to Chicago.

Among those who attended the dinner in honor of Dean Randall were the following: Dana Hubbard, F. S. Auty, A. H. Sheffield, Neil Andrews, Ed G. Buzzell, J. Russell Brown, George Chritton, Chester A. Cook, Lester Falk, George Gessner, Burton Harrington, J. M. Howarth, Ralph Johnson, R. W. D. Jones, Noble B. Judah, Wallace Lane, H. E. Roelke, Elmer Stevens, Walter J. Stein, Walter Smith, Ed. D. Tweedell, J. T. Walker, Jr., Dave Watson, A. R. Webb, B. L. Mallory, H. M. Jackson, Paul Herriott, Claire Dux, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Toy, Dr. Lyon, George Kowalski.

The announcement that Brown is to play the University of Chicago at football in the fall was received with great enthusiasm, and a committee was appointed to insure a large attendance of Brown men on that occasion. Committees were also appointed with the purpose of having the Brown Musical Clubs visit Chicago on the April tour, and for undergraduate extension work.

Burton Harrington '18

The Dean left Chicago Friday night for Detroit, where he was entertained at luncheon by the Detroit alumni. After visiting many points of interest in Detroit, he left for Cleveland, arriving there Sunday night. On Monday he gave an address to the East High School, the school which Sprackling and Prosser attended in their preparatory school days. The Psi Upsilon Club of Cleveland gave a luncheon in the Dean's honor. On Monday night the Cleveland alumni assembled at the University Club for their regular banquet. The Dean left Cleveland Monday night for home, reaching Providence Tuesday evening.

The Dean reports that although he has taken many trips in the West, this one eclipses them all. He speaks of the growing interest on the part of the Western alumni in everything that is going on at Brown.

A WASHINGTON LYRIC

The following lines were sung by the Brown alumni at the Washington, D. C., dinner:

O Bruno! O Bruno! O Bruno!
Hot old Bear! Hot old Bear! Hot old Bear!

He up and growled at the Dartmouth line;
The Hanover bunch clim' up a tall pine;

You never saw anything quite so fine
As old Bruno!

O Prexy! O Prexy! O Prexy!
We're for you! We're for you! We're for you!

Go smite reaction both hip and thigh;
We all would hand it a big black eye;
We don't know a thing about it, but aye
We're for you!

With the Clubs

NEW YORK

With the mid-winter social and business activities in full swing, transients from all corners of the country pass through the Club door. Among those who have recently registered are Francis Davis '26, Sioux City, Iowa; F. I. Marshall '18, Chicago; Walton C. Forstall '22, Amsterdam, N. Y.; Francis O. Allen, Jr., '23, Memphis, Tenn.; J. J. Muccio '21, Hamburg, Germany; William C. Crouch '20, Adairsville, Ga.; George G. Hunter '93, Des Moines, Ia.; S. W. Smith '19, Boston, Mass.; R. V. Bellmore '23, Plattsburg, N. Y.; E. H. Windsberg '21 and Kenneth A. Flanders '17, New Bedford, Mass.; Horace W. Woodberry, Jr., '13, Beverly, Mass.; Harold L. Tinker '21, Wallingford, Conn.; William H. Shupert '21, Ardmore, Pa.; Irving Price '05, East Aurora, N. Y.; "Bill" Rice '18, William Albrecht, Jr., '19, Jack Greenstein '22, P. J. Grimes '18, Dr. A. W. A. Traver '92, David Davidson '05, Sidney Clifford '15, all of Providence, and F. I. Chichester '08, Chicago.

Those who pay us regular monthly or bi-monthly visits of several days or a week include Daniel L. Brown '12, Boston; Paul L. Chipman '08, Boston; Gerald Curtis '16, Schenectady, N. Y.; Earl W. Harrington '14, Providence; Carleton D. Morse '13, Philadelphia; R. T. Palmer '20, Worcester, Mass.; John R. Stevens '21, Providence, and R. G. Sykes '21, Boston.

Once again marriage has hit us hard, as it were, taking from us two of our first residents. Yet we are consoling ourselves that although John Ervin, Jr., '11, was married on Jan. 26 to Miss Edith G. Atkinson and is making his home in Providence, business will bring him to New York and the Club for two days a week. Also, George Harris '19, whose bride was Miss Edna Baer of Pittsburgh and New York, has returned from a several weeks' honeymoon in Porto Rico and is now settled in his new home at 1036 President street, Brooklyn, not too far away from here. George is with the Manhattan Shirt Co., just around the corner, so we hope to see him often, though we shall miss his active interest as resident member of the house committee.

Herb Appleby '23, our latest resident member, may not prove so permanent after all. Mr. Appleby's engagement to Miss Leila Alice Varet of Brooklyn has just been announced. As no date has been set for the wedding we hope he will linger with us for some time to come.

Irving L. Woodman '01 entered Camp Wildemere at a reunion at the Club recently. For several hours the joyous merrymakings of many prospective Brunonians re-echoed through the Club's halls.

We were again honored by a short visit by Percy Marks of the English faculty at the University. Mr. Marks's recent novel, "The Plastic Age," has been enthusiastically received here, especially as it gave new material for the deep and sage discussions of our own Three-hours-for-lunch Club.

WASHINGTON

With characteristic Brown spirit the members of the Brown Club of Washington foregathered at the University Club in Washington on Feb. 5th for their annual dinner and to greet President Faunce and Tom Appleget, executive secretary. All previous records were broken when 36 members responded to the roll call by Secretary Charlie Stark '07.

Secretary of State Hughes '81 was on the programme as a speaker, but the death of ex-President Wilson prevented him from being present at the dinner. Phya Buri Nabaarsth, minister of Siam to the United States, was one of the guests of the evening, and the Brown Club made him an honorary member after he had been introduced by A. E. Gottshall '15, the presiding officer.

Distinguished and near-distinguished diners were present, so Secretary Stark reported, but there were no untoward incidents except that the secretary was roundly berated when it was discovered that the only decoration in the room at the University Club where the dinner was held was a large Harvard seal. Greetings were exchanged between the Brunonians and members of the Dartmouth Club of Washington, also holding a dinner that evening, and an original song by Arthur Deerin Call '96 to the tune of "Three Blind Mice" was one of the enjoyable vocal numbers.

Dr. Faunce told of what was going on at college and Tom Appleget also had something lively to add about undergraduate activities. Congressman Temple of Pennsylvania, a former college professor, Congressman O'Connell of Rhode Island, Professor John Franklin Jameson, hon. '14, George M. McClellan '97, Dean Wilbur '88 of George Washington University and Mr. Call also spoke. Dr. Faunce was the guest of Secretary Hughes during his stay in the city. Mr. Appleget visited two of the Washington high schools and later went to Staunton, Va., to speak before the student body of the Staunton Military Institute.

PITTSBURGH

February 4th was a very big day for the Brown men of Pittsburgh. This was made possible by President Faunce, his able lieutenant, Tom Appleget, and the largest group of Brunonians ever gathered about a Pittsburgh dinner table.

At the Hungry Club a record crowd heard President Faunce at noon discuss the question, "What is America?" After his eloquent and compelling appeal for the preservation and better understanding of those ideals and institutions uniquely American, his hearers paid him a tribute, seldom accorded to speakers before this club, by standing as they applauded one of the finest addresses ever made to them.

In the evening, at the dinner of the Brown Club, with thirty members on deck, President Faunce spoke concerning the problems and achievements of the University. Preceding his talk, Mr. Appleget contrasted the Brown of the early days with that of to-day, also referring to several pressing needs of the institution on the Hill. With the refreshing of memories of student days, and the pointing out of means of co-operation for a better Brown, the meeting held an interest and a value seldom experienced hitherto.

During the day, Mr. Appleget delivered talks at the Avalon and Bellevue high schools. These schools serve two of the most progressive communities adjacent to but essentially a part of Pittsburgh. The talks were highly interesting and good results are expected to follow for Brown.

Brunonians of the Smoky City are looking forward to another such day in 1925.

L. F. P. Curry '18

NEWPORT

John H. Nolan '15 was elected President of the Brown Club of Newport, R. I., at the annual meeting and dinner held Jan. 25 at the LaFarge cottage in that city. The other officers, named by a committee consisting of William R. Harvey '01, Dr. John A. Young 1900 and Edward J. Corcoran '15, and chosen unanimously, follow: First Vice President, John R. Haire '15; Second Vice President, Dr. John A. Young; Secretary and Treasurer, Alfred G. Langley '76; Executive Committee, William P. Buffum '79, W. E. Kneeland '23, John H. Greene, Jr., '15 and the President and Secretary, ex-officio. Mr. Langley was also named to represent the Club on the Advisory Board of the Associated Alumni.

Speaker guests of the Club were Professor Theodore Collier of the University faculty, whose subject was "Europe in Transformation," Professor Edwin A. Cottrell of Leland Stanford and Gaylord C. Cummin, who is conducting an investigation into the Newport City government and whose topic was "The College Man's Responsibility as a Citizen." Professor

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Cottrell spoke along similar lines. Professor Collier entertained his hearers with news from College Hill before beginning his address. William P. Sheffield '15 (what a number of excellent men in the class of 1915 came from Newport!) presided and Groff's orchestra furnished music. Guests were also present from Harvard, University of Virginia and University of Maryland.

The Brown members who answered to their names were Mr. Langley, Mr. Bufum, Benjamin F. Thurston and Fred M. Hammett '80, Dr. Clarence A. Carr '87, Dr. Young and Harold S. Capron 1900, Alan R. Wheeler and Mr. Harvey '01, Messrs. Sheffield, Corcoran, Haire, Greene and Howard Langley '15, and W. E. Kneeland '23.

Since its last meeting the Brown Club of Newport has lost by death Dr. Christopher F. Barker '75, Rev. Franklin G. McKeever '81, and Rev. Fr. George A. Hines '06.

BALTIMORE

Fifteen out of the 21 members of the Brown Club of Baltimore answered to their names when the roll was called at the third meeting of the club on Feb. 15. "That's 75 per cent. loyalty," wrote V. T. Dimitroff '20, the new corresponding secretary. "Daddy Meader's dinner was relished most heartily by all whose names are attached hereto, as they will testify without being subpoenaed: Alfred M. Quick '87, Josiah Bartlett '88, Raymond P. Haves '12, Samuel R. Damon '16, Don C. Rubel '23, Arthur Kiernan '11, Percy D. Meader '14, E. R. Cleaveland '14, George H. Robinson '12, James E. Breslin '21, William E. Sisson '18, Stephen A. McClellan '23, Charles Peckham '19, J. M. Andrews '23, and the secretary, meaning me."

At the meeting plans were started for the reception that the Baltimore Club will give to President Faunce next April 5, when the President will be in Baltimore. The club is looking forward to his visit with anticipation and enthusiasm. Incidentally, the new officers are: President, Walter G. Chandler '78; Vice President, Josiah Bartlett; Secretary and Treasurer, E. R. Cleaveland; Corresponding Secretary, V. T. Dimitroff.

LYNN

Under the auspices of the Brown Club of Lynn, the University Orchestra gave three surpassing concerts in Lynn on Feb. 9, 10, 11. The Brunonians arranged for the affair in conjunction with the Rotary Club of Lynn and the two organizations divided their share of the proceeds. We have not yet heard as to the financial result, but there is good reason to believe that the Brown Club of Lynn will add a substantial sum to its scholarship fund for Lynn boys who want to become good Brown men. The first concert was given at the Classical High School, with a dance following. Director Coolidge of the orchestra scored a real personal triumph and Arthur W. Packard '24, reader, and Leslie A. Jones '26, crayon cartoonist, also shone. President Marble of the Brown Club of Lynn welcomed the orchestra to the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 10, and the next morning saw to it that Coolidge and his fellow players received a great reception at English High School.

The hospitality of the Brown alumni in Lynn was up to its exceedingly high standard, and President Marble admits that he and the rest of the alumni were more than pleased by this note left by the orchestra management: "Thank you very much. We appreciate all you have done to make us comfortable."

HARTFORD

A memorable night is the way both President Laurence R. Smith '20 and Thomas J. Kelley '98 of the publicity committee describe the visit of President Faunce to the Brown Club of Hartford on Friday, Feb. 1. The wives and sweethearts of the members of the Club were guests—an innovation in university circles in Hartford—and President Remsen B. Ogilby of Trinity College also occupied a seat at the head table with Dr. Faunce. Mr. Smith presided, both at the meeting and at the dinner to President Faunce which preceded his address.

In his speech Dr. Faunce praised the World Court and said that he was in favor of placing unofficial observers, so-called, on all international commissions. "America should stop peeking through the keyhole of Europe and should sit at the council table with head erect," he declared, according to the Hartford Courant.

"It was a real speech," Mr. Smith wrote in a letter to the Alumni Manager, "and we hope that Prexy's visit will be an annual event hereafter. The ladies' night was something rather unique hereabouts and it proved very successful."

The Hartford Club is assisting in Hartford to arrange a concert either by the musical clubs or the university orchestra to be given in Hartford late in April.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY

Aided by ideal weather, the annual dinner of the Connecticut Valley Brown Club was held at the Nayasset Club, Springfield, Thursday evening, Jan. 31. Some thirty members were present, including men from points as far distant as Pittsfield and Great Barrington.

The meeting was presided over by President Irving H. Gamwell '96, Clerk of Courts, Pittsfield. The first speaker of the evening was Ralph P. Boas '08, the new president of the Club, who has recently been made Professor of English Literature at Mount Holyoke College. He was followed by A. Chalkley Collins '78 of Great Barrington, a trustee of the University, who spoke on the subject of the World Court. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Faunce, who brought a vigorous and inspiring message direct from the campus. Informal speaking and a discussion of plans for the Club concluded the evening.

An enjoyable part of the dinner was some fine singing of Brown songs by the Club, with Laurence R. Grose '07, Professor of Forestry at Massachusetts Agricultural College, doing exceptionally good work at the piano.

The officers elected for the coming year are: Ralph P. Boas '08, president; Albert D. Shaw '02, vice president; H. F. Osteyee '13, secretary and treasurer; Dr. H. B. Lang '96, H. A. Rice '14, Ralph A. Armstrong '17, members of the executive committee.

The following resolutions were read and adopted in honor of Dr. Philip S. Moxom:

"Philip S. Moxom, a member of this association at the time of decease, died at Springfield, Massachusetts, on August 13, 1923, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. A graduate of the University of Rochester, Brown early recognized in him a worthy recipient of an honorary degree, and in 1892 conferred upon him the title of doctor of divinity.

"A preacher of the word of God for nearly half a century, an author of religious writings widely read, a leader in thought and action on the social problems and political issues of his time, a soldier who bore arms in behalf of the Union in the great struggle for its preservation, but a tireless worker to the end of his days for the abolishment of war, inspirer of hope, messenger of optimism, interpreter of Browning—

"RESOLVED, that in him this association had a distinguished and honored member, and that in his death it has sustained a profound and permanent loss."

Several plans for the future of the Club were discussed, and it was decided to hold meetings more frequently during the coming year in Springfield. A group will also meet at intervals in Pittsfield. It is the aim of the Club to keep as closely in touch as possible with University affairs, and to promote Brown interests in this section.

H. F. Osteyee '13

The Corporation

The February meeting of the Advisory and Executive Committee was held in the President's office on Friday, February 8th, at 2.30 p. m.

The report of the Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings was presented and approved.

The report of the Committee on the Marston Hall of Languages showed that the bids recently received for that building were far beyond the funds now in hand, and that it was impossible to proceed with the erection of the building until those funds have accumulated further. It was decided that it is better to wait than to erect an inadequate structure.

The final report was presented from the Committee on the Construction of the Metcalf Chemical Laboratory. A history of the building was given from the time of the appointment of the original committee down to the present. A detailed statement of all expenses was presented, and it was voted that from the surplus resulting from accumulated interest on the building fund $10,000 should be reserved for repairs and additions still to be made, and the remainder should be added to the maintenance fund. The report of the Building Committee was received and the Committee discharged.

A report was presented from the Library Committee, asking that provision be made for cataloguing the new Lincoln Collection, presented last year by Mr. Rockefeller. The matter was referred to the President and Comptroller for suitable action when the budget shall be made out for the following year. The matter of the employment of students in the Library and elsewhere was referred to the Committee on Student Service for further consideration.

The report of the Committee on the Establishment of Fellowships in the Department of Chemistry was received, and it was voted that certain fellowships and scholarships should be offered to graduate students in Chemistry in 1924-25.

A report was received from the Department of Geology regarding crowded conditions on the second floor of Rhode Island Hall, and was discussed at some length.

Mr. Clinton C. White appeared before the Committee to present a further report from the Committee on the erection of the amphitheatre or stadium for football and other sports. The report was approved, and Mr. White's committee was encouraged to proceed along the lines indicated.

After discussion of the problem of the health of students and larger provision for dealing with minor ailments, the meeting adjourned at five o'clock.

Women of the Faculty

The women of the faculty of Brown University who have been contemplating the formation of an organization completed the arrangements on Feb. 9 with the election of officers, followed by a tea, to which the men of the faculty were invited.

The meeting was held in Faculty House at 3 o'clock and in the absence of Mrs. Francis G. Allinson, Mrs. Albert D. Mead, chairman of the organization committee, presided. The organization was formed by invitation of the men of Faculty House, who will open the clubhouse once a month for the meeting of the newly formed body.

The officers elected were as follows: Honorary Chairman—Mrs. William H. P. Faunce; Chairman—Mrs. Walter Ballou Jacobs; Vice Chairman—Mrs. William H. Kenerson; Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Edmund B. Delabarre; Mrs. Asa Clinton Crowell, Mrs. Robert E. Chambers, Mrs. Verner W. Crane, Mrs. Philip H. Mitchell, Mrs. Kenneth O. Mason and Mrs. Frederick N. Tompkins.

Mrs. Otis E. Randall presented the report of the nominating committee for Mrs. William F. Hastings, and Mrs. Philip H.

Mitchell as secretary pro tem. reported for the organization committee. At 5 o'clock tea was served, with Mrs. Henry B. Gardner, Mrs. James Q. Dealey and Mrs. James P. Adams pouring.

University News

DR. FAUNCE IN THE WEST

President Faunce left Providence on Feb. 15 for the Middle West, where from Feb. 16 until Feb. 28, he was scheduled to speak at a series of alumni dinners in nine large cities. Thomas B. Appleget, executive secretary, accompanied the President, visiting schools while Dr. Faunce was addressing various civic organizations.

The itinerary follows: Saturday, Feb. 16, Rochester; Sunday and Monday, Feb. 17 and 18, Buffalo; Tuesday, Feb. 19, Cleveland; Wednesday, Feb. 20, Cincinnati; Thursday, Feb. 21, St. Louis; Friday to Monday, Feb. 22 to 25, Chicago; Tuesday, Feb. 26, Detroit; Wednesday, Feb. 27, Philadelphia, and Thursday, Feb. 28, New York.

A HARD FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

A writer on the sporting page of the Providence Journal says:

"Brown's coaching staff will have its work all cut out for it when the work of preparing for the gridgers next fall gets under way, for Dr. F. W. Marvel, supervisor of athletics and chief schedule maker, has added a fifth major contest to the list. On Nov. 8th at Andrews Field, the Haskell Indians of Lawrence, Kas., will go into action against the Brunonians.

"Just how strong the Indians will be next fall is a question, of course, but if they develop the scoring punch they had under their belts the past season, Brown will have to travel at top speed to emerge from the battle with a scalp. Haskell was one of the heaviest scoring machines in the country in the 1923 campaign, and after cleaning up impressively in the West invaded New York and defeated the Quantic Marines, a team that had taken the measure of Georgetown and several other college outfits.

"With the Indians booked, Brown will have four consecutive weeks of football against powerful opponents, Yale being carded for Oct. 25, Dartmouth, Nov. 1, Haskell on the 8th, and Harvard on Nov. 15. The other major attractions on the list are Chicago, on Oct. 19, and Colgate, Thanksgiving day.

"The schedule will give the anti-Robinson group plenty of ammunition for the annual ballyhoo at the end of the season. If the coach does not win from at least four of these elevens, his name will be mud, spelled in capital letters.

"Compare this schedule with the one prepared for Cornell, claimants of the 1923 championship, and try to laugh it off. Cornell's two major contests will be with Dartmouth and Pennsylvania."

BARRETT'S GREAT RECORD

James Henry Barrett, all-round athlete and a leader in undergraduate activities at Brown, has the distinction of being the only three letter man in the college at the present time. Barrett will wear a Brown uniform for the last time this spring, for he graduates in June after four years of competition in 'Varsity sports. Barrett takes with him a "B" in football, baseball and basketball.

Barrett has also collected another record. He has played four full years on the 'Varsity football eleven and during that period missed but two games, both of them minor contests.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Barrett's home is in White Plains, N. Y., but he went to school at Blair Academy in Blairstown, N. J., entering in 1915 and leaving in 1920. During that time he played on the basketball team five years, four years on the football eleven, four on the baseball nine and three on the swimming and track teams.

He was all-State guard for two years and all-State fullback for two more. He pitched on the nine and in 1917 held the interscholastic 50-yard swimming record. Barrett also broke the school record in the javelin throw, ran in the 440 and on the relay team and put the shot. In his Senior year he captained the football and basketball teams.

During Barrett's Freshman year at Brown he was guard on the 'Varsity eleven. He was also president of his class. Barrett played on the football team with two Blair Academy men, Brooks and Armstrong, the captain. When football ended, Barrett went out for the basketball team and landed a berth as 'Varsity centre. In addition he captained his class nine.

Barrett's next year was a big one, for he went to end on the eleven, played on the basketball five and pitched on the 'Varsity nine, winning his letter in all three sports.

Barrett was back at guard on Brown's team, which beat the Harvard eleven, 3 to 0. It was Barrett's Junior year, his showing attracted the attention of the football world, and he was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the All-American and All-Eastern elevens. Barrett is now first vice president of the Senior class and a member of the Cammorian Club. His fraternity is Alpha Delta Phi.

ATHLETIC RECORDS

Basketball

- Brown 19, Bridgewater Normal 23.
- " 16, University of Maine 34.
- " 15, Brooklyn Polytechnic 11.
- " 19, C. C. N. Y. 30.
- " 33, M. I. T. 27.
- " 27, Harvard 41.

- " 29, M. I. T. 27.
- " 29, Wesleyan 23.
- " 24, N. Y. University 38.
- " 17, Worcester Polytechnic 28.
- " 28, Wesleyan 53.
- " 14, Amherst 47.
- " 11, Williams 41.

Freshman Basketball

- Brown 29, New Bedford H. S. 21.
- " 34, North Attleboro H. S. 18.
- " 21, New Haven H. S. 26.
- " 17, Brockton H. S. 32.
- " 21, Dean Academy 19.
- " St. George's 28.
- " 19, Exeter 26.
- " 22, Harvard Freshmen 11.
- " 21, Conn. Freshmen 13.

Swimming

- Brown 46, Lehigh 16.
- " 50, Johns Hopkins 20.
- " 43, Springfield 25.
- " 15, Yale 47.
- " 35, Dartmouth 32.

Freshman Swimming

- Brown 11, New Haven H. S. 41.
- " 22, Brookline H. S. 31.

Wrestling

- Brown 18, Stevens Institute 8.
- " 13, Springfield 16.
- " 9, M. I. T. 16.
- " 8, Brooklyn Polytechnic 16.

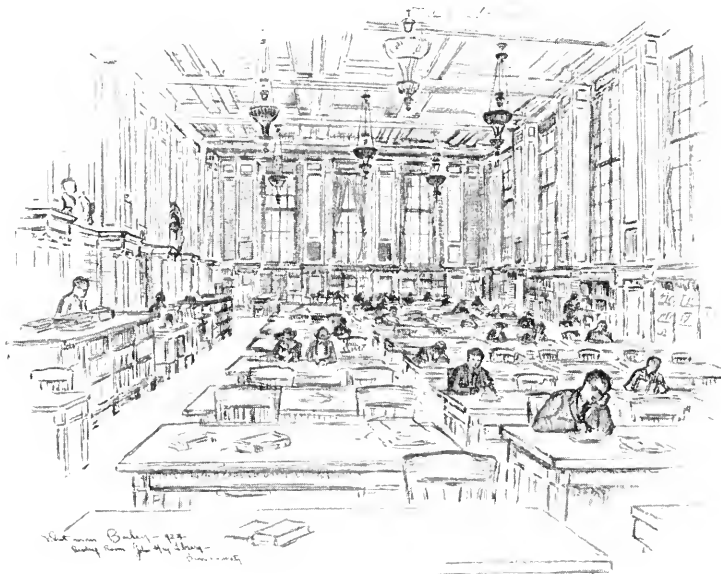

Freshman Wrestling

- Brown 5, M. I. T. 30.
- " 5, Pomfret 26.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Dec. 12—Bridgewater Normal; Dec. 14—Maine; Dec. 21—Brooklyn Polytech at Brooklyn; Dec. 22—C. C. N. Y. at New York; Jan. 2—M. I. T.; Jan. 18—Harvard at Cambridge; Jan. 23—M. I. T. at Boston; Jan. 26—Wesleyan; Feb. 15—N. Y. U.; Feb. 16—Worcester Polytech at Worcester; Feb. 21—Wesleyan at Middletown; Feb. 22—Amherst at Amherst; Feb. 23—Williams at Williamstown; March 1

In the John Hay Library

THE READING ROOM

In this the main apartment of the Library, scores of students busy with research work may be seen at any hour of the day

THE HARRIS COLLECTION

This beautiful room houses the Harris Collection of American Poetry, the largest to be found anywhere in the world —University of New Hampshire; March 5—Worcester Polytech; March 8—Tufts at Medford; March 12—Connecticut State; March 15—University of New Hampshire at Durham.

The Freshman schedule: Jan. 9—North Attleboro high school at North Attleboro; Jan. 12—New Haven high school at New Haven; Jan. 19—Dean Academy at Franklin; Jan. 23—St. George's School at Newport; Feb. 16—Exeter at Exeter; Feb. 19—Harvard Freshmen at Cambridge; Feb. 23—Connecticut State Freshmen; Feb. 27—Andover at Andover.

A CHATTY LETTER

Wilbraham, Mass., Jan. 24, 1924.

Editor Brown Alumni Monthly:

Some time in 1922 an article appeared in Zion's Herald on some persons of note who were born in 1822. There was Albert Harkness, whom we knew as the revered Professor of Greek. The writer of the article, who was a graduate of Wesleyan '73, must have used Lincoln's Horace and Livy, but utterly ignored the fact that John L. Lincoln was for many years from 1843 the venerated Professor of Latin, and not Albert Harkness. The same writer also mentioned Cornelius Cole, Wesleyan '47, as the only centenarian among college alumni. He was a month older than John Hunt (Brown '42) and there appears another centenarian, I forget his name, a graduate of Columbia '41.

Perhaps the Alumni Monthly reader who takes exception to what he considers the extended obituary notices in the magazine would avoid the suspicion that attached to an aged clergyman who on alumni day at Yale listened to the reading of obituary notices. He had enjoyed the reading of the obituaries and hoped there would be more of them the following year.

I think the matter of inclusion and exclusion or of condensation and of the whole make-up of the magazine should be left to the judgment of the editor.

Sincerely yours,

G. F. Comstock '79

NOTES OF THE MONTH

Ethelbert L. Nevens '25 of East Milton, Mass., has been elected cross-country captain.

About the usual number of mid-winter applicants have been admitted to the Freshman class.

The annual meetings of the Advisory Board of the Associated Alumni are scheduled for March 4 and 5.

At Fitchburg, Mass., Feb. 13, the Brown Orchestra gave a successful concert before an audience of over 1000 persons. The Brown Club gave the orchestra a dinner before the concert.

Brunonians Far and Near

Faculty

William A. Berridge, assistant professor of economics, has won the first prize—$1500—offered by the J. Walter Thompson Co. for the best article on "A Statistical Index of the Purchasing Power of Consumers in the United States."

Professor L. E. Swain of the Department of Physical Education attended the third annual New England Life Saving Conference held Jan. 26 in Cambridge and Boston.

Alumni

1870 and 1895

Professor F. K. W. Drury of the John Hay Library tells us that recent additions to the library shelves include "A. Barton Hepburn; His Life and Service to His Time," by Joseph Bucklin Bishop '70, and "The Magical Chance" by Dallas Lore Sharp '95. Professor Sharp has been spending some time in California, to which delightful part of the country he went in his trusty motor car.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1875

John F. Clark, actively identified in the public life of Rhode Island for 45 years, is now Deputy and Assistant Secretary of State, having been named to that office on Jan. 26 last by his new chief, Ernest L. Sprague. Mr. Clark has held many town and State offices in his long career, and has been in the Secretary of State's office since 1909. He was a Colonel on the staff of Governor Alfred H. Littlefield from 1880 to 1883. In fraternal life he likewise stands high, being a 33rd degree Mason. His home is in Cumberland, R. I.

1882

Professor Walter Ballou Jacobs has been conducting a course, "Teaching How to Think," at the State House in Boston in co-operation with the Massachusetts division of extension work. Incidentally, the February series of extension lectures on the Hill as arranged by Professor Jacobs was one of the most diversified and interesting yet offered by the University.

1885

Judge Arthur P. Sumner of the Rhode Island Superior Court is president general of the Sons of the American Revolution and was one of the principal speakers at the dinner of the Connecticut S. A. R. in New London, Feb. 22.

1886

Clarence E. Bury reports that he has moved from 57 Ridge st., to 577 Hanover st., Fall River, Mass. Mr. Bury is associate editor of the Fall River Daily Herald.

Professor George Grafton Wilson of the Harvard faculty is delivering a series of lectures during this last half of the academic year at Pomona College, Claremont, Calif.

1887

Theodore Francis Green addressed the student body of St. George's school, Newport, R. I., recently on "Choosing the Profession of Law."

1898

Robert J. Fuller has changed his address to 19 Burd ave., Millbourne (via Philadelphia), Pa.

1899

Wallace R. Lane of Chicago has recently been elected president of the Chicago Patent Law Association. This is an association composed of Chicago lawyers largely engaged in practice relating to corporations and patent, trade-mark and copy-right causes.

1890

Frederick H. Hovey, named as among the missing in the February issue of the Monthly, is living at 31 Brunswick road, Montclair, N. J.

1901

Henry C. Hart, United States Commissioner at Providence, was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court in January.

1901 and 1906

Lt. Col. George A. Taylor, U. S. A., has presented the British Veterans' Association of Providence with a picture of Sergeant Florence J. H. Price, the first Brown man to fall in the World War. Sergeant Price was killed near Ypres, May 30, 1916, while taking the post of a fellow sergeant. He was at the time with the 52nd Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

1903

Louis Baker and Arthur Philbrick won the midwinter handicap cowboy pool tournament at the University Club, Providence, but have not yet signified their intention of going after the national title. It is hinted that they wish that cowboy pool were included in the Olympic games to be held in Paris next June.

1904

Guy B. Colburn was recently elected president of the Association of the Spanish Teachers of Central California. His address is 1519 Poplar ave., Fresno, Calif.

1905

W. Granville Meader, vice president in charge of the foreign exchange department of the Industrial Trust Co. of Providence, is giving a course in the present University extension lectures on "Financing Foreign Trade."

Charles A. Weeks, who was among the temporary missing men in the Alumni Office records for several months, is with Ruthrauff and Ryan, advertising, 404 4th ave. at 28th st., New York. We knew Charlie would eventually come up smiling.

Secretary Charlie Robinson reports that he is checking the class list to bring it to date. Looks as if something is in the wind for 1905's 20th reunion in June, 1925.

The class of 1905 sorrows with two of its members who have recently lost their fathers. Fred Thurber's father passed away suddenly to the great loss of the business and civic life of Rhode Island, in which for many years he held a leading part. Earle Cross's father was in the pulpit preaching at Lourenco Marques, South Africa, when the end came swiftly. The Baptist denomination mourns the departure of this veteran missionary, who had served nearly half a century in Burma.

1906

Said the writer of The Whirling Hub in the Boston Traveler not long ago: "Parishioners of the First Baptist Church in Melrose are extending a cordial welcome to the new pastor of the church, the Rev. Walter E. Woodbury, one of the best known ministers of the Baptist denomination. Mr. Woodbury, who comes to Melrose from Minneapolis, is a native of Nashua, N. H., and has served in many churches throughout New England. His return to the Bay State was in the nature of a home-coming for him."

Charles C. Tillinghast has been appointed associate professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University. He is in charge of the Horace Mann School for Boys, a demonstration school for Teachers College, and his address is 11 West 246th st., New York city. In January Mr. Tillinghast was elected president of the New York City Baptist Social Union.

1907

Henry T. Peace has been transferred from the U. S. weather bureau at Wilmington, N. C., to the bureau at Providence and is at present helping serve up the weather for Providence and Rhode Island. Henry realizes what his name will be if he doesn't see to it that Commencement Week is fair, and not quite as hot as it was last year.

Charlie Stark and Fred Lane had a talkative reunion after meeting recently on a Boston-bound train. By common consent they let Governor William S. Flynn of Rhode Island in on the conversation as the Governor was a 1907 man at Holy Cross. Charlie says the bond business in Washington is good, while Fred asserts that living in Pittsfield, Me., isn't as bad as it may sound.

E. A. Batchelor, who entered with 1907 as a special student and who was for many years sporting editor of the Detroit Free Press, then correspondent of the Detroit News in France and Germany, is now assistant editor of the Detroit Athletic Club News and associate editor of the Detroit Saturday Night.

1908

Norman L. Sammis, M. E., has been with the Builders Iron Foundry since graduating. He is now starting an engineering practice at 621 Grosvenor Building, Providence, with stress laid on plant maintenance, industrial problems, construction service and industrial appraisals. His attractive business folder says: "A conference to learn further details will create no obligation."

The New York Tribune on Jan. 29 printed the following from its Washington bureau: "A move designed to curb reported frauds practiced in New York courts by the so-called 'bankruptcy ring' was launched to-day in the House by Representative John J. O'Connor, Democrat, of New York. The O'Connor measure would get at the practices by prohibiting any discharge in any bankruptcy proceedings, whether voluntary or involuntary, within six years after a previous discharge.

Under the law as it now stands a person who goes into voluntary bankruptcy cannot be discharged oftener than every six years. In other words, he cannot be discharged a second time from a second bankruptcy discharge, said Representative O'Connor.

"As to involuntary bankruptcies it is different. A person or corporation that goes into involuntary bankruptcy can be discharged as often as he can get his papers filed and his case before the court. This has led to the evil of disguising bankruptcies as involuntary when they are in fact voluntary. Many debtors go through the form of involuntary proceedings and discharge every year or two. They get friendly creditors, or even dummy creditors, to file petitions against them."

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1909

Clarence M. Whipple, after being principal of a school in the Phillippines for three years, returned to this country and studied law with the Northeastern University at Boston. He has practiced in connection with employes' liability and other forms of insurance and is now the attorney in Boston for the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America. His home address is 265 W. Emerson st., Melrose, Mass.

At a class supper held Thursday, January 24, the following were present: Poland, Leach, Turner, Dodge, Tanner, Sherwood, Whitmarsh, Bosworth, Hagar, Everson, Chace, A. M., Wells, Chafee, Littlefield, Huxford, Chambers, Campbell, Henderson, Curtis and Willenin. Chairman Sherwood of the 15th Reunion Committee announced tentative plans which were discussed. The general outline was accepted with pleasure by all and the committee said that they would now complete final details. Arrangements are being made with the hope and expectation that all members of the class will be present on this Commencement.

1910

The following list is the third chapter of the history of the class of 1910 which is being printed in installments. Members who have not answered the recent questionnaire are earnestly requested to do so immediately.

Sample copies of the Alumni Monthly have been sent to each member of the class who is not a regular subscriber, together with a subscription blank and a circular letter from the publicity committee calling his attention to the matter. Other items of information sent to any member of the publicity committee or to the secretary of the class will be greatly appreciated.

Warren C. Johnson's address is 127 Michigan ave., Providence. Since graduation he has been with Ginn & Co., publishers, and the N. W. Ayer & Son Advertising Agency. For several years he has been a bond salesman. He has one son, Warren

Clifford, 6 years old. "Johnny" suggests a midwinter class luncheon or dinner.

Alan Jewett Young's address is 190 Oakwood terrace, Newton Centre, Mass. He is treasurer and general manager of the Woodley Soap Mfg. Co., Boston. He has two daughters, Dorothy, 8 years old, and Brenda, 4 years old.

Elmer S. Horton's address is Barrington, R. I. "Hoke" is president of the Larchar-Horton Company, advertising agencies of Providence. He has three children, Margaret Elizabeth, 9, Edward Metcalf, 7, and John Alden, 4. Since graduation he has been salesman for the Federal Sugar Refining Company, 3 years; salesman for the Providence Journal Advertising Department, 4 years; advertising manager for the Providence Journal, 2 years; in the sales department of Bodell & Company, investment brokers, 1 year.

Albert P. Farwell's address is 580 Fruit Hill ave., North Providence. He is superintendent of the Kendall Mfg. Co., and

Annuities

Secure Guaranteed Income For Life.

$10,000 PURCHASES

	Men	Women
Age 50	$629.	$684. Yearly
" 55	704.	771. "
" 60	804.	889. "
" 65	943.	1,050. "
" 70	1,132.	1,255. "

Proportionate income for larger or smaller amount of purchase money.

Payable semi-annually, quarterly or monthly if desired.

Exempt from Federal Income Tax.

Complete Annuities issued by

John Hancock
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Sixty-one years in business.
Now insuring over One Billion
Eight Hundred Million Dollars in policies on 3,300,000 lives.

has two children, Constance E., 4 years old, and Albert E., 8 years old.

Malcolm R. Jeffries's address is Jeffries, Wisconsin. He writes that he is a "dirt farmer" and has three children, Nancy, Helena and Rays.

John H. Morrissey's address is 40 East 41st st., New York city. Jack is a surgeon with a rather wide range of experience. Since graduation he has been assistant attending surgeon, New York city, and St. Bartholomew's Hospital, New York; consulting surgeon, New Jersey State Hospital, Trenton; United Hospital, Rye and Port Chester, New York.

Leon F. Clark's address is 120 Franklin st., Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He is superintendent of the Dutchess Bleachery. Since graduation he has been assistant chemist, Apponaug Bleachery; assistant dyer, Newburgh Bleachery; dyer, Lonsdale Bleachery; dyer, Dutchess Bleachery; superintendent, Dutchess Bleachery.

Harry B. O'Neil's address is 19 Roxbury court, Keene, N. H. "Butch" has stuck to engineering since graduation. He was with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company for two years and a half, but since 1913 has been in business for himself in Keene.

James Smalley's address is Swift & Co., Albany, N. Y. Since graduation he has been a teacher of chemistry, physics and mathematics in the Baintree High School and travelling representative for Swift & Co.

Benjamin Dwight Miller's address is 150 Collins road, Waban, Mass. He is in the linen and cotton thread (shoes) business and has two daughters, Elizabeth Dwight, 7, and Doris Rice, 5½. Since graduation he has been treasurer of the Joseph Tryan Thread Co., Inc., and president and treasurer of the Suffolk Thread Co., Inc. "Ben" suggests starting a round robin letter for our class. The final recipient to return it to college for our class records.

1911

G. Denny Moore has set up as a sales and advertising counselor with offices at 51 Empire st., Providence, and 44 W. 44th st., New York. His home is at 32 Windsor road, Edgewood, R. I.

It seemed like old times to hear again from Jim Archie, reported "missing" for several months. Jim is with the Central Poultry & Packing Co., Kansas City, Mo. He wrote in part to the Alumni Manager: "I am indeed interested in Brown and especially in my own class of 1911. But in this part of the country, particularly Kansas City, we meet few Brown men, and unless we do receive mail once in a while from our old friends in Providence it is an easy matter to get completely out of touch with what is doing on the Hill. . . . Remember me to Shan Clark and other inquiring friends."

Wendell R. Swint has assumed his duties as manager in charge of the London office of the du Pont interests with which he has been associated in Wilmington, Del., for some years. His address, at which Brown men are welcome, is Capel House, 54 New Broad st., London, E. C.

1912

F. P. A., the columnist of the New York World, told in a recent issue of seeing "Jack Winterich's library, and he hath first editions of my books, which is more than I have, and some of them are worth as much as the day they were published." Jack and F. P. A. worked together on the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the A. E. F., and Jack is still on the staff of the American Legion Weekly.

Wiley Marble has escaped from the soot of Pittsburgh and the steel business to return to the clearer atmosphere of New England and is now living at 42 Tirrell st., Worcester, Mass. "Textiles—that's my game," he confides. The Brown Club in Pittsburgh will miss Wiley, as he was one of its most active workers.

Arthur F. Newell, who is with the Overseas Division, Y. M. C. A., with headquarters at 347 Madison ave., New York, has changed his residence from White Plains to Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., P. O. Box 2.

Willard B. Anthony asks us please to note that he has changed his street address from Polytechnic Institute to 38 Barnes ave., Worcester, Mass.

George Woodward Langdon, Jr., writes us: "Please see that in the 1912 items the advent of a future Brown alumnus is recorded as having taken place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Langdon, Jr., Johnson st., Haverhill, Mass., on Feb. 5th. The young man's name is George W. Langdon, 3rd, and he is now learning to shout lustily for his future Alma Mater. All four of us are doing well."

1913

George H. Galberg has changed his name to Granger and is in business in New York City with Sulzbacher and Granger, 115 Broadway.

C. F. Sims has been with Starkweather & Shepley in Providence since Jan. 7, 1924, making a specialty of forgery bonding.

On Feb. 6th the class of 1913 had a midwinter reunion at the University Club, Providence, with Robinson, Philbrick, Wilson, Lemon, McLyman, Taber, Roberts, Preston Arnold, Sam Arnold, Sims and Snell present.

1914

Slip Affleck is now connected with the law firm of Marsden & Nichols, 59 Wall st., New York city. Slip advises us that he expects to be at the reunion in June.

Joe Farnham is now living at 71 West 12th st., New York city.

If any member of the class has changed his address recently, please advise the class secretary, Morgan W. Rogers, care of P. O. Box 1445, Providence. Any news along this line would be much appreciated.

Ralph T. Denison is still in China as assistant manager of construction for the Standard Oil Co. of New York. He receives his mail, he writes, at 11 Canton road, Shanghai, China.

After six years' absence, most of which has been spent as a missionary in the Belgian Congo, Edward I. Everett is returning to this country and will soon be greeting his friends and neighbors at 66 Church st., Wellesley, 81, Mass.

Francis M. Willett, reported among the "missing men" in the last issue of the Monthly, is employed by the Sayles Finishing Plants, inc., and lives on Woodland ave., Saylesville, R. I.

Alumni Manager Gurney '07 says that he has found a clue concerning Cyril Wake-

Blackstone Canal National Bank

20 Market Square

Capital Stock $500,000
Surplus and
Undivided Profits over $800,000

ALBERT R. PLANT, President
JOHN B. BRANCH, Vice President
CHARLES P. BROWN, Cashier

Directors

Herbert F. Hinckley	John B. Branch
Edwin M. Dodd	Albert R. Plant
C. Moulton Stone	William A. Viall
Charles H. Merriman, Jr.	Fletcher H. Mason
Frank O. Field	Henry S. Chafee

—a strong bank

—a progressive bank

—a friendly bank

MECHANICS
NATIONAL BANK

34 DORRANCE STREET,
PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Financial Matters—whether business or investments—sometimes trouble one, and at such times are best talked over with men experienced in such affairs.

Customers of this bank, when in need of advice or assistance in their financial problems, are assured of friendly advice and co-operation from its officers.

We are interested in and strive to be helpful to all doing business with us.

National Exchange Bank

63 Westminster Street
Providence, R. I.

The Best T O N I C

Horsford's Acid Phosphate is especially recommended for the restoration of energy and vitality, the relief of mental and nervous exhaustion, impaired digestion or appetite.

HORSFORD'S Acid Phosphate

(Non-Alcoholic)

Is a scientific and carefully prepared preparation of the phosphates, and has been found a most valuable general Tonic.

A teaspoonful added to a glass of cold water, with sugar, makes a delicious and wholesome beverage.

If your druggist can't supply you, send 25 cents to Rumford Chemical Works, Providence, R. I., for trial size bottle, postage paid.

field to the effect that Wakefield enlisted in the British Expeditionary Forces in 1917, sailing from Halifax for France. He is now following it up through the office of the Adjutant General of the United States and the British War Department.

1915

Allen G. Maxwell is in business with Blair & Co. in New York City.

Ralph (Rube) Cram, in a letter to the Alumni Manager, sends his "best regards to the boys" and confesses that he is in the "grill business" with his address at 25 Henry st., Binghamton, N. Y.

Charlie Archambault '12 hereby receives credit for giving us the welcome information that Paul Archambault is practicing law at 40 Academy building, Fall River, Mass.

Dr. Wallace L. Gallup, assistant professor of Biblical history and literature at Connecticut College, New London, Conn., conducted a Bible class at the New London Y. W. C. A. during the past winter with "Great Prayers of the Bible" as his subject.

Dr. Herman A. Winkler of this city, now president of the eye, nose and throat service of the New Haven hospital, has received the appointment of house officer at the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston, to begin June 1st. He is a graduate of the Harvard Medical School '22.

1917

Wally Wade has made good with a bang as head football coach at the University of Alabama. At recent dinners of Alabama alumni he has received a gold cup and a platinum watch and has been hailed as the greatest coach "the Crimson Tide" (oh, yes, they're picturesque in the South) has ever had. In addition, Wally has signed a three-year contract with Henry Crisp, former Dartmouth player, as his chief assistant.

1918

Reginald Harris was elected to Phi Beta Kappa at a special election held last June. Congratulations, Reggie. From last reports Reggie was studying biology somewhere in Europe.

Hiram Williams is now located in Boston and is floor manager and buyer in the men's department of Jordan's department store. Old Hiram is doing very well and sure was glad to greet the Secretary some time ago. It was mutual. Hadn't seen Hiram since the days on the Hill.

Jack Sweetland is assistant manager of Gilchrist's bargain basement in Boston.

Another Bostonian now is Eugene Tingley. He is connected with the Dennison Co. in the capacity of sales engineer.

Billy Maguire is now living at Akron, Ohio, care of University Club. Bill is the western representative of the Manville-Jenckes Co. and certainly he has made great progress. Not only that, but the Secretary is informed that Billy can swing a golf club even lustier than he swung a bat when captain of the Varsity.

Zene Bliss is an assistant professor on the Hill in the Engineering Department. His engagement was recently announced to Miss Alice Taylor Wilcox, daughter of Major and Mrs. Howard Dutee Wilcox. Zene was promoted recently to be a first lieutenant in the Rhode Island National Guard.

Talking about professors on the Hill, I must not forget Walt Wilson in the Biology Department and Tommy Tompkins in the Engineering Department. Tommy is giving an extension course in his subject and it is reported that his classes are quite large.

George Heidt (Our Great George) is still reigning supreme at the head of the Christian Association and of the Brown Union. Brown University never had a more efficient or progressive official. He has done wonders, in spite of his very onerous duties. The Brown Union was never in a more prosperous condition. Moreover, George has begun (indeed has made great strides) what is in the very near future destined to be the Brown University Press. Considerable equipment has been purchased already out of the profits obtained from the printing business done by the Union. And they say that ministers are unworldly.

Benny Slade is a salesman with the Westcott, Slade & Balcom Co. of this city. Oh, yes, Benny has been married for some time

DWIGHT P. ROBINSON & COMPANY
INCORPORATED
ENGINEERS AND CONSTRUCTORS

125 EAST 46TH STREET
NEW YORK

•
Design and Construct

HYDRO-ELECTRIC DEVELOPMENTS
STEAM POWER PLANTS
INDUSTRIAL PLANTS
RAILROAD SHOPS

•
Construct

OFFICE AND APARTMENT
BUILDINGS

Chicago	Philadelphia	Youngstown	Atlanta
Los Angeles	Montreal	Rio de Janeiro

now and is living in the wilds of East Providence.

Irv McDowell is in the bond business in this city and is associated with Anderson & Co. Rumor has it that Irv is seen in the company of a young lady from Hartford quite frequently.

Sammy Silverman, importer de luxe, recently returned from his second trip to Europe in six months. His friends are calling him "Old Stick in the Mud" because he was on the Leviathan when she grounded a short time ago in New York harbor. Sammy says he is glad to be back here in the States, although his trips have been very successful financially.

Freddy Brooks and his genial roommate and constant companion Bus Wilcox took their annual cruise to Canada and way stations in their good ship Elizabeth not so long ago. Both are in business in these parts, Freddy being with the Newell Coal and Lumber Co., and Bus with the Hope Webbing Co. Buster sure did over our

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Published for the graduates of Brown University by the Brown Alumni Magazine Co.

Henry R. Palmer, Editor
and President

Clinton H. Currier, Business Manager and Treasurer

Member of Alumni Magazines Associated.

A group of forty magazines with 150,000 non-duplicating circulation, two type-page sizes and one advertising representative.

President, Leverett Tyson, Columbia. Vice President, Miss Elizabeth E. Wellington, Vassar. Secretary and Treasurer, John O. Baxendale, Vermont. Editor, R. W. Sailor, Cornell.

Business Office, Brown University

Subscription, $1.00 a year. Single copies, 10 cents.

There is no issue during August and September.

Entered at the Providence post-office as second-class matter.

MARCH, 1924

last reunion in grand style. None of the men present will ever forget our glorious fifth get-together last June.

Gordon Smith is also living in this city and helps Freddy Brooks at the Newell Coal Co. offices.

Jack Sydney is in the real estate business in Pawtucket. Business must be pretty good if an intelligent reading of the Tax Assessor's list means anything.

Chauncey Langdon is the Foreign Representative of the Nicholson File Works and of the American Screw Works. He travels in Mexico and the West Indies and while in the latter region frequently meets Ronny Kimball. Ronn is quite settled down now, is married, and boasts of a son three months old, named Thayer MacDonald.

Joe Cummings is the same serene, confident-appearing bond salesman he always was. Business is always good with Joe.

Bill Fay is already a successful lawyer in Buffalo, N. Y. It was good to see Bill again at the reunion.

Cerelle Fay came north this summer from Texas. We always liked Cerelle and believed him until he told of going around in 80 or so. We were especially dubious after we watched him swing once or twice at the Point Judith Club. Well, all we have to say is that mebbe the courses in Texas consist only of nine holes.

Pat Curry of Pittsburgh was recently elected secretary of the Brown Club of Pittsburgh.

Frank C. Speck, Jr., is now past master of Doric Lodge, F. and A. M., Auburn, R. I. He is one of the youngest past masters in the State.

Saw Jimmy Paige at the Harvard-Brown game. Same old happy-go-lucky, cheerful Jimmy. Never did see Jim with a grouch on. Yes, Jimmy is still manufacturing porcelainware at Peabody, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell S. Bosworth of Bristol, R. I., announce the birth of a daughter, Nancy Dimond. Ros is connected with Charles A. Kilvert & Co., of this city, dealers in securities.

"Bones" Munroe is now a happy married man. Mrs. Munroe was formerly Miss Muriel Doris of this city. Bones is a lawyer and was recently appointed deputy coroner of Providence.

Rev. Karnek Handanian is preaching "somewhere in Massachusetts." Wish he would write to the secretary. There was an account in the paper last summer telling of a wonderful baccalaureate sermon preached by him.

John S. Chafee is still connected with Brown & Sharpe of this city.

Bert Pearson is with the Puritan Life Insurance Co. of Providence.

Carl Eden has announced his engagement to Miss Harriet Carpenter of this city. Carl is practicing law in Providence.

1918 has several other disciples of Blackstone in Providence: Charlie (Gurney) Edwards, "Bones" Munroe, Pete Cannon (Peter Leo Cannon in full), ye secretary, otherwise known as Walter Adler.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Ray Bagley is boss dyer with the Stanley Woolen Co. of Uxbridge, Mass.

George Curry is in the real estate business in Conimicut, R. I.

Joe King is branch manager of A. Klipstein, Dye Stuffs, New York. Joe is married and lives at Attleboro, Mass.

Ted Sullivan is practicing law with his brother at Fall River, Mass.

Horace Jeffers is practicing law at Morristown, N. J.

Dr. Louis Kramer is doing very well. His office is at 334 Smith st., Providence.

Drs. Pickles and Garside are at the Rhode Island Hospital.

Dr. Herman Winkler is now located at the New Haven Hospital. Wink is specializing in eyes, nose and throat.

Dr. William E. Sisson is interning at a Baltimore hospital. Bill graduated from the Johns Hopkins Medical School.

Vine Hackett is still connected with the United Fruit Co. Vincent is now married. Mrs. Hackett was formerly Miss Irene Fournier of Portland, Oregon.

The secretary wishes that more of the boys would write about their doings. Numerous requests are being received concerning the whereabouts of someone and the secretary would like to have all the latest dope. Send in anything you have that may be of interest to the class.

Tom Hall has joined the selling force of Colt, Birmingham and Brady, inc., dealers in motor cars in Providence, and is ready he says to take orders now for spring delivery "of the best light car in the market."

Walter Adler, Secretary

1919

Ralph Dexter writes that he will be at Yates Academy, Loochow, China, teaching until June, 1924. Dexter was a teacher in the Philippines for two years before migrating to Loochow.

H. George Harris is assistant manager in New York City of the Manhattan Shirt

A Good Morning Cup—

rich brown, fragrant
and mellow, free
from bitterness, and
with a delicate flavor
all its own—that's

AUTOCRAT COFFEE

Sold everywhere: In Cities—in the Mountains—By the Seashore.

BROWNELL & FIELD CO.
Providence, R. I.

A valuable coupon in each can.
Write for premium list.

Co. and was married, Feb. 22, to Miss Edna Baer. They will be at home after March 15 at 1036 President st., Brooklyn.

A Fifth Reunion Committee has been organized with Ed Lanphear, chairman, Sid McCormick, secretary and treasurer, and Alex Hindmarsh, Bob Erickson and (Prof.) Art Sellen as co-workers. The committee, under the supervision of President Tom Black, is planning to make the Fifth Reunion shatter all records in attendance, noise and conviviality. Tom Watson has agreed to corral the New York contingent. Brad Moore is going to see that our Middle West contemporaries are duly F. O. B. for Providence in June. The committee is trying to get the correct address of every member of the class. It is especially anxious to learn the whereabouts of John S. Prigge, Liston Sweet, Wallace Moyle, Westcott, Woodruff and Lindstrom. Any one who has any line on addresses or any suggestions is hereby politely and firmly requested to write to the committee at 262 Thayer st., Providence.

Preston & Rounds Co.

No. 98 Westminster Street

Providence, R. I.

Booksellers

Stationers

The Corlew Teachers' Agency

GRACE M. ABBOTT

Manager

120 Boylston Street

Boston

1920

Eric P. Jackson, at present instructor in geography at the high school, Leominster, Mass., and also a graduate student in the Graduate School of Geography, Clark University, Worcester, Mass., received the master of arts degree, June 1923, from Clark University. He has recently been appointed instructor in geology and geography at Middlebury College for the academic year 1924-25, Middlebury, Vt.

Upon his return from taking the course for National Guard officers at the Coast Artillery School, Fort Monroe, Va., First Lieutenant Ernest F. Santangini addressed his brother officers of the 243rd Artillery, C. A. C., R. I. N. G., at their January meeting in Providence. Lieutenant Santangini told of the benefits derived from the course at Fort Monroe and of the efforts made to make his stay enjoyable as well as profitable. Off duty the Lieutenant is an architect with offices in the Strand building, Providence.

Richmond Watson, in a letter to President Faunce, says that he is with the Advertising Service Co., Toronto, in an executive position and that mail will reach him at 23 Roxborough st. West, Toronto. Incidentally, Watson has a pertinent word to utter about how his training at Brown has helped him to get on in the world. That's the best sort of advertising for the University we know of.

1921

"Bill" Brightman believes in seeing America first. He has been on an inspection tour for a fire insurance company that has taken in a great many of the larger cities as far south as Memphis, Tenn., and as far west as Des Moines, Iowa.

It looks as if Pembroke were going to reap its reward from the Class of 1921. "Bob" Dorer and "Vin" Meserve are fathers of daughters. They are setting the rest of us a good example.

Wayne Faunce has settled down to the simple life and can be found any night at 705 Hope st., Providence. He reports that the radio concerts are coming in great.

Our Class Reunion Committee has started on the plans for the third reunion. It reports satisfactory progress is being made and that it is up to the members of the Class to back the reunion to the limit this year.

"Spud" Burdick has given up the insurance game and has cast his lot with the New York Telephone Co.

Allan Colby is Secretary of the Providence City Club. This, with his work at the Rau Fastener Co., keeps him rather busy.

1922

A. D. Somes is employed in the Turbine Engineering Department at the Lynn Works of the General Electric Company.

Albion F. Tripp, who has been with the New York Life Insurance Company in Detroit since graduation, has been transferred to Youngstown, Ohio, where he has been appointed cashier in the newly opened branch office in that city.

Arthur Bjorklund has brushed the soot of Pittsburgh from his everyday clothes and is again making his home on Weir st., Hingham, Mass. He is representing the Rees Mfg. Co., Pittsburgh, in Massachusetts territory.

Walter Rolland's address for several months is 1515 North Meridian st., Indianapolis, Ind., where he is in charge of a new factory branch of the company he is associated with in Detroit.

Harold Pittenger admits the report that he was married last fall, giving the date as Nov. 28 and the maiden name of the present Mrs. Pittenger as Miss Hope Fay. "Pitt" is with the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania and lives at 998 E. State st., Trenton, N. J.

1923

Mike Wofsey was an Alumni office visitor at examination time, telling us that he is crowding Messrs. Blackstone and Coke hard at Harvard Law school. Mike's address in Cambridge is 14 Oxford st.

Johnny Wilson postcards from Venice that he's been rounding out six weeks' vacation from Oxford, England. He reports that travel is a fine way to combine pleasure and study, but also admits the difficulty of correctly proportioning the two.

R. V. (Joe) Bellmore, late of Plattsburg, is traveling in the interests of the Borden Sales Corporation. When last heard from he was somewhere in Maryland playing the role, he wrote, of "Joe Milk." Joe says he'll be at the reunion.

Mike Gulian is spending these months in a place called Elkland, Pa., getting some fine points on the tanning end of the leather business. From the picture of the town on the card which Mike sent, he will in all probability be the checker "champeen" of Elkland when his sentence ends.

Bill McCormick has deserted the cotton business to learn the retail end of the coal game with the Rhode Island Co-operative Coal Co., Providence.

Alumnae

1923

Further notes from the class secretary, Dorothy T. Mowry:

Winship Teachers' Agency

Send for blank.

6 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

ALVIN F. PEASE

Brown Graduate, A. B. & A. M.

Starkweather & Shepley

Incorporated

George L. Shepley, President

INSURANCE

Of Every Description

Fidelity and Surety Bonds

17 Custom House Street

Providence, R. I.

New York Office, 55 John Street

Chicago Office, 175 W. Jackson Boulevard

Boston Office, 43 Kilby Street

Paris, France, Office, 20 Rue Chauchat

Ruth H. Marvel, student teacher in ancient history at Technical High School. Address 11 Wheldon ave., East Providence, R. I.

Helen A. Mauran, last known address, 83 John st., Newport, R. I.

Florence G. Moulton, teacher of English in Enfield High School, Thompsonville, Conn.

Dorothy T. Mowry, teacher of English in Taunton High School. Address 87 Winthrop st., Taunton, Mass. Secretary of the class.

Miriam Nagle, taking a library course at the Rhode Island College of Education. Address 20 Poplar st., Providence, R. I.

Eileen Q. Ostigny, teaching freshman year of high school work. Address Jacksonville, Vt.

Eleanor Parmelee, graduate assistant in biology department. Also working for M. A., Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.

Ruth E. Parsons, teacher of English, French and plane geometry in Pratt High School. Address Essex, Conn.

Dorothy F. Patton, teacher of English in Hingham, Mass., High School.

Ruth H. Preston, office work with the Builders Iron Foundry. Address 7 Cushing st., Providence.

Eva Rabinovitz, not heard from. Last known address, 427 Park ave., Woonsocket, R. I.

Mildred M. Reed, working at the Field's Point Laboratory in Providence. Address 11 Strausburg st., Providence.

Edythe F. Reeves, student teacher at the Cranston High School. Also working for M. A. at Brown. Address 81 Eldridge st., Auburn, R. I.

Beatrice M. Richards, social work in Rhode Island. Address 41 Prospect st., Auburn, R. I.

Marie A. Rowe, assistant principal of high school at Big Rapids. Also, teaching two classes in algebra. Address 203 Pine st., Big Rapids, Mich.

Emilia Robison, attending Katherine Gibbs' Secretarial School. Address 419 Brook st., Providence.

Bella Rubinstein, substitute teacher in Providence high schools. Also taking a history seminar course at Brown. Address 89 Orms st., Providence.

Ida Rubinstein, history seminar course at Brown. Address 89 Orms st., Providence.

Mary E. Schroeder, at home, 112 Spring st., Reading, Pa.

The Merchants

National Bank

Providence, R. I.
20 Westminster Street

o

Capital,	$1,000,000
Surplus Earnings,	$1,500,000

o

ROBERT W. TAFT, President
CHARLES H. NEWELL, Vice President
MOSES J. BARBER, Vice President
FRANK A. GREENE, Cashier
WILLARD I. ANGELL, Asst. Cashier
HARRY S. HATHAWAY, Asst. Cashier

Directors

George M. Smith	Moses J. Barber
Robert W. Taft	Frank E. Richmond
Charles H. Newell	Edward P. Jastram
William B. McBee	A. Livingston Kelley
Everett L. Spencer	Wilson G. Wing

Interest allowed on Current Accounts

DRUGS

Chemicals and Medicines

Electric Batteries
Invalid Roller Chairs
Prescriptions a Specialty

GEO. L. CLAFLIN CO.

62 to 64 South Main Street,
Providence, R. I.

Joan M. Shea, teaching at Gorham, N. H.

Grace D. Shein, practice teaching at Hope Street High School. Also working for M. A. Address 109 State st., Providence.

Dorothy Simpson, teacher in the Oaklawn School for Girls, Howard, R. I.

Bernice G. Smith, student teacher of English in the new Commercial High School, Providence. Address 136 Prairie ave., Providence.

Carolyn G. Smith, teacher of history and physics in high school. Address 128 South Broad st., Penns Grove, N. J.

Dorothea A. Smith, teacher of dancing, 32 Royal ave., Conimicut, R. I.

Elizabeth T. Stafford, at Brown working for an M. A. in Math. Address 165 Brown st., Providence.

Nellie C. Stokes, at Brown working for an M. A. in Math. Address 217 Slater ave., Providence.

Elsie P. Swanson, attending Katherine Gibbs' Secretarial School. Address Crompton, R. I.

Belmira E. Tavares, teacher of French and Spanish, high school, Warren, R. I.

Muriel T. Tierney, working in the John Hay Library. Address 37 Hanover st., Providence.

Sarah E. Wells, teacher of English in the high school, Oxford, Mass.

Ruth M. White, teacher of Spanish and English at Drew Seminary for Young Women, Carmel, N. Y.

Olive G. Wildes, teaching second year high school subjects at the Connecticut Institute for the Blind. Address 10 Holcomb st., Hartford, Conn.

Catherine V. Winsper, teacher of French in the Eastport High School. Address 29 Boynton st., Eastport, Maine.

Maude E. Wishart, at home, 770 Broadway, Fall River, Mass.

Alice M. Wright, doing office work for her father, Henry B. Wright, gold and silver refiner. Address 132 Armington st., Edgewood, R. I.

Frances M. Wright, working for A. M.

Providence Coal Co.

Anthracite and Bituminous

COAL

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Central Office, Corner Custom House and Weybosset Street. Yard, Corner of Dorrance and Dyer Sts.

Westminster Bank

73 Westminster Street

Providence

Edward G. Chace, President

Geo. A. Jepherson, Vice-President

William C. Angell, Cashier

Benjamin B. Manchester, Ass't Cashier

Accounts Solicited

We offer to depositors every facility which their balances, business and responsibility warrant.

at Brown. Address 130 Angell st., Providence.

BROWN DIRECTORY

ARTHUR H. BLANCHARD

Consulting Highway and Transport
Engineer

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Abbott '80

Edwards '96

ABBOTT, FAUNTLEROY, CULLEN &
EDWARDS

Attorneys at Law

Suite 315, Commercial Building

214 North Sixth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Abbott '15

MENDELL W. CRANE

Attorney at Law

312 Howard Building, 171 Westminster st.,
Providence

PERRY and SAUNDERS

Counsellors at Law

185 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

Joseph Earl Perry, Williams; Albert L.
Saunders, Brown 1902

CRAHAN

ENGRAVING COMPANY.

DESIGNING

PHOTO

CATALOGUE

ENGRAVING

ILLUSTRATIONS

50 Exchange Place

Providence

BLANDING'S

Prescription Department

For over half a century has set a standard for reliability that makes it the logical place at which to have your prescriptions compounded. Prices consistent with the high quality of drugs used.

BLANDING & BLANDING

58 Weybosset Street

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Eugene Emilie Varet of Brooklyn, N. Y., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Lelia Alice Varet, to Charles Herbert Appleby '23.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Labbee of Providence have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Schmid Labbee, to Herbert Malcolm Hofford '23. Hofford is at present a member of the reportorial staff of the Philadelphia Bulletin.

The engagement is announced of Miss Rena Gladys Macomber of Lynn, Mass., to George Henry Rhodes '20.

C. H. Myrick of Providence has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Ruth E. Myrick '17, Women's College, to J. Otis Fuller '17.

MARRIAGES

Pelham W. Bogert '19n and Mrs. Rush Higgins were married at the home of the uncle of the bride, Benjamin Rush, 2106 Pine st., Philadelphia, on Jan. 19. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bogert left for Los Angeles, Calif., on their honeymoon. On their return East they will live in Norfolk, Va.

BIRTHS

1903—To Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Rockwell, a daughter, Helen, on December 4, 1923.

1906—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Godfrey Carpenter, 268 State st., Flushing, N. Y., on Jan. 25, 1924, twin girls, Dorothy Bradford and Isabel Wood. The other children are Henry Godfrey, Jr., aged 10; Leonard Reed 7, and Ivis Pridham, 4.

1909—To Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Doyle Champlin, a daughter, on Jan. 21.

1911—To Mr. and Mrs. Wendell S. Brown, a fifth son, Charles Goddard, on Feb. 15.

1917—To Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hamilton, a daughter, Gale, on Feb. 1.

1919—To Mr. and Mrs. Alexander T. Hindmarsh, a daughter, Lora Gray, on Jan. 23.

1922—To Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Gavitt, a son, Richard Lester, on Jan. 28.

BODELL & CO.

Investment Securities

10 Weybosset Street
PROVIDENCE

115 BROADWAY
NEW YORK

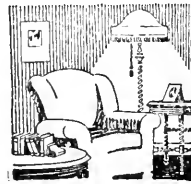

35 CONGRESS STREET
BOSTON

BESIDES selling Men's Handkerchiefs, Hose, Gloves, Shirtings, Jewelry and Leather Goods, this store also offers large comfortable Chairs, Smoking Stands, Humidors, Desk Lamps and the like, for men. Come in sometime and just look them over.

Gladding's

Brown Headquarters
in New York

HOTEL BRISTOL
129 West 48th ST.

JUST EAST OF BROADWAY

400 Rooms 300 Baths

Convenient to

THEATRES, SHOPS, SUBWAYS

European Plan

Most Popular Restaurant in New York

J. Elliott Johnson

'06

President

FOUR years in Providence must have given to every Brown man an acquaintance with the names of those who are directing the affairs of the Puritan Life Insurance Company of Rhode Island.

NO matter where Brown men are now located they must have experienced a familiarity with the motive forces of this Rhode Island Institution.

THIS feeling of personal interest is reciprocal. It yields unusual satisfaction to us to receive applications for life insurance from Brown men.

Board of Directors

Puritan Life Insurance Company

Providence, R. I.

Walter R. Callender
Edmund D. Chesebro
Dutee W. Flint
Lyman B. Goff
Webster Knight
Henry F. Lippitt
Eben N. Littlefield
Edgar J. Lownes

Stephen O. Metcalf
Charles Perry
Aram J. Pothier
Edward H. Rathbun
Henry D. Sharpe
William P. Sheffield
Henry G. Thresher
Clinton C. White

