CHARTING THE COURSE FOR INVESTED FUNDS

PERSONAL AGENCY SERVICE as rendered by Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company is designed to assist in charting the course for invested funds. It brings to invested capital the collective judgment of our officers whose recommendations are based on time-tested experience.

Whenever a customer meets with us to discuss investment problems, our first question is: "What is the objective of the fund, its responsibilities, purpose and eventual disposition?" While individual objectives vary, the policy and procedure to be followed are based upon the specific requirements of each customer. Once the objective is determined, recommendations of our Investment Committee are rendered promptly, with no delay in securing the benefits of sound group opinion.

The details of investment assistance rendered are described in our book, "Personal Agency Accounts." We suggest that you send for your copy, as it may convince you that group judgment will be of definite assistance to you in handling your investments.

NUMBER 5

► ► Looking at a Record Class

BY BRUCE M. BIGELOW

Associate Dean of the College

Chairman, Committee on Admissions

► ► THIS year the Freshman Class arrived in three groups. There were 22 early birds who entered in February; 199 came in June (one fellow had the measles and postponed admission); and 273 were in the regular fall contingent. The total is 494, and this number smashed a Brown record.

Figures for a few classes in the past are as follows:

Entering in	Number
1900	194
1910	182
1920	268
1930	405
1935	383
1940	379
1941	434

Unfortunately we cannot designate the Freshmen as "The Class of 1946." Later on we shall undoubtedly assign all war students to a class, for we know that alumni spirit and, to use a dangerous term, class consciousness, are closely interwoven. (We pause to toast 1942.) There are difficulties, however, with 1946, for the February boys would graduate in September, 1944; the June group in February, 1945; and the September group in June, 1945. At present all undergraduates are classified as Semester I, II and so on through VIII. A Semester III student is in the first semester of his Sophomore year and, therefore, the February entrants of this year are already Sophomores. All very confusing.

The September entrants actually began classes on October 5, but they arrived a week early for the usual testing program and orientation lectures. Freshman Week for the June flock became Freshman Minute for classes began almost immediately after their arrival, and some boys even had to return home to Westchester for their high school commencements. As one boy expressed it, "My mother has been looking forward to my high school graduation for 18 years. I've just got to be there." We like that boy. The transition from school to college was made amazingly well by the June students, and we were convinced again of the plastic qualities of youth, their agility in making adjustments and their ability to meet the requirements of "the ever-whirling wheel of change."

► THE Freshman Class was not larger than we either planned for or expected. Applications had increased nearly 10 per cent over last year, everyone connected with admissions was giving extra hours to the problem, and alumni and undergraduates were extremely helpful in recommending desirable candidates. One of the most important factors in producing a great class was favorable publicity regarding the University's part in the war effort. Long before Pearl Harbor, President Wriston, his administration, and faculty had co-operated with the government to the fullest in its defense program, and both editorial writers and news commentators had brought the University before the public eye. Brown was alert to the national crisis and for her leadership and foresight she is being rewarded. High school students realize that Brown is a lively place dedicated in war as well as in peace to the ideal of service.

In general the class entered with their usual offerings of English, Foreign Language, Mathematics, History and Science. Their Freshman programs, however, showed less variety than in recent years. Practically all Freshmen elect English and Mathematics. In addition, large numbers of students plan for a course in Physics and United States History. As one would expect, the group choosing Engineering is growing larger. This year it is the highest ever — 29 per cent. The percentages for the various degrees follow:

Year	A.B.	Ph.B	Bachelor of Science in		Total No.
			Chemistry	Engineering
1920	16%	68%	0%	16%	268
1930	25	54	6	17	405
1938	80		7	13	416
1939	84		5	11	414
1940	75		7	18	379
1941	72		7	21	434
1942	99		11	29*	494

*One per cent for Bachelor of Science in Physics.

Eleven students entered under the Junior Year Plan. Immediately after Pearl Harbor, we announced a policy of admitting outstanding students before they completed their Senior year, provided that they were specially recommended by their school principals or headmasters. This policy was sound, and all colleges are adopting it for the ensuing year. Three of those who were specially recommended for early admission came from Rhode Island and three from New York; two were from Massachusetts and the others from New Jersey, District of Columbia and Missouri. There was a Pembroke fear that because of the accelerated program and the Junior Admission Plan, a girl might find that her partner at a Brown Junior Prom was a lad who still sang soprano. The girls need not worry, however, for these eleven Freshmen can handle themselves either in a Brown classroom or on Cushing Street, and furthermore there is to be no Junior Prom.

► THE factors determining the selection of a class remain substantially the same. Emphasis is placed upon school records and recommendations, and in addition we require the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. Brown was one of the first colleges to use this measuring device. The test is now given four different times each year in a great many centers from coast to coast. The fee has been cut to $4. The Scholastic Aptitude Test gives the Admissions Office a picture of both the candidates verbal and mathematical ability. The verbal section measures language understanding, reading comprehension and vocabulary. At Brown the scores are used merely as supplementary information for all aptitude tests are incomplete in themselves.

As one would expect, more students will be entering from public schools during the war period. The percentages for the past few years are as follows:

Entered in	Public	Private
1935	63.1	36.9
1936	56.4	43.6
1937	53.2	46.8
1938	55.0	45.0
1939	49.3	50.7
1940	53.0	47.0
1941	55.5	44.5
1942	62.1	37.9

The war also brings about a change in the geographical distribution of the Freshmen. With fewer students from distant points, the Brown statistics will continue to show larger delegations from New England. This situation will become more striking as the war progresses, but it will be a temporary phase. Indeed, after the war there is a likelihood that faster methods of transportation will provide many universities with a wider geographical spread. The figures below represent the number of students entering from certain states or areas in recent years:

	'33	'34	'35	'36	'37	'38	'39	'40	'41	'42
Rhode Island	130	127	135	132	125	127	142	134	147	212
Massachusetts	86	84	87	77	83	92	91	88	99	100
Connecticut	30	30	25	22	24	20	28	29	28	31
Middle Atlantic	103	94	91	115	112	110	99	86	101	104
West and Southwest	30	24	32	34	43	42	34	24	39	29
South	5	4	8	8	6	8	6	9	7	11
Other New England	5	10	7	4	5	9	9	4	9	7
U. S. Possessions and Foreign	1	1		3	4	8	5	5	4

Except for Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the number entering from the various sections remains approximately the same. Illinois is one of the Midwestern states where the number held. More power to the Chicago alumni!

► This year there are 40 sons of alumni in the Freshman Class. Three of the above have a double interest in the University, for their mothers are Pembroke alumnae.

About one third of the Freshmen indicated that they were undecided as to their vocational preferences. It is strange that the number was not higher. Even youth seem to look upon the war as just one episode in their lives. There was an increase in those planning on careers in engineering, chemistry, chemical engineering and scientific research. The number headed for medicine (36) is normal, but the pre-law group numbers only 23, the smallest in several years. The list is varied covering such fields as accounting, advertising, art, aviation, banking, coaching, contracting, dentistry, diplomacy, forestry, geology, insurance, lumbering, manufacturing, merchandising, ministry, psychiatry, publishing, radio, teaching and the theater. Not one Freshman admits he is aiming at brokerage. For ten years only one student planned on a career in radio; this year the number is 8. Military service appeals to some boys as a life career; 24 have picked the Navy.

Time will tell whether or not we have presidential timber in this entering class. At least we have a lad named Calvin Coolidge. He was president of his Senior class and he lives on Garfield Road in the city of Cleveland. Curiously enough, when he arrived at Brown he found that his roommate had lived in Washington, had attended Landon School — and his name was Hoover.

► THE attitude of Freshmen toward the war is quite remarkable. They take it in stride and are much less concerned than are their parents. Most of them have already joined one of the reserve branches of the service and are now "on call," not by their draft boards but by the Army or Navy. They have enrolled in the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps, the Marine Reserve Corps, the V-1, U. S. Navy, Accredited College Program, the Army Air Corps Reserve and in V-5, Naval Aviation. A hundred Freshmen are in Naval R. O. T. C. at the University. Brown is one of 27 colleges and universities with Naval units. A few applicants enlisted for active service and postponed admission until after the war.

Every boy who is physically fit is planning on active service. The average age of the Freshmen at registration was 18, and nearly 90 per cent were 17½ or over. The Joint

► By Inheritance

Recruiting Board, representing the various branches of the service, have been on the campus and soon after their conferences with Freshmen, most of the boys raised their right hand and said, "I will." The Joint Board made a favorable impression on the students, and the unfortunate competition among the services, so troublesome a few months ago, has been ameliorated.

If one recalls the situation on the campus during the last war, he can appreciate our enthusiasm for the present system. Dr. Faunce commented on this confusion in his Report to the Corporation for October 1917. He wrote:

"When War was actually declared, the minds of our students were thrown into a ferment and the campus was seething with eager and intense desire for action. As patriotic addresses were made on our campus or near it, wave after wave of emotion swept over the students and a novel and difficult situation was created. Parents were telegraphing from distant cities begging us to hold back their sons from rash and thoughtless decisions, while recruiting officers were attempting each to show that his branch of military or naval service was more attractive and more valuable than any other."

In the last war the undergraduate enrollment was hard hit. There were 778 students at Brown on December 1, 1916; 609 on December 1, 1917; 485 in May 1918. In October 1918, it will be remembered, the S. A. T. C. and naval unit were organized, and students were sent to the universities at government expense. It was in June of 1917 that the Administration had appealed to alumni for help. A pamphlet entitled "A Call For Men and Money" pictured the gravity of the situation.

► COLLEGES will suffer even more this time, but those of us who love their work and their college know full well that more than ever, with our nation fighting for survival, the attention of the University must be fixed on service to the country. We expect a smaller entering class next year, and we expect that more and more of the undergraduates will withdraw for active service. As this article goes to press the number of withdrawals is increasing each week.

There is no hysteria on the campus. Students are taking their responsibilities in stride and still retain a sense of humor. A few years ago the old Physical Education Program became Student Recreation and was shortened to Student Rec. Now it is the Physical Fitness Program which the boys call Physical Rec. The same boys who, before the war, found satisfaction in attending pacifist meetings are now flying the bombers or planning to do their bit even though this may mean giving one's life. It is a great satisfaction at Brown to welcome these men in khaki and blue who return to the Hill while on leave. They add color to the old campus as they come back "to see the walls one loves when one is done with them."

It has been an exciting year. We greeted new faces and old, and we said many goodbyes. To William K. Selden, Assistant Dean, and to Emery R. Walker, Jr. '39, Admissions Officer, I give a salute. Both were actively engaged in admissions this year and both gave invaluable service. The three of us are proud of the Freshmen and we wish them a happy landing. ◀ ◀

YOUR MAGAZINE

It comes to you subject to delays which we regret and try to minimize to the best of our ability. The war has increased editorial, production and distribution problems.

►► FORTY Freshmen or eight per cent of the class are sons of Brown alumni, according to a survey made of undergraduates who have entered the University in June or October of this year. In addition four new transfer students also have fathers who attended Brown.

The classes of 1914, 1915, and 1919 have sent back the most sons to College Hill—four from each class. The oldest class represented is 1899 and the youngest 1926 although two alumni sons have fathers who received Master of Arts degrees with the class of 1927.

Two of the Freshmen have a distinctive Brown tradition behind them. They are Stephen S. Collins of Great Barrington, Mass., who can count nine Brown men among his relatives and Nathaniel Davis, of Hoboken, N. J., whose father and grandfather are graduates of Brown and former college professors. Young Davis is the son of Harvey N. Davis of the class of 1901, President of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J.

The roster of sons is as follows: Abbott, Charles F., Jr., son of Charles F. Abbott '20; Beachen, Samuel P., II, son of Albert E. Beachen '14; Blanchard, Edward P., Jr., son of Edward P. Blanchard '12; Brereton, Peirce H., Jr., son of Peirce H. Brereton '15; Brown, H. Donald, son of Harold P. Brown '09; Cate, Allen P., son of Arthur W. Cate '14; Collins, Stephen C., son of Sheldon C. Collins '12; Davidson, Donald J., son of David Davidson '04; Davis, Nathaniel, son of Harvey N. Davis '01; Farnham, Joseph H., Jr., son of Joseph H. Farnham '14; Foster, Harry C., Jr., son of Harry C. Foster '99; Gallison, Davis T., Jr., son of Davis T. Gallison '19; Haire, John R., Jr., son of John R. Haire '15; Kinne, Harold C., Jr., son of Harold C. Kinne '15; Knights, Edwin M., Jr., son of Edwin M. Knights '17; Koelb, Robert H., son of Ralph H. Koelb '21; Leach, Alden E., son of Albert E. Leach '09; Littlefield, Ivory, Jr., son of Ivory Littlefield '09; Lynch, C. A. Peter, son of Charles A. Lynch '27 (M.A.); McIntosh, Robert Alan, son of Harold S. C. McIntosh '10; McKay, James N. B., son of James R. McKay '11; MacNair, Hugh A. W., son of Hugh W. MacNair '17; Maryott, Alfred J., Jr., son of Alfred J. Maryott '08; Newman, Jeremy U., son of Rabbi Louis I. Newman '13; Nickerson, Robert A., son of Mark A. Nickerson '21; Parker, Gilbert R., son of Roy L. Parker '15; Peirce, James A., Jr., son of James A. Peirce '20; Philbrick, Richard C., son of Clarence H. Philbrick '13; Phillips, Milton A., son of Earle A. Phillips '19; Phinney, Roderick T., son of Harold T. Phinney '10; Reynolds, Robert C., son of Ernest S. Reynolds '07; Roberts, Hartley F., Jr., son of Hartley F. Roberts '19; Sawin, Moulton, son of Melvin E. Sawin '14; Shea, Joseph F., Jr., son of Joseph F. Shea '19; Tillinghast, John A., II, son of Frederick W. Tillinghast '02; Tuckerman, David A., son of Frank B. Tuckerman '17; von der Lieth, Robert T., son of John F. von der Lieth '12; Way, John D., son of Matthew W. Goring '26 (Step-father); White, Francis F., son of Francis G. White '20; Young, Howard S., Jr., son of Howard S. Young '08.

Transfers: Anthony, John W., son of Alfred W. Anthony '15; Corcoran, Joseph W., son of George B. Corcoran '06; Letts, Houghton, son of Ira Lloyd Letts '13; Myers, Gerald A., son of Harold W. Myers (M.A.) '27. ◀ ◀

Basketball Next

▶▶ THIRTY-ONE basketball games and eight swimming meets were announced last month for the winter sport season at Brown. Basketball, under the leadership of Coach Charles "Rip" Engle, former head coach at Western Maryland, will start on Dec. 9 with Varsity and Junior Varsity contests at Harvard. On the 18-game Varsity schedule, the home season will be featured by the visits of Columbia, Holy Cross, Yale, and the Harvard Naval Training School.

Of the swimming meets, only one will be a home attraction for Coach Leo Barry's squad, the final dual meet of the year, against Rutgers. Traditional rivals will be faced as Brown attempts a comeback from the 1941-42 season, an interruption in the series of successes under Coach Barry. The Florida trip is, of course, out this year.

The basketball squad was organized Nov. 23 and preliminary work began that week, although the coach, Captain George Delaney, Roy Swinger, and others had football commitments through Thanksgiving. Engle's coaching venture will be his biggest, but his year at Western Maryland was successful after previous experience at Waynesboro High in Pennsylvania and as an official. He also coached tennis through the summer season at Brown and has been popular with his charges. The schedules:

Varsity Basketball

Dec. 9, Harvard at Cambridge; 12, University of Connecticut at Storrs; 15, W. P. I.; 19, Columbia; Jan. 9, Naval Training School (Indoctrination and Communication) of Harvard University; 13, M. I. T. at Cambridge; 16, Holy Cross; 20, Yale; 23, Quonset Naval Air Station; Feb. 10, Dartmouth at Hanover; 13, Tufts; 18, Rhode Island at Kingston; 20, Amherst at Amherst; 24, Boston University; 27, Rutgers at New Brunswick; March 3, Rhode Island; 6, Tufts at Medford; 10, Providence College at Marvel Gymnasium; 13, Wesleyan.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Dec. 9, Harvard at Cambridge; 12, University of Connecticut at Storrs; Dec. 15, Dean Academy; Jan. 9, Davisville Naval Advance Base Depot; 13, M. I. T. at Cambridge; 23, Rhode Island College of Education at Marvel Gymnasium; Feb. 13, Tufts; 18, Rhode Island at Kingston; 24, Boston University; March 3, Rhode Island; 6, Tufts at Medford; 10, Providence College at Marvel Gymnasium.

Varsity Swimming

Jan. 9, Springfield at Springfield; 13, Harvard at Cambridge; 20, Yale at New Haven; Feb. 10, Army at West Point; 20, Williams at Williamstown; 27, U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London; March 6, Rutgers; 12 and 13, N. E. I. S. A. at M. I. T.

A Tribute to Dr. Phillips

▶ DEDICATION of the new chapter room of the Sigma Chi Fraternity at Brown to Dr. Robert Simmons Phillips '96 was the occasion for a buffet banquet and ceremonial at the Chapter house on Waterman St. the evening of Oct. 14. Dr. Phillips has for many years been outstanding in his devotion to the Beta Nu Chapter and has many close affiliations with the national fraternity.

The alumni delegation at the dedication was led by Province Praetor James M. Rooney and gave the chapter an evening of good fellowship: Stanley P. Whipple '20, Harvey A. Whipple '20, Edgar R. Loud '27, Leon W. Brower '16, Walter S. Reynolds '93, Arthur Braitsch '23, A. Russell Eason '25, Harvey S. Reynolds '23, Sydney M. Chisholm '26, Henry H. Macintosh '25, Fordyce R. Lozier '25, Charles E. Dickerson '03, and Stuart H. Tucker '22.

A Friend Lost ◀

"Not Merely Munificent"

▶ THE death, on Oct. 9, of former U. S. Senator Jesse H. Metcalf, Brown University Trustee and benefactor, prompted the following resolution by the Board of Directors of the Associated Alumni:

"The friends of Brown University are legion, but few have given such steadfast evidence of their friendship through the years as the Honorable Jesse Houghton Metcalf.

"It was not merely that he was munificent. Although his name will stand associated with important elements in the fabric of Brown, he also helped lay the cornerstone of structures spiritual and intellectual. Just as the vital Metcalf Laboratories were created from needs and blueprints of opportunity, so could he contribute his convictions, ideals and faith into the living, activating creed of the institution, both by initiative and by affirmation.

"Brown men are proud that the University conferred a degree upon him in 1921. He has been not merely an honorary but an honorable alumnus. He will be sorely missed from the company of Brown men."

JESSE HOUGHTON METCALF

Private and General ◀ ◀

▶ ▶ It was something we had not had time to do, and we were delighted when David Cameron of the Providence Journal offered to survey and summarize our War Service Records. He found 1600 cards for alumni of Brown University who are fighting in the ranks and as commissioned officers of their country's armed services. He wrote an excellent story, which appeared Nov. 22, and here are some of his findings:

Ratings and ranks of the "old grads" range from stoker to Captain in the Navy, from buck private to Brigadier General in the Army. There's a private from the Class of '20, and the name of a private and Colonel are side by side in the Class of '21 records.

According to the records made available at the Brown Alumni office, some 1120 alumni have commissions, preponderantly in the reserves of their particular service, or are training to be officers, but another 477 are non-coms or privates.

▶ BROWN men sail submarines, command harbor defense craft, fly combat planes, shoulder a gun or are "training to become a mess sergeant," in the words of one private. The proportion of "desk jobs" among them is not great. They are fighting, and the address of many is c/o the Postmaster, New York.

The picture as of yesterday — it changes daily — is 964 in the Army, 557 in the Navy, 38 in the fighting Marines, 39 in the U. S. Coast Guard and three in the merchant marine service.

The figures do not include graduates who are specialists in the service or men otherwise occupied in war work. Undergraduates are not included. Also excluded are men fighting for another of the United Nations, like John H. Leavitt '39, with the RAF, or Francis A. McLellan '35, sergeant pilot with the RCAF, Middle East Command, or John H. Striebel, Jr. '39, pilot officer of the RCAF, also overseas.

Again the ALUMNI MONTHLY is able to publish, through the co-operation of Mrs. Dorothy Miller and Mrs. Jeanne Ferguson of the Division of War Service Records, a roster containing the names of alumni of Brown University who are in the armed forces. This list is not intended to be complete, only a supplement to that published in the July issue of the MONTHLY. It contains only names not there included or names about which later information has been made available.

As before, we invite notice about omissions or data out of date. The Alumni Office also seeks additional information intended only for its files, for we will not publish anything contrary to censorship regulations. You will understand why much interesting and even startling material is withheld. IN CASES WHERE A COMPLETE MILITARY ADDRESS IS NOT GIVEN HERE, THE ALUMNI OFFICE IS PREPARED AND GLAD TO FORWARD MAIL TO BROWN MEN IN SERVICE.

May we note that this month's roster embraces only active military service. It does not include students in uniform on the campus in the Naval ROTC or in any other Reserve category. It does not include Faculty and alumni in high civilian posts in the war enterprise, research men, industrialists, laborers, Government officers, civilian defense personnel, etc., although the Alumni Office wants such data here. The listing bears the date of November 15, 1942.

Please bear with us on a matter of editorial oversight. Our typist did not realize that the United States Army and the Army of the United States are two very different things. Consequently the designation "AUS" appears after many a member of the Regular Army, National Guard or Reserve who should have been credited to the "USA". Rather than go to the expense in this temporary roster of ordering the corrections, we have let the type stand. Please excuse us and be assured that any final compilation will not be thus in error.

Back East of Farewell

► "Make way, bookworms and all others who know a good book when they read it, for Ensign Howard Hunt, USNR, author of 'East of Farewell' (Knopf)—a sturdy sinewy story of the officers and men of an American destroyer in the North Atlantic." Thus a reviewer of the San Francisco Call Bulletin hails the new novel by Howard Hunt '40, described in the November issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY. Many reviews, nearly every one of them laudatory, have come from the clipping bureau, and special writers have been talking with Hunt and finding him good copy.

Frederick Woltman, New York World Telegram staff writer, revealed that Hunt's destroyer was on "ready duty" when President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at sea in August, 1941, and that Hunt, who wrote his story while he was in naval hospital, "hopes by January for an assignment teaching anti-submarine warfare at a Navy training school."

Hunt, with an honorable discharge from the Navy, has been working of late for the cinema March of Time, appeared on some Navy broadcasts, and on Dec. 3 was to talk at Brown chapel. The undergraduates had voted his book their top current work of fiction, just as they loyally voted Quent Reynolds best in the non-fiction field. ◀

"Things Seem to Be Moving"

►► "They are flying our pants off right now, and things seem to be moving around on the ground up at the front," wrote Lt. W. Birkett Williams '42 from "somewhere in Egypt" on Nov. 4. "They ought to be moving if they aren't—they are bombed day and night, and I don't see how they can take much more of it. And we go down and shoot them up every once in a while to keep them jumping. In that way, they don't have to worry about exercise.

"The desert isn't too bad, but then again it isn't the best place to be. We can get American beer in cans at 35 cents per can and cigarettes for about 24 cents per pack, which helps brighten things up. Outside of the sand and flies and heat it doesn't bother me so I guess if I don't get shot down I'll be O. K. Every once in a while an M. E. 109 hits something, and they leave the damnedest looking holes in your airplane. Keep your fingers crossed."

Bill Williams was writing Andrew B. Cramstock '10 after he had received a news bulletin prepared by the Rhode Island Alumni of Phi Kappa Psi. The bulletin was mimeographed and mailed to all the men of the Brown chapter known to be in service. So many letters of appreciation were received that the alumni will continue publication in alternate months for the duration.

P. S. Things certainly did "move around" in Africa.

► Of every five Brown men in the Navy, two are ensigns. There are 220 ensigns, 17 of them flying for the Navy. There are seven commanders, 30 lieutenant-commanders, 66 lieutenants, including eight in the aviation branch, and 103 junior grade lieutenants, of whom 11 are fliers.

Another 58 are learning to fly for the Navy, and 20 others are attending school to be officers, or are now midshipmen. Enlisted men number 44 and there is at least one "Sea-Bee" in the Navy construction battalion.

On the other hand, four of every nine Brown men in the Army are privates or non-commissioned officers. Most of the 267 privates, including 52 in the Air Force which is a favorite of the relatively older graduates, are attending technical schools which will lead to ratings and possibly commissions.

Some tough "top sergeants" are among the Brown men, the non-commissioned officers numbering 135, including 33 in the Air Force.

Then there are 275 first and second lieutenants, 74 with wings; 90 captains, 14 of them in the Air Corps; 46 majors, four in the Air Corps; 30 lieutenant colonels, one in the air branch, and 19 full colonels, one in the air service.

► WHILE some of the enlisted men learn to become tank drivers, 20 others, paratroopers or mess sergeants, 20 other Brown men are at officer training schools, 74 are aviation cadets, and three are training to be glider pilots.

The U. S. Marine Corps appealed to Ernest T. Savignano, '42, captain of the Brown football team a year ago, and 37 other Brown men. Savignano was last reported as a second lieutenant, a rank held by 10 other graduates. There are nine enlisted men, three first lieutenants, and a similar number of captains and majors among Brown men-marines. Four are training to fly for the Marines, four others are candidates for commissions, and one is assistant surgeon.

Eleven Brown men are ensigns in the U. S. Coast Guard, but they are outnumbered by 16 graduates who are enlisted men. Two are lieutenants. Training to be officers, most at the Coast Guard Academy at New London, are nine, while one is an aviation cadet.

Of the three Brown men in the merchant marine, one is a cadet and the two others are seamen.

The earliest class contributing to the nation's fighting strength is the Class of 1899. It is represented by Gordon D. Hale, commanding officer of the Parris Island, S. C., Navy medical base.

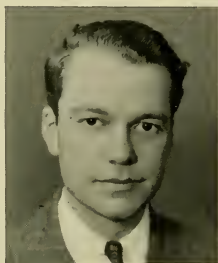

The Alumni Office has been using the figure 2000 for the number of Brown men believed in service. The discrepancy between this and Mr. Cameron's total of 1600 can be accounted for by the number of men known or believed to be in service but about whom information is incomplete. ♦ ♦

Brand of the Boise

► DAN BRAND was aboard the battle-scarred light cruiser Boise when she arrived at Mare Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, last month with the silhouettes of six Japanese war vessels she had accounted for in Southwest Pacific battles painted on her main forward turret. Lt. Daniel J. Brand '40 of Woodmere, N. Y., varsity golfer and sports editor of the Brown Daily Herald in 1939-40, joined the Navy as soon as he was graduated, won his commission in November, 1940, and immediate assignment to the Boise.

He was with the ship at Pearl Harbor and thereafter, and came through her memorable fight with a superior enemy force safe and sound. But he did lose most of his clothing when his cabin was a casualty. Hitchhiking from Philadelphia to his home in his tropical uniform, he told his parents and his neighbors all about the big battle and then made a bee line to a New York shop to buy a warm uniform and a whole new wardrobe to ready for his next adventure.

His golf clubs are in storage until the war is over. ◀

Heading Boston's Drive

▶ ROYAL W. LEITH '12, former president of the Associated Alumni and Boston investment banker, will be chairman of the metropolitan division of the Red Cross War Fund drive to be held in Massachusetts next March. The Red Cross, as National Chairman Norman H. Davis announced some time ago, will conduct its 1943 campaign independently of all other service groups. Leith, active participant in many similar drives, local and national, is a member of the Victory Fund Committee for the First Federal Reserve District, a director of the Dedham Federation (he lives in Dedham), and treasurer of the Dedham Community Association.

Football and Battle

► MAJ. EDGAR J. (SPIKE) STAFF'S comment that "football is good for soldiers" made at Camp Edwards, Mass., has gone over a large part of the country, if clippings are any judge. "Football has physical contacts is a major feature, and the grid game teaches many things to soldiers. Football and battle have much in common." INS quoted him. Spike (Brown 1915) is director of the laboratory staff at Camp Edwards Station Hospital. He joined the Navy in the First World War, and later transferred to the Army. ◀

He Won the D. F. C.

► BROWN men are waiting eagerly for the story of how Lt. (jg) Kenneth W. White '39 won the Distinguished Flying Cross. Beyond the announcement that the award had been made for action in the Pacific, the Navy has given no details, but White's parents in Diamond Hill, R. I., learned of the honor in a letter from him dated Oct. 18. He is a six-foot pilot of a dive bomber, known to have been attached to a carrier.

White enlisted in the Naval Reserve in September, 1940, was commissioned an ensign pilot at Pensacola the following May. He served as a dive bomber in the Carolina maneuvers last year and was assigned to carrier work in January. With his promotion in June, he was made leader of an element of three dive bombers.

"He told me that our country had a job to do," his father said last month. "And if it took all his courage he was going to do his part." ◀

► "EXILED away out here in west Texas" getting a huge new bombardier school under way, 1st Lt. Stewart M. Wright '26, Post Intelligence Officer, wrote to the B.C.A. last month:

"For the first time since college, I met up with Pat Sayward '25 when he appeared at Kelly Field in one of the classes of the Officers' Training School that it fell to my lot to rack. He is now Assistant Adjutant of Kelly Field. He's doing a fine job there."

Curtain Call for Football ◀ ◀

► A COURAGEOUS comeback that just missed its reward was the Brown feature of a Thanksgiving Day game that finished Varsity football for 1942. Colgate's 13-0 triumph meant a four-four split of the season for the Bear with victories over Rhode Island, Columbia, Lafayette, and Holy Cross to offset losses to Princeton, Yale, Harvard and the Red Raiders.

Colgate had five chances to score against Brown, and it looked for a time as though some dogged defensive stands would provide the only comfort to the home team's supporters. But the conversion attempt had missed after the visitors' early touchdown, and six points didn't seem out of reach. In the second half, the Brunonian offense really started to roll, with a sustained advance that culminated in a completed pass into the end zone to Freshman Halfback Tiedeman. The argument over this play hasn't subsided yet, for many a partisan thought the pass was good, but the official ruled that it had been caught out of bounds.

Speculation ran along these lines: with the touchdown allowed, the sure-footed Pattee would certainly have given Brown the 7-6 lead, and that would have given the psychological lift to a weary eleven and sustained it for the rest of the game. As it was, Colgate added another score in the closing seconds against a group of late substitutions. Few contested that Colgate had been the superior team and was entitled to win, as things stood, but the comeback might have been as gallant as that in the thrilling 20-14 upsurge against Holy Cross, a team that was gaining the strength that amazed the football world in the eventual trouncing of Boston College.

It had been a season with its heights and its disappointing slumps. Injuries that interfered with practice as well as injuries that kept first-string men out of line-ups, an energy-sapping epidemic of gripe, increased academic pressure, war concerns, and other reasons may be assigned for failures. It was a team without a captain, by its own decision; did that hurt it? The team was good when it was "up", ineffective when it was "down". A potent and brilliant offense gained ground when the spirit and co-ordination were there; a porous pass defense, though finally patched, made the going harder in two games where the attack was uncertain.

But surely a season that produces spectacular and resolute play like that in the games against Columbia and Holy Cross, where Brown came from behind to win, had its satisfaction. "If" an official hadn't blocked the Brown safety man on Harvard's only touchdown run and "if" Tiedeman's "touchdown" had been deemed legal against Colgate, the year would have been accepted as good without hesitation. We're inclined, all in all, to take off our hats to the coaches and men of the 1942 squad. It wasn't the season we'd hoped it might be, but it was one productive of its thrills, good play, and its pride.

► A VARSITY football schedule has been announced for 1943: Oct. 2—Holy Cross at Worcester; Oct. 9—Springfield at Providence; Oct. 16—Permanently open; Oct. 23—Rhode Island at Providence; Oct. 30—Princeton at Princeton; Nov. 6—Yale at New Haven; Nov. 13—Harvard at Cambridge; Nov. 20—Open; Nov. 25—Colgate at Providence.

In the Mail

Dear Sir:

In the October issue, you had an impressive roster of Brown men whose companies had "earned their E" for notable industrial work in the war effort. In the last paragraph of the article, you said you "would like to know of other instances where alumni have been instrumental in maintaining their companies' war work at a level so high as to gain similar recognition."

There was one conspicuous omission to which I would like to call your attention. The Anaconda Wire & Cable Company was presented with a Navy "E" for two of its plants last June. For that achievement, my classmate W. E. Sprackling deserves high credit, and his name should appear on your roll of honor.

Dear Sir:

It has occurred to me that the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY is doing such an effective job that I might drop you a congratulatory note.

I think you produce one of the most interesting alumni magazines in the country. It has considerably more sparkle than most of its contemporaries.

Editor:

This letter is prompted by the favor of receiving from Alma Mater a copy of Another Lost Generation?

As I have read, and mused over, this brilliantly conceived and graphically phrased oration, I am disposed to offer, as I see the matter, a supplementary and needed item.

If the problem of peace is left till the young men "return from the war," it will be too late to secure what all good men and women desire. Since "It is for affirmative reasons we fight for a durable peace," it is urgent that those affirmations begin now in the form of peace ideas and plans, coincident with the war, and laying foundations on which, as the battles end, the peace we desire may be established. In other words, without relaxing suitable efforts for the war, we must begin to prepare now for the peace we want. If we do not, if the organization of peace is left till the close of the war, this organization will be in the control, naturally, of those who are prosecuting the war, those of a military mind primarily, and those who understand how to arrange for a durable peace will not have much to say about the peace which is made. That promises all too well to load us with another Versailles, a world burden which even most militarists recognize, while they are incapable of avoiding its repetition. The opportunity, and the privilege, of all who are eager for real peace is to plan now and continuously in such ways as to be ready to present, and to impress on those who write the peace, the ideas, and the forms of organization without which the peace which is written will be an illusion.

Degrees in October

► DEGREES conferred at the October Convocation included five Bachelor of Arts from the College, three from Pembroke, 14 Masters' degrees and four Ph. D.'s. Alumni who received advanced degrees from the Graduate School were: Edward S. Finburg '40, in economics; Max H. Flaxman '34, in education and biology; Albert W. Low '36, in Greek and Latin classics; John T. McQuaid '17, in education and French. Other colleges represented by the advanced degree recipients were: Hastings College, Hunter College, Rhode Island College of Education, Park College, University of Dubuque, Wheaton College (Illinois), University of New Hampshire, Union College, University of Rochester, University of Washington, Wellesley College, and Harvard University.

Education's Function

► THE Independent School Bulletin, published by the Secondary Education Board, presented to its readers recently a sizeable excerpt from an address to Freshmen by Vice-President James P. Adams of Brown. The address, "The Function of an Education," was reprinted from the ALUMNI MONTHLY.

Oregon

► RALPH FORBIS regrettably informs the Alumni Office that the Brown Club of Oregon has disbanded for the duration of the war because "calls for military and defense services have seriously reduced our membership ranks."

Dr. Bertram H. Buxton, Chief of Staff, Providence Lying-In Hospital, blossomed as a book reviewer with the leading review on the book page of the Providence Sunday Journal of Nov. 15. He wrote of "Safe Deliverance," by his friend and associate, Frederick C. Irving, M.D., Chief of Staff, Boston Lying-In Hospital. He recommended it to both physicians and lay, saying that "the book is written in such a manner that those who have become acquainted with the facts of life can comprehend it."

Glenn W. Woodin sets down the military assignments of the young Woodins thus: William G. Woodin, Captain, MC, USA; Byron R. Woodin, Ensign, USNR, Boston; and adds that "our younger daughter is a Freshman at Cornell and our son-in-law, Theodore Lytle, is Lt. (jg), MC, USN." Glenn, who is practising law in Dunkirk, N. Y., admits "it gets lonesome at times."

Dr. Theodore C. Hascall is reported to be sitting up at his home, 44 Lincoln Ave., Riverside, R. I., and to have followed the football games all fall on his radio.

New mail address for Harry S. Harding in Albany, N. Y., is 205 Ontario St.

William A. Spicer's son, Pvt. William A. Spicer, 3rd, USA, has been (or is) somewhere in England with the American troops. Young Bill is Brown '42.

Associate Justice Allyn L. Brown of the Connecticut Supreme Court is on full duty again. We hear, his eye troubles having cleared up.

Rev. C. Raymond Chappell, General Secretary of the United Baptist Convention of New Hampshire since 1935, has 139 churches with a membership of 14,000 under his care. His son is in the U. S. Army, and his daughter is working for Electric Boat Co., submarine builders, in Groton, Conn.

Preston S. Moulton's son, Preston S. Moulton, Jr., is 2nd Lt., Interceptor Force, on duty at the First Army Air Base, Jacksonville, Fla. Our classmate is an Air Raid Warden and on the Gas Rationing Board, Schenectady, N. Y.

Stephen E. Wright reports his new address to be 259 Central St., Auburndale, Mass.

Ira Leston Nickerson's older son, Harold D. Nickerson, is a Corporal at Camp Shelby, Miss., and Les writes his application is on file for officer training in Medical Administration. "My other son, I. L. Nickerson, Jr., was 19 last July and will probably be in uniform in the not distant future. He is a Sophomore at Grove City College, Grove City, Pa." Les also told us.

H. W. (Spec) Paine's younger son, Harold W. (Bill) Paine, Jr., '41, is a naval aviator; Henry E. Hallborg's son, Dr. Robert B. Hallborg '37, is in the Navy Medical Corps; and Arthur W. Bushell's son, Hugh G. Bushell '39, is in a medical unit down South. Herbert L. Dorrance's son Jack left Brown (he was in the Class of '44) to join the Army, and Leon F. Payne's son, Leon

M. Payne '36, went from his lawyer's office into the Army Air Forces. George Hurley, Jr., '41, is a private in the Army; so is Myron H. S. Allick's boy Bill. Besides the ones mentioned here, the list of '07's sons in the armed services—and not a complete list, if you please—would include the names of Briggs, Brooks, Brown, Elrod, Grover, McEvoy, Mowry, Oman, Reynolds, Schwartz, Sinclair, Slade, Steere, White.

Claude R. Branch is at his home on Jacobs Hill, Seekonk, Mass., recuperating from the accident that sent him to hospital in mid-October. He's still wearing a plaster cast which, he admits, gives him more of a chesty look than really befits one of his modest bearing.

George Campbell reports a change of home address to 800 West Ferry St., Buffalo, N. Y. George is General Electric's right hand man in Buffalo.

Your Secretary records with regret the death of Arthur Chester Snow in Providence, Nov. 10, 1942, and extends to Mrs. Snow and her daughters the sympathy of the Class. An account of our classmate's career will appear in a later issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY.

Miss Phoebe Barber Burnham, daughter of Walter H. Burnham and Mrs. Burnham, was married in St. John's Episcopal Church, Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 17, 1942, to 2nd Lt. Ewart John White, Jr., USA. Walter gave his daughter in marriage, and Miss Margaret L. Burnham was maid of honor for her sister. Mrs. White's grandparents, Walter W. Burnham '83 and Mrs. Burnham, were present at the wedding. Lt. White, graduate of Princeton, is stationed at Ft. Still, Okla.

A recent paragraph in a Lynn, Mass., newspaper said that Homer B. Hunt had become a grandfather. His grandson is Daniel H. Hunt, son of Richard W. Hunt, who is process engineer with Utah Ordnance Co., Salt Lake City. Homer has been with General Electric Co., Lynn, since he left Brown.

Carl J. Hunkins, head of the Science Dept., Weequahic High School, Newark, N. J., is doing his bit in the war as a first aid instructor and radio instructor.

Dr. Moses L. Crossley, director of research for Calco Chemical Co., subsidiary of American Cyanamid Corp., has been nominated as a councillor at large of the American Chemical Society for 1943.

E. L. Chander, projects engineer for Ches. T. Main, Inc., builder of the new shipyard of Dravo Corp., Wilmington, Del., told us in a letter last month that "four ships are in process of construction on the new ways at this time. . . . The project is 85 per cent completed. . . . When I came here in the middle of April, we had a blooming swamp to look at. . . . So perhaps we haven't done too badly." Tink's boy is at the University of Tennessee, hoping to finish up this quarter. "He tried to volunteer in every branch of the service a year or so ago, but was turned down," his father ended.

Here's the story of W. C. Oakes's boys—William R. Oakes '36 is Lt. MC, USA, and R. C. Oakes, Cornell '40, is Ensign, USNR. "No news of myself," Bill modestly added in a note from the Oakes home in Arlington, N. J.

Hudson C. Burr has been elected trustee of Christian Science Publishing Society of Boston, publisher of The Christian Science Monitor. Burr joined the advertising staff of the Monitor in 1926, and two years later became manager of national advertising. In 1939, under the will of Mary Baker Eddy, he took over as publisher's agent, a place he held when he was chosen trustee.

Capt. Wiley H. Marble, USA, has been going through his paces at Columbus QM Depot, Columbus, O., where he is a member of Engineer Supply School. "The work is good, but they keep you very busy," he said in a letter. "No time to feel sorry for yourself or any one else." He said he was all set to see the Ohio State-Michigan football game, his first since reporting to Columbus. "These State colleges out here sure breed big babies in suits," he ended significantly.

Henry G. Marsh, running for Providence City Council in the First Ward on the Republican ticket, made a brave but losing fight in the November election. Heinie has some consolation in the knowledge that only four Republicans made the grade in the Council of 26.

Ernest I. Kilcup, president and treasurer of Davul Robber Co., told his auditors at the annual New England Conference of Credit Men in Providence in late October that "we have not yet begun to sacrifice," and urged all of them to prepare for their parts in grappling with wartime's changing conditions. He made particular note that "the health of workers, with the lessening of medical service to the public, will be a matter in which business will have to make provision in conserving manpower."

H. R. Redington is in his 13th year with National Tube Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. "Three boys in the draft: fourth boy starting this fall at Mercersburg Academy," he wrote during the fall. His office is at 1720 Frick Bldg., Pittsburgh, and he is giving a lot of his time as chairman and member of various technical committees.

It's Capt. George T. Paine, USN, George having been promoted to that high rank last month. He is at the Boston Navy Yard where he is specialist in hull construction and ship repair. His son is Midshipman Thomas O. Paine (Brown '42), now a student at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis.

William C. Croluis, Jr., and Mrs. Croluis announced early in November the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marguerite Fairfax Croluis, to Lt. (jg) Robert W. Shepard, aviator, USNR. Miss Croluis, graduate of Wellesley College, is a member of the Junior League of the Oranges (New Jersey). Lt. Shepard is a graduate of Northwestern University.

Navy, as field supervisor and engineer. Then he served as special agent for New York State, went to Hartford in 1935 as executive special agent, and became assistant superintendent and executive assistant in the Underwriting Dept. before stepping up to his present post.

Your Secretary records with regret the death of Edward James Walsh at his home, 114 Waverly Place, Newark, N. J., Nov. 5, 1942, and extends to his wife the sympathy of the Class. Our classmate, who spent years in South America and Belgium as telephone controller (he was still in Brussels when the Nazis arrived), was with Federal Telephone & Radio Corp. at the time of his death.

Lt. Comdr. Charles J. Fish, USNR, has been with the Bureau of Underwater Ordnance in Washington. Charlie left Rhode Island State College early in the fall to accept commission as Lieutenant. Mrs. Fish is now instructor in zoology at Kingston. Charlie was head of that department before joining the Navy. Oct. 1 he was assigned to the staff of the Vice-Chief of Naval Operations.

Research Contractor

► PRESIDENT HARVEY N. DAVIS '01 of Stevens Institute of Technology is head of the new Office of Production Research and Development set up last month within the WPB at Washington. The New York Times said "Except for contracts connected with the rubber program . . . the new agency will make all WPB contracts for research and development work to be done by other governmental agencies, colleges and universities, commercial laboratories and corporations and others." Davis, the Times went on, will "serve as technical adviser to the Chairman (Nelson) on engineering and scientific matters. It is his general responsibility to initiate such technical evaluation, research and development work as will in his judgment advance the war program."

In its last war service roster, the MONTHLY erringly promoted William T. Brightman, Jr., to Major and assigned him to active duty in the Army. He is still with the What Cheer Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Providence as Assistant Vice-President and Engineer.

Kenneth P. Sheldon's father, Hurlon D. Sheldon, evangelist and former associate general secretary of the Evangelistic Committee of New York, died at his home in Minoa, L. I., Oct. 27. Another son is James H. Sheldon '25, varsity football captain in 1924. Mr. Sheldon, Sr., graduate of Hamilton College and Auburn Theological Seminary, was entitled to use "The Rev. Dr." before his name, but always insisted on being known as Mr. Sheldon. In earlier years he was an associate of Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, noted evangelist at the turn of the century. In recent years he had held open air meetings "almost weekly in the financial section at Broad and Beaver Streets, New York," a special despatch to the New York Herald Tribune said.

Bob Adams is working for Lawley's Shupard in Neponset, Mass., as an assistant foreman according to roundabout information.

Jack Joslyn is making his first appeal for the Class of 1923 Endowment Fund for Brown University. Because it is our 20th anniversary year, he hopes to get contributions far in excess of the amount needed for the insurance premium. His address is 44 Vernon St., Springfield, Mass.

Capt. Harold Hassell, CMP, USA, is stationed at Camp Upton, N. Y., where his duties vary from "purely military police ones to those involving accounting." In a recent note he said, "I have held a commission in the ORC since my Brown days, my branch being Field Artillery." But when he was ordered to report last May, he was transferred to CMP without being consulted.

Capt. Robert J. Lloyd, USA, has been serving on the Army and Navy Munitions Board, Washington, and living at 3907 North Pershing Drive, Arlington, Va. "Working hard getting the stuff on the stockpile and may get a chance to shoot some of it off later on," Bob wrote.

Jay Sandness Redding's book "No Day of Triumph" was highly praised by Lewis Gannett in the New York Herald Tribune of Nov. 5. "Some of the stories Mr. Redding tells," Mr. Gannett wrote, "make your hair stand on end; some are sheer rollicking laughter; some are raw life; all are brilliant reports on an all but unknown America. . . . His book is no report of statistical progress; it is a unique discovery of the emotion of freedom, the living, growing taproot of the eccentric organism we call democracy." Redding's book is the result of a wandering trip through the South, made at the request of the University of North Carolina.

Iron Man's Proteges

► STANDING proudly among the unbeaten and untied football elevens of the country at the close of the 1942 season was Haverford, coached by Roy (Red) Randall '28, former Iron Man and Brown captain. Haverford played seven games, beginning with Allegheny and ending with its great rival, Swarthmore. Randall's men beat Swarthmore 14-13 in a thriller. They made one visit to New England, trouncing Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn., 33-21 in a grand, free-scoring game.

Their total number of points was 177 and they gave up 54 points to opponents, none of whom except Swarthmore was even close as the final whistle sounded. Sixteen years, then, has the energetic, keen-minded Red Randall patiently worked and wiled to be again with an unbeaten eleven.

A good letter from Bob Uhl brings us up to date on him. He entered the Army of the United States Sept. 26 with the rank of Captain, having been a civilian employee of the War Department in Washington for two months previous as an Expert Consultant. Before that, he'd been in the Seventh Regiment, New York Guard, and has been a member of the National Rifle Association for many years as well as several rifle, pistol, trap and skeet shooting clubs. Before the war, he successfully completed the Army's Small Arms Firing School for instructors at Camp Perry, O., in both the rifle and pistol sections, in addition to attending the Marine Corps Instructors School at Quantico. In matches after this last school, he collected four medals. Although hoping for a transfer to field duty, he is assigned for the moment to duty at Washington headquarters of Services of Supply. "I'd give my right arm to be with my brother," he writes, "who's now in England with the AEF."

Dine and Sleep

► SLEEP that knits up the raveled sleeve of care, or however Shakespeare may have said it, is the all-absorbing hobby of Norman Dine '23. (And he makes it pay, too.) "The public sandman at Lewis and Congers," Lucius Beebe called him in his column "This New York" in the New York Herald Tribune, and reported: "Mr. Dine made a recent issue of The Saturday Evening Post with an illustrated article on sleep and how to woo it. It was an essay on sybaritic somnolence: beds seven feet wide, electric mattresses, patent reading and lighting fixtures and such." Mr. Dine, lunching at the near-by Algonquin, was congratulated by Frank Case, "You're famous now," said the hotelier. "You're known from pillow to 'Post'!"

Stan Johnson is out of publishing and into the Army Air Corps. He's "some sort of specialist" at Atlantic City for training.

John A. Miller, Jr., with the class one year at Brown, is now an Army Air Cadet. Previously he had been a special investigator for the Rhode Island Attorney General's Department and a State Policeman.

Norbert Aubuchon tells his story: "I was an ensign in the Supply Corps but I recently resigned my commission to become an Aviation Cadet. In June '43, I'll be an ensign again." He's at the Navy Pre-Flight School, Athens, Ga. Before the war he was a newspaper reporter and in the steamship business. "To be more explicit," he adds, "I was attached to a ship in the Atlantic Fleet for the better part of a year as a Supply Officer. It was very interesting work and, at times, very exciting. However, I saw the opportunity to become an aviator, even though it was necessary to give up my commission for the time being."

Peter Klein entered North Carolina Pre-Flight School as an Aviation Cadet 10 days after graduation at Brown. He's now at the Dallas USNR Aviation Base. Another Aviation Cadet, USNR, Arthur Di Prete, is at Corpus Christi, also in Texas.

Howard Renfrew (his brother Ed was Brown '39) has come up the ladder in the Naval Reserve since graduation, first as Apprentice Seaman, then as Midshipman, and now as Ensign.

Those We Mourn

CHARLES PATTISON BENNETT, A.B., who died in Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 2, 1942, was for many years one of Brown's outstanding alumni in the Rocky Mountain area. His father, Edward A. Bennett, was Brown 1836; his brother, Rev. Dr. Albert A. Bennett, won his bachelor's degree in 1872; and his son, the late Gerald W. Bennett made a name for himself at Brown in the Class of 1924 after having been in the U. S. Navy during the First World War.

Baptist minister, real estate and insurance authority, and public citizen—so Charles P. Bennett's citation would read. When Bennett left Brown he entered Newton Theological Institution, received his diploma in June, 1882, and after ordination as Baptist minister in September of that year became pastor of the First Baptist Church of Shapleigh, Me. He also held a pastorate in Limerock, Me., and served as principal of Shapleigh High School before giving up the ministry and teaching to go to Colorado Springs to start afresh as business man.

In Colorado Springs he was president of Bennett-Shellenberger Realty Co., real estate, loans, and insurance. He was a member of Colorado Springs City Council from 1927 to 1931. He served as president of the city's Chamber of Commerce, Real Estate Board, and of the Association of Real Estate Boards. He pioneered in 1923 as chairman of Colorado Springs' Community Chest, and was also a leader of the Education Committee, Chamber of Commerce. He belonged to the Rocky Mountain Brown Club, and was once candidate for Alumni Trustee.

Bennett, approaching his 92nd birthday, was born in Philadelphia, Jan. 22, 1851, the son of Edward A. and Judith (Mustin) Bennett. He was married three times. His children, Gerald W. Bennett '24 and Margaret B. Bennett, were by his second wife, the former May Francis, whom he married April 4, 1896. His third marriage took place Aug. 23, 1917, to Anne Willard Finn.

NATHAN MANCHESTER WRIGHT, A.B., lawyer and judge, born Foster, R. I., Feb. 14, 1867, the son of Albert H. and Mary C. (Mathewson) Wright; died at his home in Nayatt, Aug. 25, 1942. Powerful in Rhode Island Republican politics for years, he was the last of the "Old Guard" which dominated the State from the end of the Civil War to the coming of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Recognized leader of the 'country towns', he was loved and respected by his country friends who looked to him for leadership in party affairs," the Providence Journal news story said. In 1941 Judge Wright contributed a well-written series of articles to the Journal under the title "Nathan Wright Tells His Story," and therein gave incidents of his political career, sketched in the background of State politics, and described parts played by the big politicians such as Gen. Charles R. Brayton, the "Blind Boss," U. S. Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, and others.

He began his political career as a page in the State Senate when he was 13 years old. After graduation from Brown, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, he was Superintendent of Schools of Johnston, private secretary to the Editor of the Providence Journal, lawyer, Secretary-Treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee, Justice of the Providence Police Court, and Clerk and Associate Justice of the Sixth District Court. He was also a one-time member of the Providence City Council. In 1940 he resigned as Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee and as a member of that committee from Providence.

His membership in patriotic societies and fraternal bodies was extensive. He was high in Masonry and in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which he was Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge. He also belonged to Rhode Island Society, S.A.R., the Sunset Club of Providence, the Barnard Club, and Phi Delta Theta.

On Nov. 27, 1889, he married Mary Elizabeth Page of Providence, who died in September, 1927, leaving two sons, Nathan M. Wright, Jr. '14 and Harold P. Wright '18, and two daughters, Mrs. Harold R. Shuppee and Mrs. Stanley W. Burlingame, wife of Stanley W. Burlingame '19. His second marriage took place Oct. 14, 1928, to Mrs. George T. Reynolds of Nayatt, who survives, with the sons and daughters by his first wife, and a sister, Nora G. Wright of Foster.

JAMES HENRY CONNOLLY, Sc. B., who died in Providence, July 5, 1942, after a long illness, had been teacher, engineer, inventor, and executive in the years since he left Brown with his bachelor's degree in electrical engineering. From 1921 until his death he was treasurer and general manager of Standard Machine Co., Auburn.

Born in North Attleboro, Mass., Sept. 14, 1883, the son of Terence and Catherine (Hayden) Connolly, his first ambition was to teach. But when he was graduated from Brown he decided that practical experience was desirable, and for the next three years he devoted himself to machine and tool design. Then he became instructor in machine design at the School of Science and Technology, Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y. He studied mechanical engineering at Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn for a year, and in 1912 returned to Rhode Island as mechanical engineer with Taft-Pierce Mfg. Co., Woonsocket.

Resigning as assistant superintendent of Taft-Pierce in 1914, he taught mechanical engineering at Brown in 1914-15. During the next three years—the First World War period—he was process engineer with Remington Arms & Ammunition Co., Bridgeport, Conn. Then he served as Vice-President and Production Manager of N. C. L. Engineering Corp. before going to Standard Machine Co. His chief invention

An Ideal Christmas Gift for Sailors --- Sea Scouts --- Girl Mariners

was a windlass for balloons which the U. S. Navy took over.

An organizer of the American Society for Metals, he served as the Society's President. He also belonged to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society of Automotive Engineers, Providence Engineering Society, Knights of Columbus, Holy Name Society of the Church of the Holy Name, and to several civic and social clubs. His fraternity was Phi Kappa.

On June 29, 1925, he married Alice K. Foley, who died in 1930. Surviving are a son, James H. Connolly, Jr., two sisters, and a brother, Rev. Terence L. Connolly, S. J., of the Boston College Faculty.

► SMITH OLIVER STEERE, C. E., highway engineer, born Scranton, Ia., Nov. 28, 1880, the son of Nathaniel M. and Deborah Ann (Martin) Steere; died at his home in Hornell, N. J., Sept. 13, 1942. For many years on the engineering staff of the New York State Department of Public Works, he had also worked for the U. S. Geological and Reclamation Service and the Pennsylvania Railroad, and had been President of Portville Construction Co., Hornell.

On his father's side his family descended from John Steere, who settled in Gloucester, R. I., in 1650. In college he was "Cap" Steere, a quiet, studious chap whose classmates and friends were aware of his ability and his determination to do well. From college he went to Minidoka, Idaho, as engineering aid with the U. S. Geological and Reclamation Service. After brief periods of duty with Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York State Barge Canal, he became a civil engineer with the New York State Department of Public Works. He built the first strip of macadam road in Chautauque County, and carried out many other highway projects in Northern New York. In 1917-18 he was chief engineer and superintendent of construction of the Trinity River roads in California.

In Hornell he was an earnest member and officer of Park Methodist Church, and a former Scoutmaster of Troop 7, Boy Scouts of America. He served three years as President of the Credit Union, New York State Highway Department, and was a member of the State and National Societies of Professional Engineers, New York State Highway Association, and the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States. He belonged to the Hornell Lodge of Masons, and was a life member of Hamilton Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Rochester.

On April 10, 1912, he married Margaret L. Hunt of Falconer, N. Y., who survives, with two sons, Dr. James H. Steere and Robert L. Steere; three brothers, one of whom is Samuel A. Steere '07; and three sisters, Emily A. Steere, B.Ed. '24, Mary E. Steere, and Nancy Steere '15, Pembroke College.

Wartime readjustments . . . #3

SCRAP SALVAGE HAS BROUGHT SOME PAINFUL PROBLEMS TO THE WOOLSEY HOUSE

MONKEY-WRENCHES don't mean much to Mother. Father is sure the old sewing machine can be spared! Salvage is sometimes painful—but, besides aiding war production, it has its helpful side in the home.

It shows what we can do without. It teaches the difference between little luxuries and big necessities.

The same sort of adjustment, applied to income, puts taxes, War Bonds and life insurance at the top of the list. Both taxes and bonds advance the war effort directly. Life insurance does the same thing indirectly—since much of your premium dollar is reinvested in Government bonds. Life insurance also protects your family at a time when they need protection more than ever before!

Life insurance is the safest, surest property you can own—and it has a guaranteed value that doesn't vary. The liberal New England Mutual contract even helps finance itself if the need arises! Ask one of our Career Underwriters how it's done.

Here are some of the advantages of a New England Mutual contract

1. DIVIDENDS begin at the end of the first year.
2. CASH VALUES begin at the end of the second year.
3. A PREMIUM LOAN is available toward payment of the second annual premium.
4. CONVERSION to Retirement Income or higher premium plans requires the payment of difference in reserves only.

Here's help with insurance salvage!

Metals scrap may cause family scraps—but the problem is not nearly so tough or technical as another kind of salvage—savings salvage. Most families make their largest investment in life insurance—and too often endanger that investment by sudden decisions.

If you must adjust your insurance program, get sound advice first. Talk to any of the men listed below. They're alumni of your college and they talk your language. They are also trained representatives of the First Mutual Life Insurance Company Chartered in America.

Out of their experience you'll get practical, constructive suggestions. They'll help you make the most of your limited life insurance dollars—help you protect your present policies with premium loans if necessary.

Check your protection now when you need it most. If none of these men is near you, you can get similar service at the New England Mutual office in your city.

We're making readjustments, too. With some 15% of our field force now in military service, we have real opportunities for able men in several cities.

If you're interested in a career where you can be your own boss—and if your draft status is reasonably assured—we'd like to talk things over. Or perhaps you have a friend who might appreciate the tip.

In either case, just write to Wm. Eugene Hays, 501 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass., for information. There's no obligation, of course.

"AN URGENT CALL FOR YOU"

"Please do not make Long Distance telephone calls to war-busy centers unless it is really necessary."

That helps keep the lines open for war messages and war's on the wires these days.
When we can get telephone materials again
we'll give you all the wires you desire.
Many thanks.
