Coming Next Issue . . . Don't Miss It!

The long-awaited, completely revised and expanded second edition of Student and Youth Organizing will be published as a special double issue of FPS, #56/57.

Jon Schaller, of Youth Liberation, and Mark Chesler, of the University of Michigan, have prepared the finest, most comprehensive introduction to youth organizing that has ever been written. They have condensed the experiences of hundreds of organizers into 100 information-packed pages.

The pamphlet contains detailed discussions of each of the following topics:

- How to select issues;
- Issues which other students have successfully organized around;
- Organizing tactics and strategy;
- Problems encountered in forming organizations;
- Organizing skills;
- Common problems faced by organizers.

Student and Youth Organizing doesn't contain "formulas" for organizing — because there aren't any. Instead it has suggestions and general guidelines which creative organizers can apply in their own way, based on their interests and local conditions. In addition, Student and Youth Organizing pinpoints problems which seem to crop up in every organizing effort, and has suggestions for avoiding or overcoming them.

(If you aren't yet an FPS subscriber, subscribe before March 31, 1977 and receive the pamphlet as part of your subscription. Or, send $1.50, plus .50 postage and handling for single copies.)
