

There is not one single promise, which if followed up, will not lead us unto the LORD. He is the center of the circle...And, the promises like radii, all meet in HIM, and thence become the YEA and the AMEN.....

"For all the promises of God in him are yea and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us." 2 CORINTHIANS 1:20

As all the streams run unto the ocean, so do all the words of Jesus tend to Himself...So, let us launch forth our little ships upon any one of them, and it will bear us up, onward to the broad sea of His acceptance.

Yea, I tell you more! Christ's performances outstrip His Promises!

The very handkerchiefs brought from the person of Apostle Paul healed the sick; surely the promises, which are but the garments of the Christ will avail for all diseases...Oh! Touch the hem of His Garment! Now.

Lost on a dreary desert, the wanderer discovers his cabin by the light in the window casting a gleam of hope over the darkness of the terrible wasteland; so also must we find "our dwelling-place: by the lamps of Promise which our Saviour God has placed in the windows of His WORD.

Surely we all know that the key of promise will unfasten every lock in Doubting Castle; will we be content to lie any longer in that deep dungeon when the key of deliverance is ready in our hand?

Amid the fair flowers of Promise grows the Rose of Sharon--Pluck the Promises, and you will find HIM with them! For He feedeth among the lilies--so do thou feed there also.

The sure words of Holy Scripture are but the footprints of Jesus now imprinted on the soil of mercy---follow the track of grace and find HIM. The Promises of God are your admission not only to the Throne, the Mercy-Seat, and the audience chamber...but into the very heart of Jesus.

Look above into the sky of Revelation, and you will find a constellation of promises which will guide your eye to the Star of Bethlehem.

Above all---Cry aloud when you read a Promise: "Remember thy WORD unto thy servant, on which thou has caused me to hope."

Its elementary...Two plus two make Four!

* * * * *

Unclaimed promises are like uncashed checks; they will keep us from bankruptcy, but not from want. HAVERGAL

Every Divine Promise is built upon four pillars: (1) God's justice or holiness. (2) His grace. (3) His truth. (4) His power.