

This latest pamphlet from Workers World Party was written before and during China's invasion of Viet Nam. The tremendous danger this event poses for all progressive forces throughout the world, is analysed in the context of the global class struggle and the de facto alliance consummated between China's leadership and the imperialist camp.

The pamphlet consists of four articles:

A Historic Betrayal—A major statement placing the betrayal to imperialism by the Chinese leaders in the context of the 60-year imperialist struggle against the socialist countries. Bent on dividing and ultimately destroying the USSR, China, and all the socialist countries, imperialism was and is today the main enemy of workers and oppressed people. Its unrelenting and constant pressure has been the main cause of the split in the socialist camp and the many problems that still exist within the socialist countries.

Behind the U.S. 'Neutrality' Posture—

Rips away the myth of U.S. "neutrality" in China's war of aggression against Viet Nam. Shows how the U.S. instigated China to attack its socialist neighbor. Explains how imperialism has always talked "neutrality" before plunging into a new war of aggression.

The Early Harvest of the Deng-Hua Policy—

China as a socialist country has been tremendously weakened by its perilous course of invading Viet Nam. This will only benefit imperialism and isolate the People's Republic in the world community. The socialist countries need peace and stability to further their tasks of socialist construction.

The Great Socialist Destiny of China and Viet Nam—

Shows the need for maintaining a revolutionary, internationalist perspective in responding to the events in Southeast Asia. Neither China nor Viet Nam nor the USSR is "capitalist" or "social imperialist." Only the true imperialists—in Washington and Wall Street—can benefit by such a characterization, which blurs the class consciousness of the workers and oppressed.
