Newsletter published to keep members informed about GBPSR activities and other local arms control events, relevant legislative activity, and topics of general interest

Greater Boston Physicians for Social Responsibility

Greater Boston Physicians for Social Responsibility (GBPSR) is a non-profit, non-partisan organization dedicated to public education on the medical hazards of nuclear war and the arms race. We are building a base of informed citizens who can then act on their basic concerns about human survival and quality of life.

GBPSR is a leader among 150 chapters in a national effort by Physicians for Social Responsibility (PSR) to bring medical expertise to the discussions about nuclear weapons and related issues. Society, as we know it, cannot survive nuclear war. The only stand we as healers and concerned citizens can take is one of ensuring that this horrifying possibility never becomes a reality.
