Hidden Causes of the Polish Struggle

by Sam Marcy

This pamphlet explores the fundamental causes of the crisis in Poland—the intervention by the biggest U.S. and Western banks, through their enormous penetration of Poland's economy, to destabilize the socialist government there and return the country to imperialist enslavement. Also includes: The role of the church hierarchy; Collectivization vs. private farming; Character of the "independent" trade unions; What's GM doing in Poland?; Historical background from World War II to present. Includes an appendix on "U.S. imperialism's economic policy towards the socialist countries."

Generals Over the White House:

The Impact of the Military-Industrial Complex

by Sam Marcy

This pamphlet not only analyzes the role of the military in the U.S. as seen in critical political developments, but it also takes up the question of the long-term economic impact of the giant military-industrial complex, and how what was once a major stimulant to the U.S. economy has now become a chronic depressant.

The Built-In U.S. War Drive

by Vince Copeland

A facts-and-figures explanation. Shows how corporate expansionism has dominated U.S. foreign policy ever since 1898. Enumerates the declared and undeclared conflicts since that time and exposes the contrived hoaxes (from the battleship Maine to the Tonkin Bay incident in 1964), which served as excuses rather than causes for U.S. intervention. Proves that the present economic system generates imperialist war. Implicitly calls for fundamental economic, social and political change in order to avoid otherwise inevitable war.
