

Friends for a Non-Violent World

Annual Report 1989

We are living in a time of great change...a time when humankind is reaching and bending toward justice and peace in new and exciting ways. People are discovering that non-violence is the way to peace, and that the time is right to mend our injustices against one another and the earth. Now more than ever, grassroots movements are joining together in efforts to give birth to our common vision for a better world.

Embracing both local and global perspectives, Friends for a Non-Violent World seeks to contribute to this common vision...and works to nurture a world which will bend toward justice and peace. The following report reflects upon some of our efforts toward creating this vision throughout the past year.
