The British Intelligence Report

Complete Reprint: $8.00

In 1929, one William Shearer was called before Congress to testify regarding his propaganda activities in Geneva, Switzerland at the behest of American ship building interests to undermine a naval limitations treaty. Shearer said the treaty was a plot to maintain British naval supremacy and should not be agreed to by the USA. Shearer used as an adjunct to his anti-treaty efforts a document called the "British Intelligence Report" which he showed to the astounded Congressmen. The resulting flap and sensation made the front page of the New York Times. The furor did not subside until an Irish Catholic American, Dr. Maloney, stepped forward and admitted he wrote the document 10 years earlier as a political satire aimed at preventing the US from joining the British dominated League of Nations.

The "British Intelligence Report" (mentioned in Baldwin's And Men Wept) is clearly a "protocols" style satire not really meant to be taken seriously as a "genuine" letter from Sir William Wiseman (British Intelligence Chief stationed in America) to the Prime Minister, Lloyd George. However, Dr. Maloney was quite clearly very well informed on Britain's multi-headed influence in America. Beneath the satire is a flawless assessment of America's traditional subjection to the Crown. Must reading for all Project subscribers.

Maloney's satire, originally titled "The Reconquest of America", was perceived by the Wilson Administration as a dire threat to their pro-League of Nations policy stance. The document was banned from the Federal mails and Federal Agents threatened Maloney with "20 years" if he did not desist from further distribution!

The Vatican's Holocaust

The Sensational Account of the Most Horrific Religious Massacre of the 20th Century

By Avro Manhattan

$12.00

No, this book does not accuse the Vatican of complicity in Hitler's alleged "final solution" to the Jewish Question. No, this is Manhattan's disturbing account of the Catholic clergy-led "Ustashi" campaign against Orthodox Christian Serbians in Croatia. Allegedly, the campaign included forced conversions, horrifying massacres, and concentration camps, all winked at or even covertly encouraged by the Vatican! We would like to hear both sides of this story. The Catholic Church must have a response to this one!
