

"The most important thing tribal colleges offer to Indian communities is hope. They are bringing new life to the reservations in the form of education and training."

Ben Nighthorse Campbell, United States Senator