

Generals Over the White House:
The Impact of the Military-Industrial Complex
by Sam Marcy

In this pamphlet, Marcy not only analyzes the role of the U.S. military as seen in contemporary political developments, but also takes up the question of the long-term economic impact of the giant military-industrial complex, and how what was once a major stimulant to the U.S. economy has now become a chronic depressant.

The Built-in U.S. War Drive
by Vince Copeland

A facts-and-figures explanation. Shows how corporate expansionism has dominated U.S. foreign policy ever since 1898. Enumerates the declared and undeclared conflicts since that time and exposes the contrived hoaxes (from the battleship Maine to the Gulf of Tonkin incident) which served as excuses for U.S. intervention. Explores the economic laws that inexorably drive the capitalist system toward war.

106 pp., $2.25, ISBN: 0-89567-038-0.

Expanding Empire
by Vince Copeland

What exactly are the forces in the U.S. which generate coups, assassinations, and bloodbaths in the far corners of the earth? This pamphlet shows how big business depends more than ever on its external empire and is driven by an internal dynamic to expand or die.
