

Voices for the Family

Last month FRC hosted discussions in Washington with some of the nation's leading activists and thinkers on family issues. Syndicated columnist Cal Thomas, Sen. John Ashcroft (former co-chairman of the National Commission on America's Urban Families), Marilyn Quayle (author and wife of former Vice President Dan Quayle), and Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich were among a dozen major speakers who contributed their thoughts on issues from family breakdown to education reform to tax relief.

Marilyn Quayle

On this audio cassette, you'll also hear the candid views of several members of the new congress -- Reps. Ralph Hall, Sue Myrick, J.C. Watts, Steve Largent and others. And, as always, FRC President Gary Bauer sums up the situation of the family after the first 100 days.

Use the reverse side of this card to order this new resource from the Family Research Council. Share it with your friends!

Family Research Council