

The Affinity Group of Evolutionary Anarchists (AGEA)

is an address exchange network linking individuals who favor education and self-organization as the preferred methods of achieving a voluntary, egalitarian and cooperative society. If you would like to be listed, send your address and a brief description of your interests to:

Ed Stamm, PO Box 1402, Lawrence KS 66044-8402 USA

Your address and description will appear on the monthly list that is sent to all AGEA members. We currently have about 28 members.

The Ricardo Flores Magon Club is the AGEA group for the greater Kansas City area. It is named for a Mexican anarchist who died in nearby Leavenworth Penitentiary on November 21, 1922 at the age of 49. He was quite famous in Mexico due to his opposition to the Porfirio Diaz dictatorship, which is why he was imprisoned in the U.S.

With only one member in our group at the present time, we don't have any regular meetings or events, but if you would like to get in touch, write to Ed Stamm at the same address as above.

"The dreamer is the designer of tomorrow. The practical ones, the sensible, cold heads, can laugh at the dreamer; they do not know that the dreamer is the true dynamic force that pushes the world forward. Suppress the dreamer, and the world will deteriorate towards barbarism. Despised, impoverished, the dreamer opens the way for his society, sowing, sowing, sowing the seeds which will be harvested, not by the dreamer, but by the practical ones, the sensible, cold heads of tomorrow, who will laugh at the sight of another indefatigable dreamer, seeding, seeding, seeding."
