J. M. Infiesta

"ARNO BREKER" MICHELANGELO OF THE 20th CENTURY

By J. M. Infiesta

Arno Breker, the greatest and the most unjustly persecuted sculptor of our era, created during his 82 years a school of grandeur in the arts; he accomplished it despite the total decadence of those who destroyed his art works after the end of World War II. Written in the form of an interview with the great Master, the content, form and good taste of this book are difficult to equal.

ARNO BREKER THE PROPHET OF THE BEAUTIFUL

Sculptures from years 1920 - 1980

With this magnificent volume of the collected works of Arno Breker we are given an opportunity to come face to face with this great sculptor, whose name is known world-wide, but whose work is partly unknown. Breker is with his artistic work, which is dedicated to the classical ideal of beauty, one of the giants of this century. The time has come for us to deal without bigotry and prejudice with the 60 years of his classical-realistic artistic work; to become acquainted with the unique talent and the towering ability of the last sculptor of the human beauty.

If you have enjoyed our other book, "ARNO BREKER" by J. M. Infiesta, you should acquire this much more complete and truly overwhelming book as well; you will treasure it and enjoy the magnificent beauty of Breker's artistic creations for years to come.

240 pages, 203 full page photographs, 16 of which are in 4 colors. Size 30 x 40 cm.
