

and clear call is going forth to call this nation back to morality and decency. We believe there is a need to return to the principles that have made this nation great.

Dr. Don Sauls, Gen. Supt., Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church

Don Wildmon has focused his attention on an important ministry and has devoted his considerable talent and ability to it quiet effectively. He is truly blessed, because many have reviled him, persecuted him and said all manner of evil against him falsely (Matthew 5:11). But he is truly appreciated by many Christians who applaud his straightforward, fact-backed, well-executed attacks on obscenity, profanity and anti-Christian depictions in the media and arts.

Ben Johnston, Former Moderator, Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church

I have been personally acquainted with the work of the American Family Association for years, and am personally acquainted with The Rev. Donald Wildmon, with whom I have worked for the past several years. I commend this effort and Don's good offices to your support.

Rt. Rev. William C. Wantland, Episcopal Bishop of Eau Claire

Don Wildmon represents us all. He is our John the Baptist in the field, whether that field be pornography or decency in radio, television, the Hollywood movie industry or motel movies. I would hate to think where we would be without him.

Dr. Ray E. Smith, Gen. Supt., Open Bible Standard Churches

I appreciate the stand that Rev. Wildmon takes on moral issues. Television programs have become offensive, vulgar and immoral. We need to support him as he is attempting to clean up the airways.

*Rev. Gary Thornton, Executive Director
Association of Independent Methodists*

I write to share with you my respect for the person and the work of Donald E. Wildmon. His efforts in leading others in a combined attempt to improve the quality of TV programming in the U.S.A. have the hearty endorsement of myself and of my church.

Dr. Robert Hess, General Superintendent Evangelical Friends Church, Eastern Region

I should like to encourage Donald E. Wildmon in his tremendous efforts to seek the highest possible ethical standards in the television programs that are coming into our homes. I think everyone will agree there has been an erosion of good taste and basic morality in the television programs that are coming into the homes of our nation. Someone must take a leadership role in this challenge. I am pleased to see Rev. Donald E. Wildmon take on this challenge. May his work be successful.

Most Reverend Daniel E. Sheehan, Catholic Archbishop of Omaha

I regularly thank the Lord for Donald Wildmon, and the work that's done through the American Family Association. The Lord has placed a humble servant in this difficult post and he accomplishes his work with remarkable grace.

Dr. David Mains, President, Chapel of the Air

Don Wildmon and the AFA are providing an essential service to the evangelical Christian community by keeping us informed about current events that are in direct opposition to our moral and spiritual values. He gives us constructive actions to take and makes us feel that our response makes a difference. I applaud his sincerity and commitment so we can be the "salt" Jesus called us to be to the world.

*Dr. Tim Blanchard, General Director
Conservative Baptist Association of America*

I thank God for Donald Wildmon, his dedication to family values, and his determination to make a difference in our society. His concern is sincere, and I believe this latest strategy is sound.

Mark Taylor, Editor-at-Large, The Lookout

Rev. Donald Wildmon and the AFA have for several years taken a strong stand on the subjects of pornography and its distribution, both in the printed word and through television. Their efforts have succeeded time and again in removing pornographic magazines from stores and in alerting Americans to the insidious creeping of pornography into our lives. Rev. Wildmon is to be commended for his high standards and willingness to step up to the formidable challenge of cleaning up network programming.

Rev. L. Edward Davis, Stated Clerk, Evangelical Presbyterian Church

Never before in history has Satan fought so hard for the very souls of this generation. Never before have we needed ministries like American Family Association. Don, keep fighting, the TBN family is with you.

Paul F. Crouch, President, Trinity Broadcasting Network

Don Wildmon is committed to Jesus Christ in his specialized ministry. His ministry is most effective in meeting a real need in our society. Don Wildmon is a Christian example to all of us in the spiritual warfare.

Bishop Leon Stewart, General Superintendent International Pentecostal Holiness Church

In my opinion, AFA is impacting change for the better toward wholesome family values in current media. I commend AFA to you for prayerful and financial support.

*Dr. O. Dale Emery, General Superintendent,

Don Wildmon and the American Family Association are an essential voice in promoting a constructive change in network television programming and upholding traditional family values. They are helping awaken Christians to the need to be involved in addressing vital issues in our society. I strongly recommend your participation with millions of other Americans who care about the future of our society.

Rev. David Krogh, Pres., Church of God (General Conference)

We support Don Wildmon and the ministry of the American Family Association for the outstanding work that they are doing in attempting to solve one of the greatest problems of our day: the elimination of the filth, profanity, pornography and blasphemy from our media. Not only every Christian, but every decent minded American should be delighted to support them.

*Dr. D. James Kennedy, Senior Minister
