

in April. I've had the flu + weakness from it
for over 2 weeks so I've had to slow up a bit.

I've been writing an article for The Nation
but only got as far as a kind of joke self-interviewed (I'll enclose).

The Nation editor saw
it and wants to mark
with it. I'm too sick to argue. I can't rework the material ^{myself} until I have the strength to walk a small mountain to my shop where my typewriter is.
