

The Foundation for Economic Education was founded in 1946 to combat the prevailing trend toward state intervention in human affairs. FEE's method is to study and explain the alternative to intervention: the free market, private property, limited government concepts and the moral and spiritual principles on which this country was founded. This catalog is a report of progress in developing, in modern American idiom, a consistent literature of freedom.

All items in this list, including those of other publishers, are available through the Foundation.

Prices in this list supersede previous quotations, and are subject to change.

The Freeman

This digest-size, 64-page, monthly journal is now, and has been since January 1956, the principal outlet for Foundation releases. Anyone may receive it regularly upon written request. An annual subscription-donation of $5.00 or more is a suggestion, not a requirement.

Back issues available from January 1956: 3 for $1.00, 25 copies or more, 20¢ each; 12 issues in handsome blue Leatherlex binder, $6.25; binder only, $2.25.

Many of the articles from The Freeman, as well as earlier Foundation releases, have been assembled in book form (See Essays on Liberty on the following page) and also are available in pamphlet or multilith form. A listing of these reprints, with quantity prices, may be obtained on request.
