
As the summer months approach, contributions to nonprofits like Family Research Council typically decline. If you could find it in your heart and within your means to remember us with a gift this month, it would mean so much to our work. As always, thanks for reading my letter this month, and may God bless you and your family.

Sincerely,

Gary L. Bauer
President

P.S. It's been a busy month at FRC. In April we placed a full-page ad in USA Today, cosigned by me and Dr. James Dobson, regarding the shootings in Jonesboro, Arkansas. Drop us a note and we'll send you a free copy of the ad or ad slick if you would be willing to have it placed in your local paper. You can also request a free copy of a talk I've called "The American Century." The good people at Grove City College, where the address was delivered, have produced a nicely printed transcript you may find of interest.

Finally, there's an item we can't (unfortunately) give away free: a brilliant new book by our Director of Cultural Studies Robert Knight, titled The Age of Consent. It's a timely book in more ways than one. Bob lays bare the ideology of moral relativism that has produced the cultural decay we see all around us. The Age of Consent describes how America became a place where a Howard Stern can be exalted and a Reggie White derided. I don't often say this, but it's must reading. Please consider obtaining a copy for yourself, for your church, or for your local library. Again, God bless you.

P.P.S. Our good friends at the Citizens Flag Alliance are launching a special effort this month. They call it "Show Your Colors, America!" To show special honor to our nation's flag, and to boost public support for a constitutional amendment to ban flag burning, the Alliance is urging Americans to hoist the flag on Memorial Day and to display it every day until Veterans Day 1998. I hope you'll answer the call and raise high the red, white and blue!
