

The political differences between President Reagan and the liberals in Congress are awesome.

And those political differences lay at the heart of what you and I and President Reagan believe are best for America.

I believe that President Reagan is the last great hope for America. And I believe that if President Reagan fails in his programs, our future is lost - and the America that you and I want is lost forever.

President Reagan has pleaded for support by saying "stay the course".

Now I ask you, will you tell President Reagan that you will "stay the course" he has set?

President Reagan has made his commitment to you and your family.

For twenty years, President Reagan has been the conservative voice in the wilderness demanding that America regain its economic and military powers.

And as a result, he has been the target of unprecedented political and personal abuse.

The national news media is against President Reagan.

Daily the influential New York Times, Washington Post and Los Angeles Times lambaste your President. And praise Ted Kennedy and Tip O'Neill.

Weekly, Newsweek and Time rake President Reagan over the coals while stressing the virtues of liberalism.

And each night, the national news networks - ABC, NBC and CBS blame President Reagan for 40 years of liberal spending and catastrophic economic policies.

After writing to you half this night, I consider you my friend and I can tell you how my soul feels: President Reagan is not the question. He is the answer.

Now can I ask you a most personal question?

Will you stand with President Reagan and the Americans for the Reagan Agenda Fund?

I pray you just said yes.

For America's future is at stake now as never before.

For if the liberals in Congress prevail over President Reagan, America as you want it to be will be lost forever.

You now can give President Reagan the support he so desperately needs right now.

By joining the Americans for the Reagan Agenda Fund, you can help America and President Reagan in two vital ways.

First, you will receive our timely Action Alerts that will tell you how you can help President Reagan in his battle with the liberals in Congress.
