I H R Revisionists Meet in Chicago

CHICAGO-Labor Day weekend (Sept. 4-6) was an eventful one for the America First Committee (AFC). National Chairman Arthur Jones and National Secretary Patricia White attended the Institute for Historical Review's (IHR) 4th Annual Revisionist Conference held at Chicago's famed Bismarck Hotel.

For those unfamiliar with it, the IHR is an organization of scholars, educators, and historians in the U.S. and Europe, whose purpose is to discern fact from fairy-tale in history. One of the focal points in their study is the fabled "Holocaust," that never was. Another area of the IHR's research is the era of the treasonous Franklin D. Roosevelt presidency.

This years's gathering was a veritable "Who's Who," of Revisionism. One of the lecturers present was Dr. Arthur R. Butz, whose book THE HOAX OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY, is probably the most definitive work refuting the "Holocaust," to date.

Lunch followed Dr. Butz's presentation at which time there was a meeting between the AFC's National Chairman Arthur Jones and Conrad Grieb, an early America Firster and close associate of America First leader, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Lunch was interrupted by news that a motley assortment of Khazar "survivors," and homegrown Reds was picketing the conference. This reporter went downstairs to get a birds-eye view of the chosen ones and their Red goons.

The picket dispersed rather quickly except for one bothersome ADL photographer who unsuccessfully tried to gain entrance to the conference.

This meeting of the old and new guard America Firsters, was made possible by the efforts of the IHR and Reverend James K. Warner of the Christian Defense League. Mr. Grieb was pleased to see that America First had not been forgotten and was in fact revived. And the AFC's delegates were inspired by the fact that Mr. Grieb continues the fight for truth to this day despite his advancing years.

At lunch we also learned that these Jewish lovers of peace and freedom had riddled the IHR's California HQ with automatic weapons fire. Fortunately, nobody was wounded in the cowardly Kosher attack.

After lunch the participants of the conference attended a lecture by Mark Weber who spoke on the war-mongering policies of FDR. His speech was reinforced by incriminating quotations from previously classified documents on the pre-war Polish situation.

Following a short break, a slide presentation was given by Ditlieb Felderer who had personally visited and inspected a number of so-called death camps in Poland. He illustrated his presentation with color slides taken inside these camps. He revealed that at the Maidenek Prison camp, the Communists are building a new "gas chamber," and it will be passed off as the genuine article. This fact was supported by numerous photographs of the construction site taken at grave personal risk to himself and his companions.

On Monday morning, we attended a lecture by Sami Hadawi, a distinguished Palestian scholar. He spoke on the recent Israeli invasion of lebanon. And piece by piece, he dismantled with supportive documentation, all Israeli claims to the land that was once Palestine.

Conference delegates eagerly snapped up AFC literature and the AFC added to its already extensive library by purchasing numerous books which were available. We left the conference intellectually refreshed, secure in the knowledge we had gained many new allies in our fight against the Zionist rule over America.

A F C Hosts Warner and Clerkin at Labor Day Meeting

CHICAGO-On September 3rd, the America First Committee hosted a special public meeting. It was a joint meeting of the AFC and the Christian Defense League headed by Reverend James K. Warner, a longtime racialist fighter of national prominence.

As meeting time approached, members of both the AFC and CDL began to fill the meeting room of the AFC's headquarters. By meeting time, a standing room only crowd had gathered.

Following the customary prayer and pledge to the flag, the National Secretary, patricia White read the minutes of the previous meeting. Lt. Hal Kaiser as the meeting's chairman, kept things flowing smoothly and gave a brief introduction for the speaker.

The first speaker was Reverend Warner who spoke on the necessity of spreading the word of racial patriotism and anti-Zionism. He related how he and his followers had disseminated thousands of informative and enlightening packets of literature to officers of our armed forces, both active and retired. The response to these mailings was positive, but cautious since many officers valued their careers.

Reverend Warner then reaffirmed his dedication to the struggle and vowed never to give up the fight.

Following Reverend Warner was Major Donald V. Clerkin of the EURO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE, a Wisconsin-based racialist group. Major Clerkin related his group's activities in Milwaukee in combatting the ZOG (Zionist Occupation Government). He echoed Reverend Warner's words of dedication.

The third and final speaker of the evening was AFC National Chairman Arthur Jones, who gave an informative and inspiring speech on the decline of American education and exactly who is responsible for it, and what must be done to correct the situation.

His speech was met by protracted applause. At meetings end, all were invited to help themselves to refreshments provided by the AFC. The public left the headquarters enlightened and uplifted by the words of true patriots who have in the past and have pledged in the future to put America First.

INCHON

Question: What did John Wayne and the Reverend Sun Myung Moon have in common?

Laurence Olivier stars as General Douglas MacArthur in "Inchon," the re-creation of the Inchon Harbor landing during the Korean War.

Answer: their mutual hatred of Communism and their willingness to use large sums of their own money to fight it.

Now with financial support from Reverend Moons race-mixing cult, ONE WAY PRODUCTIONS, has produced a commendable, but shallow account of the invasion of INCHON harbor, a military manuever that routed the North Koreans.

Coincidentally, the author of THE GREEN BERETS, Robin Moore, is also the author and co-screenwriter for INCHON. And just as THE GREEN BERETS proved very unpopular with the largely Liberal/Jewish movie critic crowd, it appears INCHON is due for the same treatment. Gene Siskel, the Kosher critic for the Chicago Tribune, rated the film a dismal star and a half.

Now when the North Koreans invaded the land of South Korea on June 25, 1950, they did so with the intention of bringing the duly elected, UN supervised government of President Sygman Rhee to its knees. INCHON depicts the brutal intentions of the North Korean Communists all too vividly. And the Liberals/Jews just don't like that.

However, while it is refreshing to see the Reds as the bad guys, it is also distressing to see Left-wingers like Sir Lawerence Olivier take a great American patriot like Gen. Douglas MacArthur and turn him into a dutiful,fawning servant of the United Nations, which he most certainly was not.

And while Olivier does somewhat resemble MacArthur, he certainly doesn't act like him. His entire performance is wooden, hyperbolic and poorly contrived. And his voice inflections are more like those of W.C. Fields with drawn out vowels. Surely, MacArthur never talked like that.

As history records it, the landing at Inchon was a brilliant manuever, so routing the Communists that Red China was compelled to intervene. There too, MacArthur was way ahead of the Reds.

To prevent Red China's massive land forces from reinforcing the devastated ranks of the North Koreans, MacArthur proposed to bomb the bridges over the Yalu River cutting the Red Chinese off from the North Koreans.

But instead of bombing the bridges, the Jewsmedia bombed MacArthur, depicting him as a war-monger whose policies if not checked by President Truman, would lead to World War III.
