

March for Atheism!

Take part in the Second Atheist Pride March during the Twenty-second Annual National Convention of American Atheists

April 17, 18, & 19 (Friday, Saturday & Sunday), 1992
Hyatt Regency Austin • Austin, Texas

It's time to hit the streets and show the world that Atheism is here to stay!

And the time to do it is at the Twenty-second Annual National Convention of American Atheists in Austin, Texas — home of the American Atheist GHQ. Atheists from all over the nation will march to the steps of the largest state capitol in the United States. There they will let the world take a gander at Atheist pride and shout out the need for separation of state and church.

Join in this history-making event and take part in the 1992 Convention. In addition to the Pride March, there will be lectures, seminars, banquets, and parties. You can relax among non-believers young and old and become up-to-date on the hottest topics facing Atheists today.

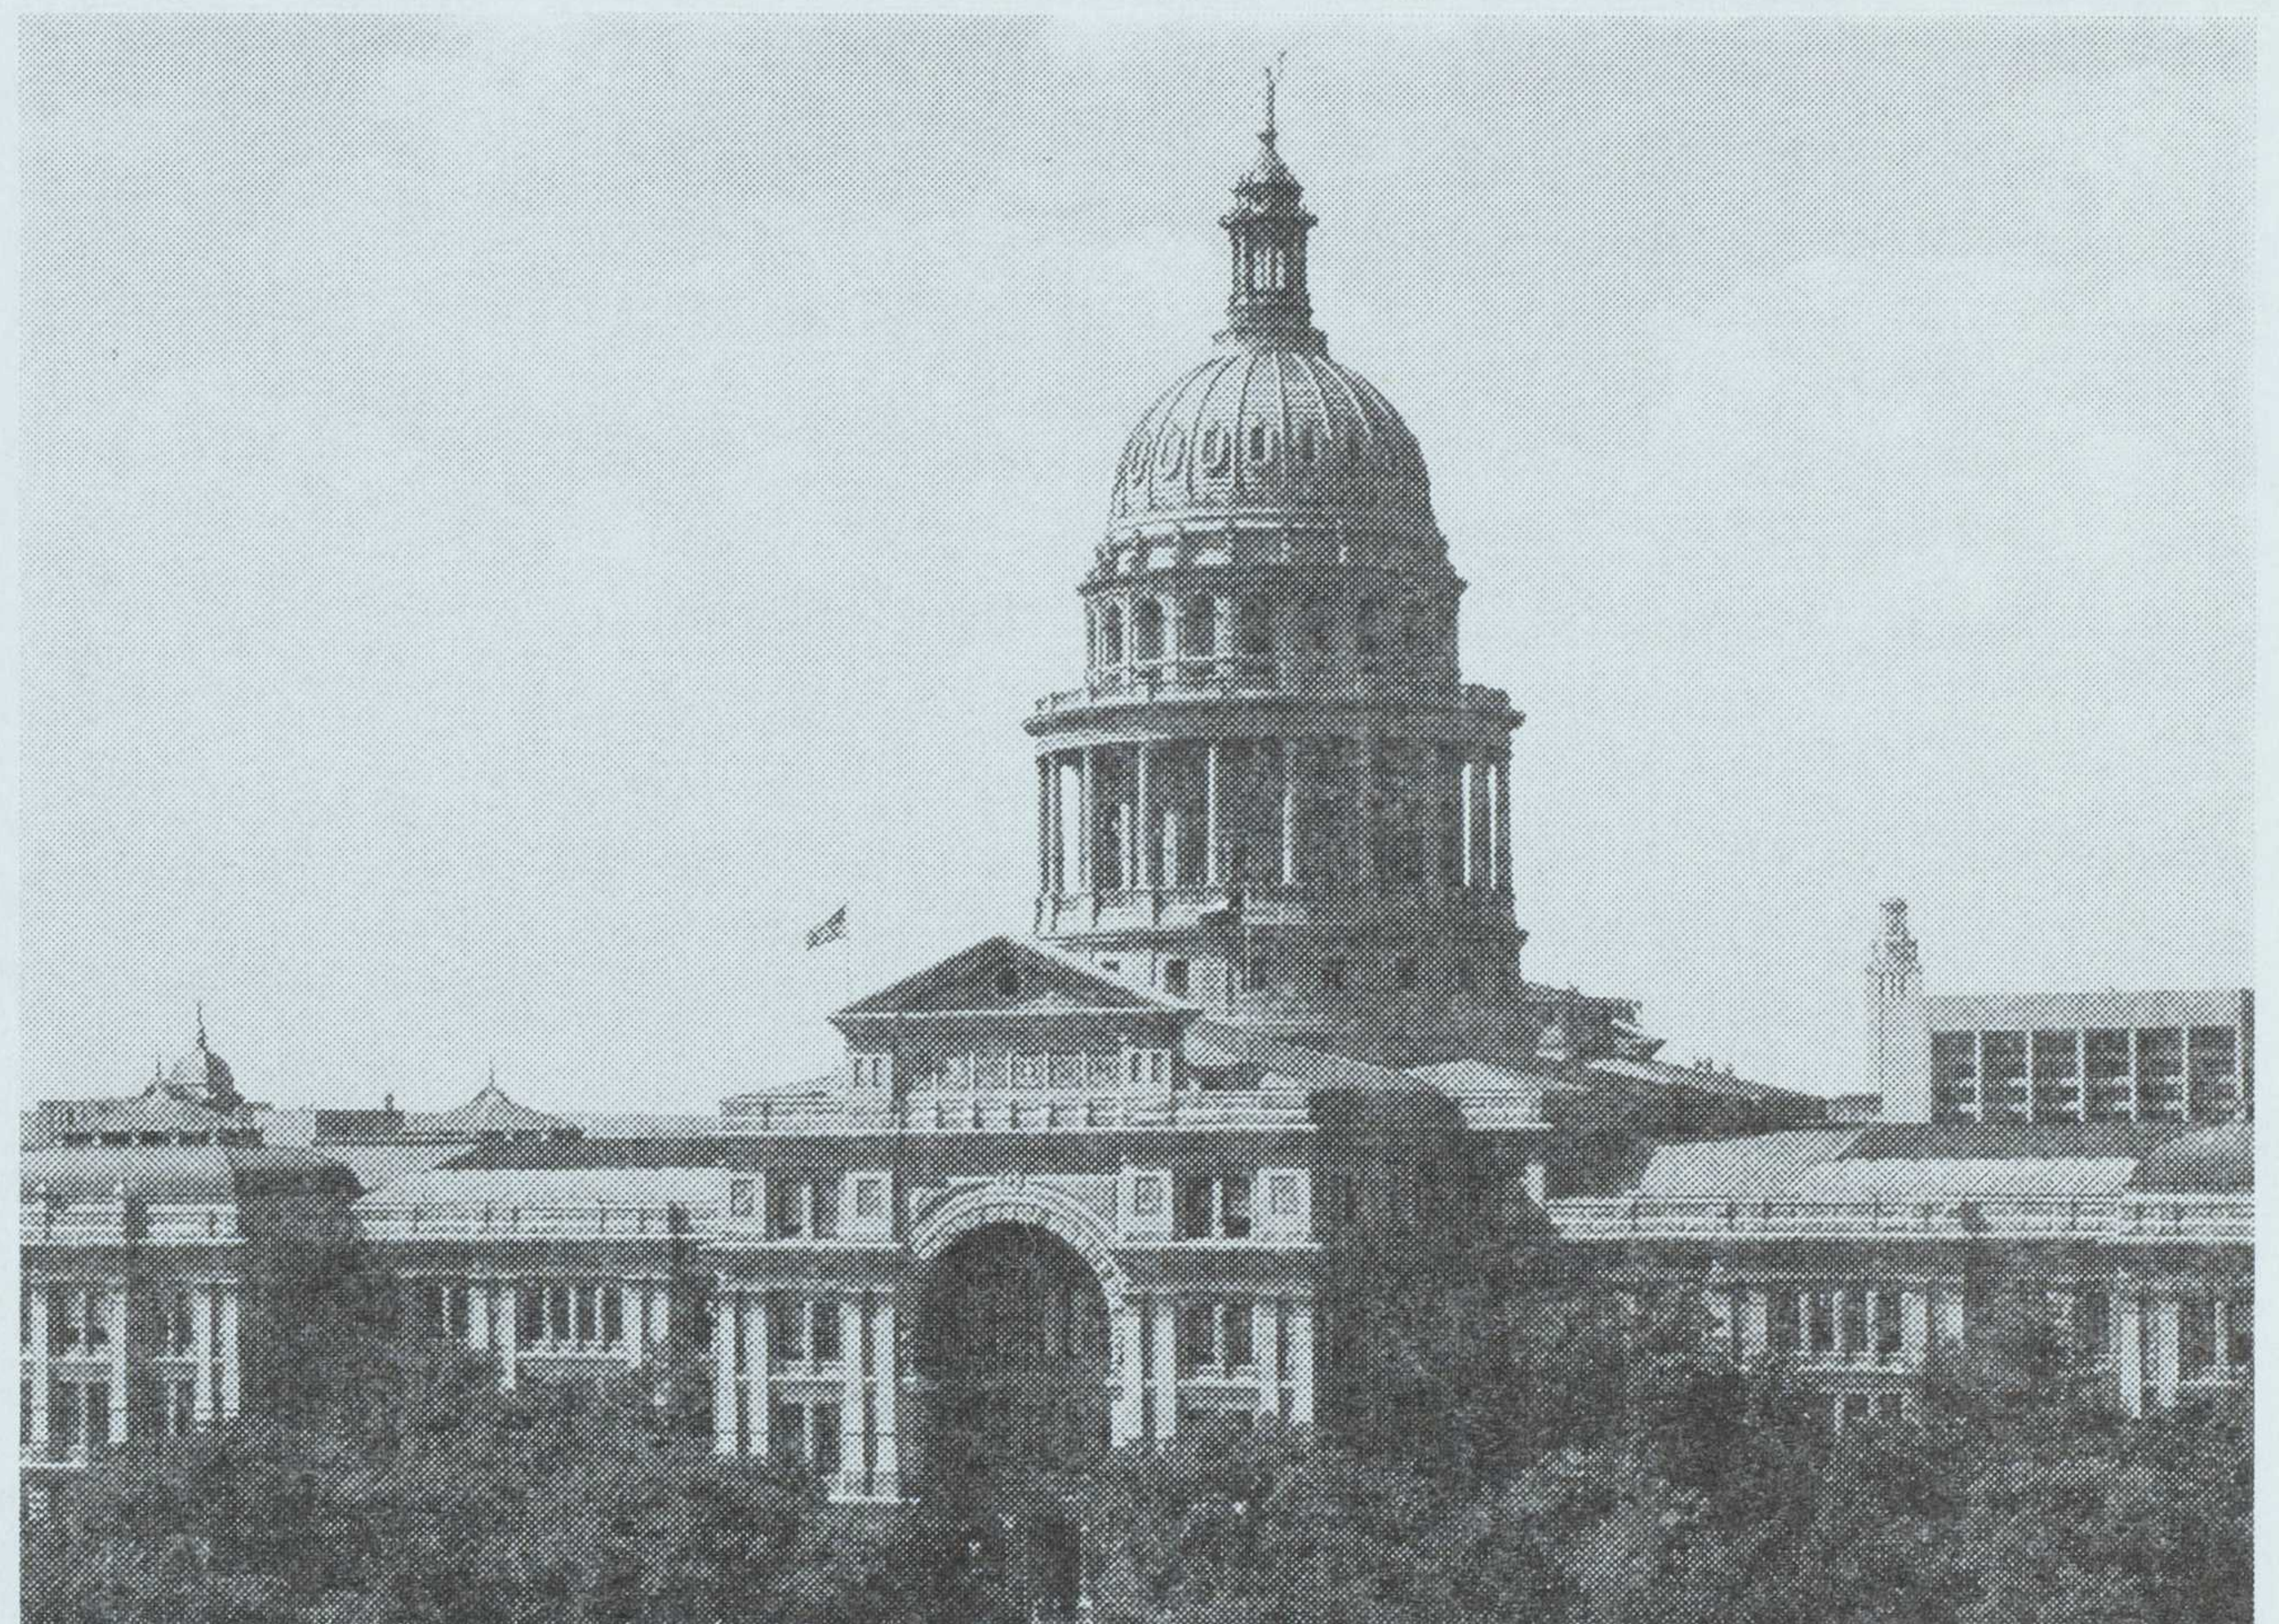

More excitement

Don't think that all the excitement is on the day of the Pride March! All three days of the 1992 Convention of American Atheists will be packed to the brim with activities, socials, and information. There will be tours of the American Atheist GHQ and an extra post-Convention trip to the Alamo. An on-site edition of "Lonely Atheists" will play matchmaker for singles. There will be a variety of parties, socials, and dances, including a Life Members' Banquet and a totally godless Sunday brunch. As if that weren't enough, there will workshops, videos, and films. And don't forget your shopping bag! You'll need it when you visit the Convention's Book and Product Room.

Where to stay

The Hyatt Regency Austin, site of the Convention, overlooks Austin's tree-lined Town Lake. Nearby is the city's famous hike and bike trail which attracts athletes from around the country. But best of all, the Hyatt is offering American Atheist Conventioneers the special room rate of $57

(plus tax) a night for single or double occupancy. (Additional persons are $10 each.) These low rates are available from Wednesday, April 15, to Monday, April 20. To make your reservations, call or write:

Hyatt Regency Austin
208 Barton Springs Road
Austin, TX 78704
Telephone: 512-477-1234
FAX: 512-480-2069

Airline discounts

Special discounts on American Airlines are available to all American Atheist Conventioneers. For more information call the Meeting Services Desk of American Airlines at 1-800-433-1790. Ask for STAR # S05427A. (Their hours are 7 A.M. to 12 midnight Central Time, seven days a week.)

Convention registration

They say the early bird gets the worm, but in this case the early Atheist gets the discount. If you send in your registration by the end of the year, you can take advantage of lower rates:

	Before 12/31/91	After 12/31/91
Individual	$60	$65
Couple	$105	$110
Senior citizen (65+)	$50	$55
Student (with ID)	$40	$45
Kids under twelve	Free	Free

Registration includes all general sessions. Some events have restricted attendance; alternate activities will be scheduled during these functions for those who cannot attend them. Meals and excursions are not included. Registration is nonrefundable.
