About Exodus

Since 1976, Exodus International, a world-wide network of Christian organizations, has been helping men and women find a way out of homosexuality. While upholding the Scriptures which point out homosexuality's error, Exodus proclaims the transforming love of Christ and His Church, which enables people to shed their old identity, and in its place learn new ways of relating to self and others. Exodus seeks to unify and equip ministries to meet this challenge to help those overcoming homosexuality, and their loved ones.
