Peace demonstrations may be government sponsored but attendance is voluntary. Public interest in peace issues is far greater in USSR than in USA or neutral socialist Finland.

Dear Friends,

We want to thank the more than 40 people who made my trip to the Soviet Union possible and we will list as many of the names as we can later in the newsletter.

Traveling with Barbara Hubbard in the Soviet Union was one of the most moving and outstanding experiences of my life, and it seems like yesterday even though it's almost a month since I was there.

As a result of that trip I am convinced that we can end the arms race and cold war completely in the next two years and I have decided to do all that I can to realize that. The Soviet people want much more than peace; they want to live together and share with us as brothers and sisters on this planet and it is just a terrible misunderstanding that has prevented us from knowing that years ago.

MIRACLES OF TIMING

"Ten Days That Shook the World", a 90-min. film about the Russian Revolution, was aired on public TV the night before I left, and I was able to tape it and take it on my
