

the berkshire forum announces

natural history
seminary

july 11-20

The strategy and tactics of organizing for basic social change discussed, successively, by four experts who have been vigorously tested in action. § Jane Benedict and Peter Hawley, militant community and tenant organizers. § Ed Bloch, International Representative of the UE, calling for labor mobilization against unprecedented assaults from the right. § Vicente Navarro, professor of Public Health at Johns Hopkins, a champion of "building for revolution from below." § There'll be plenty of free time for tennis, swimming, hiking, theater and Tanglewood.

$300 per person double occupancy includes meals and registration. Call or write Berkshire Forum, Stephentown, N.Y. 12168 (518) 733-5497