My dear Radio Friend:

Castro is really on the march - a hero's welcome in country after country in Africa. Now he has gone to East Germany to report. He seems to have gone all out promising solidarity with African and South American liberation movements. After eight days in Angola, he said that "his troops would supply as many tanks, planes and guns as were needed." The day after he promised all this to Angola, President Carter announced that Americans could use dollars to buy Cuban pesos and that all restrictions of travel to Cuba were lifted. Now the Russian president has followed up Castro and made the same kind of promises.

My radio friend, the situation we are facing is unbelievable, but we must face it with facts and without fear. I am also reproducing a clipping I picked up in India praising the wonderful do-it-yourself society of Communist Cuba.

I put these clippings in your hand with one request, just one, that you support my broadcast. Now and in the future. I am giving you this kind of information because it simply means the end of liberty and the preaching of the Gospel, and it means that our country is in great trouble and we are going down.

I promise you that with all the strength that God will give me, we will fight the Communists. It is a propaganda battle, a psychological warfare, which we are surrendering to the Communists. The next few months are going to be crucial.

My broadcast has suffered greatly because we had to take time out to raise money for Faith Seminary. But now my radio ministry offers itself to you as a challenge for our funds, all of which will be used in this battle for our faith and for our freedom. Could you or some friend support a whole station? I ask only that you do all you can. Please let me have your reply. I await it with anticipation. Castro is just making fools out of us! God bless you.

Gratefully,

Carl McIntire
