Subscribers of means who value the Project are urged to make substantial and/or regular small contributions above and beyond subscriptions and the purchase of books. Subscription extentions, gift subscriptions, and purchase of books for gifts are also encouraged as methods for extending the research efforts and timeliness of the Project. Every dollar received enables the Research Director to delegate the mundane problems of life and newsletter publishing in favor of increasing his research, theorizing, and report writing activities.

A Look Ahead

By Andrew Carnegie
$5.00 (In-stock)

This booklet is a reprint of the final chapter of the 1893 edition of Andrew Carnegie's anglophile classic, Triumphant Democracy: Sixty Years' March of the Republic. "Looking Forward" was an explicit call for the reunion of America and Britain. The public outrage caused Carnegie to tone down this chapter in subsequent editions. Now conspiracy researchers can view the anglophile plot "in the raw."

New Offer (Not a Bonus Book):

Puzzling Neighbors:

A Historical Guide to Understanding Modern Mexico
By Salvador Borrego E. (English Version)
$12.00 In-stock

Though written from a partisan Catholic viewpoint, this book contains the most brilliant, concise explanation of the founding of the conspiracy to rule the world that I have ever read. For this alone, the book is must reading.

Though it is strongly anti-communist, do not expect Borrego's book to be a "South of the Border" version of None Dare Call It Conspiracy. America is clearly identified as a Masonic nation, covertly committed from its founding, to a "new world order" and the destruction of everything Catholic. Presidents Buchanan, Teddy Roosevelt, Franklin Roosevelt, Taft, and Truman are pictured in their Masonic regalia. The couple Presidents who were not Masons are specifically mentioned. The devastating civil wars that have plagued Mexico since it gained independence from Spain, and have left it in its current shambles, are shown for what they were, cold-blooded, successful, Anglo-Masonic plots for the economic exploitation and destruction of a Catholic country.
