

Dean
RUSSELL

The TVA Idea

A systematic evaluation of TVA since its beginning, offered for those who wish to test the soundness of similar government projects.

108 pages, indexed. 1959. $1.00 paper

Hans F.
SENNHOLZ

How Can Europe Survive?

The head of the Department of Economics at Grove City College explains that the only sound approach toward a Common Market is through economic rather than political procedures.

336 pages, indexed. D. Van Nostrand, 1955.
$6.00 cloth

Mary Homan
SENNHOLZ
(editor)

On Freedom and Free Enterprise

A collection of original essays on political, economic, and philosophical aspects of liberty by nineteen scholars from six nations, in honor of Dr. Ludwig von Mises.

333 pages, indexed. D. Van Nostrand, 1956.
$5.00 cloth

Adam
SMITH

The Wealth of Nations

Two volumes, 996 pages, indexed.
Everyman's Library. The set $3.90 cloth

Herbert
SPENCER

The Man Versus the State

In 1851, Mr. Spencer began to publish his essays on liberalism that foretold what would happen to freedom under the socialist-communist theory of government then coming into popularity.

213 pages, indexed. Caxton, 1940. $3.50 cloth

William
Graham
SUMNER

What Social Classes Owe to Each Other

A classic on individual freedom and personal responsibility, written in 1883.

146 pages. Caxton, 1952. $1.25 paper

The American Economic System

With only one-fifteenth of the world's people, we own three-fourths of the world's automobiles, one-half of all telephones and radios, three-fourths of all television sets. . . . This book explains why. Over 100 charts and tables.

96 pages. Middle West Service Company,
Revised, 1963. $1.50 paper

Should We Strengthen the United Nations?

A well-documented review of the United Nations in theory and practice—the dilemma of those who look to the Organization for world leadership.

44 pages. The Freedom School, 1960. 75¢ paper

Fiat Money Inflation in France

A classic history of inflation during the French Revolution with vital lessons for our time. Foreword by Henry Hazlitt.

125 pages, 1959. $1.25 paper, $2.00 cloth

The Free Convertibility of Sterling

An easy-to-read explanation of a complicated subject: foreign exchange controls.

62 pages. London: Batchworth Press, 1955. 50¢ paper

Industry-Wide Bargaining

An economist clarifies this issue and analyzes the origin, causes, effects, and influences of this development in labor relations.

63 pages. 1948. 50¢ paper

Edwin VENNARD
and Robb M.
WINSBOROUGH

V. Orval
WATTS

Andrew
Dickson
WHITE

George
WINDER

Leo
WOLMAN