

Why Settle for Half the Story?

Besides our regular publications, like Washington Watch and Family Policy, FRC public policy analysts and writers produce a wide variety of papers for targeted audiences. First, there's InSight, FRC's "position paper" series designed for public policy makers. Editions of InSight analyze current public policy topics from a pro-family perspective. Papers vary in length, from four to 20 pages or more. Next, there's InFocus, FRC's series of fact sheets that summarize current family data -- or criticize abuses of family data.

Third, there's Perspective, editorials and other commentary written by FRC's staff of writers and issue analysts. Finally, there's At the Podium, transcripts of speeches delivered by FRC staff to policy groups and scholarly gatherings across the nation. Each month, FRC assembles all of these publications and combines them with reprinted editorials and articles and copies of prepared testimony before Congress and the courts. In 1994, over 100 FRC Policy Papers were produced and mailed to friends of the family nationwide.

Use the reverse side of this card to order Policy Papers and be sure that your group has the full story on pro-family policy making in the nation's capital.
